Reading Marie al-Khazen's Photographs Yasmine Nachabe Taan, 2020-11-26 The Lebanese photographer Marie al Khazen seized every opportunity to use her camera during the years that she was active between 1920 and 1940 She not only documented her travels around tourist sites in Lebanon but also sought creative experimentation with her camera by staging scenes manipulating shadows and superimposing negatives to produce different effects in her prints Within her photographs bedouins and European friends peasants and landlords men and women comfortably share the same space Her photographs include an intriguing collection portraying her family and friends living their everyday lives in 1920s and 30s Zgharta a village in the north of Lebanon Yasmine Nachabe Taan explores these photographs emphasizing the ways in which notions of gender and class are inscribed within them and revealing how they are charged with symbols of women's emancipation to today's viewers through women's presence as individuals separate from family restrictions of that time Images in which women are depicted smoking cigarettes driving cars riding horses and accompanying men on hunting trips counteract the common ways in which women were portrayed in contemporary Lebanon

Oriental Interiors John Potvin, 2015-12-17 Since the publication of Edward Said's groundbreaking work Orientalism 35 years ago numerous studies have explored the West's fraught and enduring fascination with the so-called Orient Focusing their critical attention on the literary and pictorial arts these studies have to date largely neglected the world of interior design Oriental Interiors is the first book to fully explore the formation and perception of eastern inspired interiors from an orientalist perspective Orientalist spaces in the West have taken numerous forms since the 18th century to the present day and the fifteen chapters in this collection reflect that diversity dealing with subjects as varied and engaging as harems Turkish baths on RMS Titanic Parisian bachelor quarters potted palms and contemporary yoga studios It explores how furnishings surface treatments ornament and music for example are deployed to enhance the exoticism and pleasures of oriental spaces looking across a range of international locations Organized into three parts each introduced by the editor the essays are grouped by theme to highlight critical paths into the intersections between orientalist studies spatial theory design studies visual culture and gender studies making this essential reading for students and researchers alike

The International Studio, 1913 Women and Islam: Images and realities Haideh Moghissi, 2005 This three volume interdisciplinary collection is of use not only in Middle East studies but also in various other disciplines including women's studies political science religion cultural studies sociology of gender and anthropology The collection offers the most influential writings in the field by both renowned scholars as well as those by the new generation of scholars of Islam and gender and includes a wide variety of cases from Middle Eastern and Islamic societies By including case based articles the collection highlights the clear links between concepts and theories and actual practices Titles also available in this series include Shamanism March 2004 3 volumes c 395 and the forthcoming titles Childhood 2005 4 volumes c 495 Gender 2005 4 volumes c 495 and Knowledge 2005 4 volumes c 495 The Routledge

Companion to Photography and Visual Culture Moritz Neumüller, 2018-09-21 The Routledge Companion to Photography and Visual Culture is a seminal reference source for the ever changing field of photography. Comprising an impressive range of essays and interviews by experts and scholars from across the globe, this book examines the medium's history, its central issues and emerging trends, and its much-discussed future. The collected essays and interviews explore the current debates surrounding the photograph as object, art, document, propaganda, truth-selling tool, and universal language; the perception of photography archives as burdens rather than treasures; the continual technological development reshaping the field; photography as a tool of representation and control; and more. One of the most comprehensive volumes of its kind, this companion is essential reading for photographers and historians alike.

Above sea Jenny Lin, 2018-11-30 Shanghai, long known as mainland China's most cosmopolitan city, is today a global cultural capital. This book offers the first in-depth examination of contemporary Shanghai-based art and design, from state-sponsored exhibitions to fashionable cultural complexes to cutting-edge films and installations. Informed by years of in-situ research, the book looks beyond contemporary art's global hype to reveal the socio-political tensions accompanying Shanghai's transitions from semi-colonial capitalism to Maoist socialism to Communist Party-sponsored capitalism. Case studies reveal how Shanghai's global aesthetic constructs glamorising artifices that mask the conflicts between vying notions of foreign-influenced modernity and anti-colonialist nationalism, as well as the city's repressed socialist past and its consumerist present.

Orientalism and Representations of Music in the Nineteenth-Century British Popular Arts Claire Mabilat, 2017-07-05 Representations of music were employed to create a wider Orient on the pages, stages, and walls of nineteenth-century Britain. This book explores issues of orientalism, otherness, gender, and sexuality that arise in artistic British representations of non-European musicians during this time by utilizing recent theories of orientalism and the subsidiary, particularly aesthetic and literary theories, both on which these theories were based and on which they have been influential. The author uses this theoretical framework of orientalism as a form of othering in order to analyse primary source materials and in conjunction with musicological, literary, and art theories, thus exploring ways in which ideas of the Other were transformed over time and between different genres and artists.

Part I: The Musical Stage discusses elements of the libretti of popular musical stage works in this period and the occasionally contradictory ways in which racial Others were represented through text and music; a particular focus is the depiction of Oriental women and ideas of sexuality. Through examination of this collection of libretti, the ways in which the writers of these works filter and romanticize the changing intellectual ideas of this era are explored.

Part II: Works of Fiction is a close study of the works of Sir Henry Rider Haggard, using other examples of popular fiction by his contemporary writers as contextualizing material, with the primary concern being to investigate how music is utilized in popular fiction to represent Other non-Europeans and in the creation of orientalised gender constructions.

Part III: Visual Culture is an analysis of images of music and the Orient in examples of British high-art illustration and photography, investigating how the musical Other was
