Le icone postbizantine in Sicilia Maria Katja Guida, 2014-07-01. Mentre nell'Europa Occidentale si afferma in età moderna la nuova cultura artistica sia sul fronte fiammingo che su quello italiano sulla base del superamento dei formulari bizantini e dell'affermazione di nuove concezioni artistiche quali la resa della realtà attraverso la prospettiva, il ritorno alla cultura classica e il nuovo modo di concepire le norme figurative nella resa del divino nell'Oriente Mediterraneo e in vari paesi dell'Europa Orientale si configura e si consolida dopo la caduta di Bisanzio nel 1453 una nuova realtà unitaria e ancora fedelissima ai canoni sanciti dai Concili e al classicismo dell'età paleologa. La storiografia che si occupa della cultura artistica dell'età moderna in Sicilia ha quasi sempre rivolto l'attenzione alle vicende di marca occidentale iberica o fiamminga o in primis italiana tralasciando a parte alcuni episodi le testimonianze di questa nuova ondata della maniera greca. Questo volume presenta per la prima volta in modo globale il vario articolarsi nell'isola di un fenomeno di grande impatto quale fu appunto la rinascita della cultura bizantina seguita alla caduta della Capitale. Dopo un sintetico ma puntuale monitoraggio sugli eredi di Bisanzio in Europa e nell'Oriente Mediterraneo e un resoconto degli studi dedicati all'argomento nelle sue realizzazioni siciliane, il volume svolge un'analisi sistematica della presenza postbizantina nelle varie aree dell'isola, ognuna delle quali affidata a specialisti del territorio e della disciplina che per la quantità e la qualità delle opere presenti si delinea come un importante e significativo tassello nella diffusione della cultura postbizantina potendosi affiancare in Italia soltanto a Venezia.

Archivio storico per la Sicilia orientale, 1912. Colonial Religion and Indigenous Society in the Archaic Western Mediterranean, C. 750-400 BCE Lela Manning Urquhart, 2010. This project examines the long-term responses of indigenous societies in Sicily and Sardinia to colonial religion in the ancient western Mediterranean. It conducts a comparative analysis of religious developments among indigenous Greek and Phoenician communities between the 8th and 5th centuries BC. It shows that while indigenous communities near Greek colonies in Sicily integrated Greek style material culture and practices into their religious lives, those near Phoenician colonies in Sardinia and Sicily showed much less interest in Phoenician material culture and religion. This contrast is then explained in terms of the greater social accessibility and more communal features of Greek polis religion which made its practices and material culture broadly attractive across cultural divides in a time of rapid social change. Aeneas, Sicily, and Rome Karl Galinsky, 2015-12-08. The legend of Aeneas as preserved in the art and artifacts of antiquity is the focus of this study. Gallant warrior, accomplice in the abduction of Helen, fugitive from burning Troy, founder of Rome: in all his roles Aeneas appears in ancient sculpture and wall painting on vases, coins, lamps, mirrors, and gems as richly illustrated here. To what extent he was known to the Greeks and Romans for what qualities he was admired and how his legend served the propaganda of empire building are examined in this survey of the visual data and these are correlated with what is known of the legend in the literary historical and religious traditions of the ancient Mediterranean world Originally published in 1969 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
