Kellett,Diana G. Dalton,2001-03-30 Peter Kellett and Diana Dalton set out in this text to address the question How do people manage conflict effectively This is a simple question with an elusive and complex answer To determine how to manage conflict one must first understand the meaning of conflict for those engaged in it The authors do this by presenting a step by step guide to describing interpreting understanding and managing conflict Using real life narratives they explain how and why conflict occurs and strategies that one can deploy to manage the conflict These interpretive and dialogic skills are illustrated clearly through the pairing of personal narratives with relevant discussion questions and challenging exercises The first part of the book aims to equip readers with the ability to collect analyze and learn from conflicts from the perspective of developing more dialogic relationships The second part enables the reader to apply this interpretive process to several communication contexts With their thorough coverage of conflict management issues and their engaging writing style Peter Kellett and Diana Dalton compel readers to examine their own conflicts for opportunities to learn grow communicate and change Isaiah's Vision and the Family of God Katheryn Pfisterer Darr,1994-01-01 Using a pragmatic reader orientated approach and informed by contemporary theory of metaphor and related topics Katheryn Darr examines the meaning and functions of child and female imagery for sequential readers of the Isaiah scroll in its entirety Having identified the associated commonplaces surrounding such tropes a necessary task if one is to construe the figurative language of another society and culture competently she turns specifically to rebellious child and personified city and nation imagery The Literary Currents in Biblical Interpretation series explores current trends within the discipline of biblical interpretation by dealing with the literary qualities of the Bible the play of its language the coherence of its final form and the relationships between text and readers Biblical interpreters are being challenged to take responsibility for the theological social and ethical implications of their readings This series encourages original readings that breach the confines of traditional biblical criticism The Nation as a Local Metaphor Alon Confino, 2000-11-09 All nations make themselves up as they go along but not all make themselves up in the same way In this study Alon Confino explores how Germans turned national and argues that they imagined the nation as an extension of their local place In 1871 the work of political unification had been completed but Germany remained a patchwork of regions with different histories and traditions Germans had to construct a national memory to reconcile the peculiarities of the region and the totality of the nation This identity project examined by Confino as it evolved in the southwestern state of Württemberg oscillated between failure and success The national holiday of Sedan Day failed in the 1870s and 1880s to symbolically commingle localness and nationhood Later the idea of the Heimat or homeland did prove capable of representing interchangeably the locality the region and the nation in a distinct national narrative and in visual images The German nationhood project was successful argues Confino because Germans made the nation into an everyday local experience through a variety of cultural forms including museums school textbooks popular poems travel guides posters and postcards But it was not unique Confino situates German nationhood within the larger context of modernity and in doing so he raises broader questions about how people in the modern world use the past in the construction of identity Mapping Region in Early American Writing Edward Watts, Keri Holt, John Funchion, 2015-11-15 Mapping Region in Early American Writing is a collection of essays that study how early American writers thought about the spaces around them The contributors reconsider the various roles regions imagined politically economically racially and figuratively played in the formation of American communities both real and imagined These texts vary widely some are canonical others archival some literary others scientific some polemical others simply documentary As a whole they recreate important mental mappings and cartographies and they reveal how diverse populations imagined themselves their communities and their nation as occupying the American landscape Focusing on place specific local writing published before 1860 Mapping Region in Early American Writing examines a period often overlooked in studies of regional literature in America More than simply offering a prehistory of regionalist writing these essays offer new ways of theorizing and studying regional spaces in the United States as it grew from a union of disparate colonies along the eastern seaboard into an industrialized nation on the verge of overseas empire building They also seek to amplify lost voices of diverse narratives from minority frontier and outsider groups alongside their more well known counterparts in a time when America's landscapes and communities were constantly evolving Metamorphosis - Structures of Cultural Transformations Jürgen Schläeger, 2005 Giving Voice to Stones Barbara McKean Parmenter, 2010-07-05 A struggle between two memories is how Palestinian poet Mahmud Darwish describes the conflict between Palestinians and Israelis Within this struggle the meanings of land and home have been challenged and questioned so that even heaps of stones become points of contention Are they proof of ancient Hebrew settlement or rubble from a bulldozed Palestinian village The memory of these stones and of the land itself is nurtured and maintained in Palestinian writing and other modes of expression which are used to confront and counter Israeli images and rhetoric This struggle provides a rich vein of thought about the nature of human experience of place and the political uses to which these experiences are put In this book Barbara McKean Parmenter explores the roots of Western and Zionist images of Palestine then draws upon the work of Darwish Ghassan Kanafani and other writers to trace how Palestinians have represented their experience of home and exile since the First World War This unique blending of cultural geography and literary analysis opens an unusual window on the struggle between these two peoples over a land that both divides them and brings them together Japanese and Chinese Poems to Sing J. Vermeer's Family Secrets Benjamin Binstock,2013-03-07 Johannes Vermeer one of the greatest Dutch painters and for some the single greatest painter of all produced a remarkably small corpus of work In Vermeer s Family Secrets Benjamin Binstock revolutionizes how we think about Vermeer s work and life Vermeer The Sphinx of Delft is famously a mystery in art despite the common claim that little is known of his biography there is actually an abundance of fascinating information about Vermeer s life that Binstock brings to bear on Vermeer s art for the first time he also offers new interpretations of several key documents pertaining to Vermeer that have been misunderstood Lavishly illustrated with more than 180 black and white images and more than sixty color plates the book also includes a remarkable color two page spread that presents the entirety of Vermeer s oeuvre arranged in chronological order in 1/20 scale demonstrating his gradual formal and conceptual development No book on Vermeer has ever done this kind of visual comparison of his complete output Like Poe s purloined letter Vermeer s secrets are sometimes out in the open where everyone can see them Benjamin Binstock shows us where to look Piecing together evidence the tools of art history and his own intuitive skills he gives us for the first time a history of Vermeer s work in light of Vermeer s life On almost every page of Vermeer s Family Secrets there is a perception or an adjustment that rethinks what we know about Vermeer his oeuvre Dutch painting and Western Art Perhaps the most arresting revelation of Vermeer s Family Secrets is the final one in response to inconsistencies in technique materials and artistic level Binstock posits that several of the paintings accepted as canonical works by Vermeer are in fact not by Vermeer at all but by his eldest daughter Maria How he argues this is one of the book s many pleasures Family Storytelling as
