The Common Things Daniel McInerney, 1999 Concerned with the trendy technocratic and at times sophistical character of contemporary education at all levels both public and private the authors of this collection seek to reinvigorate a Thomistic approach to education appropriate to the problems of our day With its main inspiration taken from the work of Jacques Maritain especially his 1943 Education at the Crossroads the volume presents a trenchant critique of the privacies of contemporary education with its emphasis upon the conventional and useful At the same time the essays present the outlines of the proper alternative an education which helps students draw out from themselves the desire for truths which transcend the contingencies of culture and utility Such an education seeks to guide students to the common things available to all human beings The essays uphold an account of man's intellectual and affective capacities which understands these capacities as naturally ordered to truth The essays approach the task in different but complementary ways in critiques of contemporary theories of education in speculative accounts of knowledge and learning in applications of theory to specific institutional settings and in discussions of the political contexts governing modern education In this rich variety of ways the essays in The Common Things not only point the way back to the crossroads Maritain spoke of fifty years ago they go on to indicate something of the landscape along the road not taken by contemporary education ABOUT THE EDITOR Daniel McInerney is assistant professor of philosophy at the University of St Thomas Center for Thomistic Studies in Houston Texas THE CONTRIBUTORS In addition to the editor the contributors to the volume are Benedict M Ashley O P Romanus Cessario O P

Kant on Intuition Stephen R. Palmquist, 2018-11-08 Kant on Intuition Western and Asian Perspectives on Transcendental Idealism consists of 20 chapters many of which feature engagements between Kant and various Asian philosophers Key themes include the nature of human intuition not only as theoretical pure sensible and possibly intellectual but also as relevant to Kant s practical philosophy aesthetics the sublime and even mysticism the status of Kant s idealism realism and Kant s notion of an object Roughly half of the chapters take a stance on the recent conceptualism non conceptualism debate The chapters are organized into four parts each with five chapters Part I explores themes relating primarily to the early sections of Kant s first Critique three chapters focus mainly on Kant s theory of the forms of intuition and or formal intuition especially as illustrated by geometry while two examine the broader role of intuition in transcendental idealism Part II continues to examine themes from the Aesthetic but shifts the main focus to the Transcendental Analytic where the key question challenging interpreters is to determine whether intuition via sensibility is ever capable of operating independently from conception via understanding each contributor offers a defense of either the conceptualist or the non conceptualist readings of Kant s text Part III includes three chapters that explore the relevance of intuition to Kant s theory of the sublime followed by two that examine challenges that Asian philosophers have raised against Kant s theory of intuition particularly as it relates to our experience of the supersensible Finally Part IV concludes the book with five chapters that explore a range of resonances between Kant and various Asian philosophers and philosophical ideas

Hacking Education in a Digital Age Bryan Smith, Nicholas Ng-A-Fook, Linda Radford, Sarah Smitherman Pratt, 2018-04-01 In this collection the authors put forth different philosophical conceptions of hacking education in response to the educational societal and technological demands of the 21st century Teacher Educators are encouraged to draw on the collection to rethink how hacking education can be understood simultaneously as a praxis informed by desires for malice as well as a creative site for us to reconsider the possibilities and limitations of teaching and learning in a digital era How do we hack beyond the limits of circumscribed experiences regulated subjective encounters with knowledge and the limits imposed by an ever constrained 21st century schooling system in the hopes of imagining better and more meaningful futures How do we foster ingenuity and learning as the end itself and not learning as economic imperative in a world where technology in part positions individuals as zombie like and as an economic end in itself Can we hack education in such a way that helps to mitigate the black hat hacking that increasingly lays ruin to individual lives government agencies and places of work How can we as educators facilitate the curricular and pedagogical processes of reclaiming the term hacking so as to remember and remind ourselves that hacking s humble roots are ultimately pedagogical in its very essence As a collection of theoretical and pedagogical pieces the chapters in the collection are of value to both scholars and practitioners who share the same passion and commitment to changing challenging and reimagining the script that all too often constrains and prescribes particular visions of education Those who seek to question the nature of teaching and learning and who seek to develop a richer theoretical vocabulary will benefit from the insightful and rich collection of essays presented in this collection In this regard the collection offers something for all who might wish to rethink the fundamental dynamics of education or as Morpheus asks of Neo in The Matrix bend the rules of conventional ways of knowing and being
