Community Economic Development in Social Work Steven D. Soifer,Joseph B. McNeely,Cathy L. Costa,Nancy Pickering-Bernheim,2014-11-11 Community economic development CED is an increasingly essential factor in the revitalization of low to moderate income communities This cutting edge text explores the intersection of CED and social work practice which both focus on the well being of indigent communities and the empowerment of individuals and the communities in which they live This unique textbook emphasizes a holistic approach to community building that combines business and real estate development with a focus on stimulating family self reliance and community empowerment The result is an innovative approach to rehabilitating communities in decline while preserving resident demographics The authors delve deep into the social political human and financial capital involved in effecting change and how race and regional issues can complicate approaches and outcomes Throughout they integrate case examples to illustrate their strategies and conclude with a consideration of the critical role social workers can play in developing CED s next phase

The Handbook of Community Practice Marie Weil,Michael S. Reisch,Mary L. Ohmer,2013 Written by some of the most influential scholars in the field this Handbook covers community development organizing planning and social change as well as key issues fields of practice and global approaches

Asset Assessments and Community Social Work Practice Melvin Delgado,Denise Humm-Delgado,2013-01-18 Needs assessments identify the needs for services answering questions about who needs these services and in what priority Asset assessments focuses on existing resources combing both needs and asset assesments helps find the gaps in these services and is useful to organizations and communities Assets assessments differ dramatically from their needs assessments counterparts along a variety of key dimensions Asset assessments generally attempt to 1 focus on capacities rather than problems needs 2 actively seek community participation and develop collaborative partnerships 3 seek to tap and enhance community competencies 4 seek to equalize power between residents and professionals 5 be proactive rather than reactive to problems and 6 stress community contributions and ownership of the process and are thus empowerment driven

Understanding Community Peter Somerville,2016-04-25 This substantially revised edition of a highly topical text draws upon theory from Marx and Bourdieu to offer a clearer understanding of community in capitalist society The book takes a more critical look at the literature on community community development and the politics of community and applies this critical approach to themes introduced in the first edition on economic development learning health and social care housing and policing taking into account the changes in policy that have taken place particularly in the UK since the first edition was written It will be a valuable resource for researchers and students of social policy sociology and politics as well as areas of housing and urban studies

Challenging The Third Sector Sue Kenny,Marilyn Taylor,Jenny Onyx,Marjorie Mayo,2016-06-01 This is the first book to explore the different relationships between active citizenship and civil society particularly the third sector within civil society In what ways can the third sector nurture active citizenship How have the third sector and active citizenship been constructed and reconstructed both locally and internationally over recent years To what extent have new kinds of social connectedness changing forms of political engagement and increasingly complex social and environmental problems influenced civil society action Written by experts in the field this important book draws on a range of theory and empirical studies to explore these questions in different socio political contexts and will be a useful resource for academics and students as well as practitioners      Community Literacy and the Rhetoric of Local Publics Elenore Long, 2008-03-22 Offering a comparative analysis of community literacy studies Community Literacy and the Rhetoric of Local Publics traces common values in diverse accounts of ordinary people going public Elenore Long offers a five point theoretical framework Used to review major community literacy projects that have emerged in recent years this local public framework uncovers profound differences with significant consequence within five formative perspectives 1 the guiding metaphor behind such projects 2 the context that defines a local public shaping what is an effective even possible performance 3 the tenor and affective register of the discourse 4 the literate practices that shape the discourse and most significantly 5 the nature of rhetorical invention or the generative process by which people in these accounts respond to exigencies such as getting around gatekeepers affirming identities and speaking out with others across difference      International Social Work Stefan Borrmann, Michael Klassen, Christian Spatscheck, 2007-04-05 The book focuses on three key issues of international social work on international dimensions of social problems and how social work practice can deal with these challenges on cultural issues social workers have to think of when practicing teaching an developing social work on an international level and finally on aspects of international approaches in social work education The authors are practicing and teaching social work in several countries and their personal and educational background allowed them to gain a profound experience on international social work This makes the authors not only writing about international perspectives but also from an international perspective      Segregation by Design Catalina Freixas, Mark Abbott, 2018-10-24 This book discusses racial segregation in American cities Using St Louis as a point of departure it examines the causes and consequences of residential segregation and proposes potential mitigation strategies While an introduction timeline and historical overview frame the subject nine topic specific conversations between invited academics policy makers and urban professionals provide the main structure Each of these conversations is contextualized by a photograph an editors note and an essay written by a respected current or former St Louisan The essayists respond to the conversations by speaking to the impacts of segregation and by suggesting innovative policy and design tactics from their professional or academic perspective The purpose of the book therefore is not to provide original research on residential segregation but rather to offer a unique collection of insightful transdisciplinary reflections on the experience of segregation in America and how it might be addressed      Designs and Methods for Youth-Led Research Melvin Delgado, 2006 Youth led research is increasing in popularity around the globe and empowers today's youth to help shape social interventions seeking to reach this population group Designs and Methods for Youth Led Research provides a foundation from which to plan and implement social research and program evaluation projects that place youth in central roles In this text author Melvin Delgado emphasizes how youth led research represents a profound political and social statement about making relevant research result in significant changes to programs in the field of youth services Key Features Brings together the worlds of practice and academia by providing numerous examples of field based youth led research projects Encourages a partnership between youth and adults to facilitate mutual respect and give young people the opportunity to make significant and lasting contributions to the creation of solutions to many of their concerns and needs Examines future challenges in the field to help develop programs that will enrich tomorrow s youth Designs and Methods for Youth Led Research is an excellent textbook for advanced undergraduate and graduate students studying youth development in a variety of Social Work Psychology Education and Social Research courses It is also a valuable resource for practitioners in the fields of youth development and youth services
