Employee Motivation in Saudi Arabia Rodwan Hashim Mohammed Fallatah, Jawad Syed, 2017-11-29 This book investigates the relevance of Maslow's hierarchy of needs as a theory of motivation whilst taking into account variances in culture and individual experiences and perspectives Focussing on higher education the book responds to the call for providing alternative conceptual models other than those originating from the Anglo Saxon world The authors take a contextual approach and use the case of Saudi Arabia to understand motivation in a collectivist highly religious and conservative society of the Middle East Providing empirical findings from a study carried out at two Saudi universities differing in their religious outlook this book reveals a hierarchy of needs that is significantly different from the theory proposed by Maslow Religion culture and gender are explored in detail as the authors investigate the relevance of Maslow's theory in a region that is of growing interest to policy makers and practitioners in North America and Europe offering a truly insightful read to an international audience Global Management Stewart R Clegg, Eduardo

Ibarra-Colado, Bueno-Rodriguez Luis, 1999-02-22 This book re-examines management theory after Globalization Combining key names and studies from across the world it explores the local realities that resist universal theories and that permeate the daily lives of practising managers The book provides a comprehensive and critical reflection on the widely documented phenomenon of globalization in business It assesses the implications of the diversity of individual economies and enterprises for general theories of management and concludes by presenting new approaches to the study and research of management and organizations

The Integrity of the Servant Leader Robert Sumi, Dana Mesner-Andolšek, 2016-10-04 The impact of the global financial crisis is still being felt today and the deeply unethical behaviour of the top level leaders at those economic and financial organizations that were at the heart of the crisis has served to highlight the importance of integrity and in particular the need for servant leadership if we are to avoid another major catastrophe in the management of both commercial and non profit organizations Servant leadership has many features in common with transformational leadership but is primarily focused on caring about employees and their personal development Ethical behaviour is one of the most important components of successful leadership yet this remains insufficiently investigated especially from an interdisciplinary perspective With the help of theory empirical analysis and the relevant methodological apparatus the authors fill the gap in the analysis of integrity and its impact on leadership and locate the significant factors which affect integrity in general They develop and assess the forces that impact Servant Leadership style as well as the ability to engender trust As a starting point they make two assumptions An important element in leading is the ethical dimension of leadership The ratio of factors that affect leading and the servant leadership style is complex but the integrity of leaders is the most important among them The authors examine four integrated scientific areas ethics and business ethics human resource management and psychology and focus on the analysis of the process of leadership and the factors within that process of leading that influence its success and its ethical dimension
