Pretel, 2016-01-12 This collection of essays explores the inter imperial connections between British Spanish Dutch and French Caribbean colonies and the Old World countries which founded them Grounded in primary archival research the thirteen contributors focus on the ways that participants in the Atlantic World economy transcended imperial boundaries

Mediating Multiculturalism Daniella Trimboli, 2020-08-04 Using digital storytelling a new media genre that began in California in the late 1990s and that proliferated across the West in the 2000s as a site of analysis this book asks What is done in the name of the everyday Like everyday multiculturalism digital storytelling is promoted as an accessible enabling and ordinary phenomenon that represents cultural experience more accurately than official sites As such the genre frequently houses stories of migration community and ethnic and racial differences In turn digital story collections often act as digital monuments or repositories of multiculturalism giving a digital life to narratives of migration cultural difference and national belonging This is evidenced in one of the world's largest public collections of digital stories found in the Australian Centre for the Moving Image ACMI and referenced throughout this book Using examples from this collection and pointing to comparable ones in the UK and North America this book investigates how notions of the everyday become a channel through which certain long standing discourses of race get redeployed in multicultural nations What can digital storytelling teach us about the status and future of multiculturalism in these societies Can digital storytelling re mediate multiculturalism in new progressive ways

Volatile Whiteness Martin Repinecz, 2025-01-31 The decades spanning from the 1960s to the 1980s in Spain were marked by a series of significant changes a flourishing economy fuelled by tourism widespread migration from rural areas to cities the dissolution of the African empire evolving gender and sexual norms and a political transition from dictatorship to democracy Volatile Whiteness argues that throughout this period popular film genres such as comedies crime thrillers musicals and religious cinema aimed to erode the racialized image of Spain as an Africa of Europe and establish the nation's belonging in global whiteness The book explores how popular films shaped the attitudes of Spanish audiences towards racialized groups even before the onset of mass immigration in the 1990s and traces the construction of the Roma community as an internal threat to the nation's upward mobility during late Francoism and the subsequent Transition. The book examines films that have retained popularity among contemporary Spanish audiences due to their continued circulation on television and other platforms. In doing so, Volatile Whiteness reflects not only on the meanings that popular films of the past may have had for their original audiences but also on the ways they may shape the lived experiences of racial minorities in Spain today.

Youth Sociology Alan France, Julia Coffey, Steven Roberts, Catherine Waite, 2020-04-09. Falling somewhere between childhood and adulthood, youth is a key period of transition. It can be difficult to define and make sense of this period in one's life. However, it is categorised: young people face a number of challenges and issues growing up in today's world. From the pressures created by social media to the increasing precarity of employment, the major social, cultural, and economic developments of our time are each impacting this period of the lifecourse in myriad ways. Youth Sociology helps readers to understand how such changes factor into the experience of being young today and illuminates the realities of the world in which young people live. Embedding perspectives and insights from a wide range of disciplines beyond sociology, this authoritative new textbook will be incredibly useful for all students of youth.

Pancreatic Disease Colin D. Johnson, 2013-06-05. Pancreatic Disease: Basic Science and Clinical Management summarises the state of the art in basic science and clinical management of pancreatic disease. This book provides a clear and up-to-date review of the advancing areas in clinical pancreatology and clinical research related to the pancreas. Written by leading experts in the field, this comprehensive review directs the interested reader towards important and current published source material. Covering all aspects of pancreatic disease, contributions are included from pancreatic surgeons and medical pancreatologists on pancreatic cancer, acute pancreatitis, and chronic pancreatitis. Special features include a systematic review of the evidence for the use of gemcitabine in pancreatic cancer prepared for the National Institute of Clinical Excellence (NICE), the UK body charged with evaluating new drug treatment. Gemcitabine has FDA approval. There are several contributions dealing with the management of pancreatic neuroendocrine tumours. This book will be useful to gastroenterologists, internists, and surgeons, and specialist clinicians with an interest in pancreatic disease. Trainees in medical and surgical pancreatology will find it a companion to supplement standard textbooks.

Critical Multicultural Practice in Social Work Charlotte Williams, 2020-07-16. Critical multicultural practice, rather than being a specialism, is integral to Australian social work. Drawing on critical race theory, critical multiculturalism, intersectionality, and critical reflection as practice theory this major new edited collection challenges many of the dominant assumptions of cross cultural social work and provides instead a new model of transformative engagement Key concepts are considered including identity culture diversity and superdiversity how power and privilege shape everyday interactions and what is meant by citizenship in the contemporary context Part One explores the changing nature of multicultural practice in Australia including our society s changing demographic profile the impact of asylum and refugee migrations race and racism and cultural identity Indigenous perspectives and the relationship with multicultural practice are examined together with the ethical and legal basis for multicultural practice This part concludes with an outline of the editors framework for critical multicultural practice Part Two draws on contributions from a range of practitioners and offers new perspectives on diverse fields including child protection mental health disability ageing homelessness and rural and regional practice Featuring case studies and insights drawn from across the spectrum of practice this book is a vital resource for all social workers practising in Australia today A rich and nuanced analysis of what is happening at the interfaces of our work and the lives of Australian citizens it articulates ways forward that are genuine bold and empathetic From the foreword by Professor Kerry Arabena The University of Melbourne
