The manual reviews the stages of establishing a community working group, engaging the community, and planning, implementing, and evaluating a MMT program. The resource provides practical suggestions on how to build public support and increase acceptance of those struggling with opioid dependence through raising community awareness and acceptance of MMT services. The resource includes the following sections: About Methadone Maintenance Treatment, Getting Ready, Establishing a Community Working Group, Engaging the Community, Developing a Methadone Maintenance Treatment Program, Implementing the Program, Evaluating the Program, Resources. This manual is for members of health planning networks and community working groups that are interested in developing or expanding MMT services to meet the needs of opioid dependent individuals. Directory of Narcotic Addiction

Handbook of Economic Evaluation of HIV Prevention Programs David R. Holtgrave, 1998-10-31 If resources for HIV prevention efforts were truly unlimited then this book would be entirely unnecessary. In a world with limitless support for HIV prevention activities, one would simply implement all effective or potentially effective programs without regard to expense. We would do everything useful to prevent the further spread of the virus that has already claimed hundreds of thousands of lives in the United States and millions of lives worldwide. Unfortunately, funding for HIV prevention programs is limited. Even though the amount of available funding may seem quite large, especially in the United States, it is still fixed and not sufficient to meet all needs for such programs. This was very well illustrated in the summer of 1997 when over 500 community-based organizations applied for a combined total of 18 million of HIV prevention funding from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Less than one fifth of these organizations received support via this funding mechanism. Hence, although 18 million may seem like a large amount of money at first blush, it is not enough to meet all of the prevention needs that could be addressed by these community-based organizations.
