Passion in Philosophy Randolph Wheeler, 2016-10-26 Among the first and foremost of American continental philosophers Alphonso Lingis refines his own thought through a topic usually deemed unworthy of philosophical examination passion

Lingis criticizes traditional scientific accounts of the emotions as dividing or disrupting our lives and argues for passion as a unifying force a concept which invites philosophical exploration The book s structure is twofold First it offers an examination of Lingis s most recent developments through the topic of passion with essays from some of the most established commentators on the work of Lingis Second it offers a substantial retrospective on Lingis s thought in relation to some of the major figures in continental philosophy namely Levinas Kant Heidegger Butler Foucault and Nietzsche all interweaving the theme of passion Written to celebrate the eightieth anniversary of Lingis s birth these essays show how Lingis s thought has not only endured over so many productive decades but also remains vital and even continues to grow

Generational IQ for the Workplace and Home Collection Haydn Shaw,2016-10-01 This collection bundles 2 of popular author Haydn Shaw s books together in one e book for a great value Sticking Points This is the first time in American history that we have had four different generations working side by side in the workplace the Traditionalists born before 1945 the Baby Boomers born 1945 1964 Gen X born 1965 1980 and the Millennials born 1981 2001 Haydn Shaw popular business speaker and generational expert has identified 12 places where the 4 generations typically come apart in the workplace and in life as well These sticking points revolve around differing attitudes toward managing one s own time texting social media organizational structure and of course clothing preferences If we don t learn to work together and stick together around these 12 sticking points then we ll be wasting a lot of time fighting each other instead of enjoying a friendly and productive team Sticking Points is a must read book that will help you understand the generational differences you encounter while teaching how we can learn to speak one another s language and get better results together Generational IQ Why is my daughter drifting from God Why can t I explain my life choices to my parents When will my son get a real job Within the last several decades the world has shifted dramatically The cracks of this fundamental shift appear everywhere in our economy in our cultural debates in our political landscape and most important in our churches The problem is we tend to overreact to these changes fearing that Christianity is dying We need better Generational IQ so we can respond to the changes but not be terrified by them We need a wise generational coach Haydn Shaw is that generational expert showing us the roots of this generational shift and how it affects every one of us Each generation whether it s the aging Boomers or the young Millennials approaches God with a different set of questions and needs based on the times in which they grew up Haydn walks you through these generational differences and paints a vision of hope for the future Diploma Mills A. J. Angulo,2016-03-15 A provocative history of for profit colleges and universities Honorable Mention PROSE Education Practice Award by the American Association of Publishers FY17 The most significant shift in higher education over the past two decades has been the emergence of for profit colleges and universities These online and storefront institutions lure students with promises of fast degrees and guaranteed job placement but what they deliver is often something quite different In this provocative history of for profit higher education historian and educational researcher A J Angulo tells the remarkable and often sordid story of these diploma mills which target low income and nontraditional students while scooping up a disproportionate amount of federal student aid Tapping into a little known history with big implications Angulo takes readers on a lively journey that begins with the apprenticeship system of colonial America and ends with today s politically savvy 35 billion multinational for profit industry He traces the transformation of nineteenth century reading and writing schools into commercial and business colleges explores the early twentieth century s move toward professionalization and progressivism and explains why the GI Bill prompted a surge of new for profit institutions He also shows how well founded concerns about profit seeking in higher education have evolved over the centuries and argues that financial gaming and maneuvering by these institutions threatens to destabilize the entire federal student aid program This is the first sweeping narrative history to explain why for profits have mattered to students taxpayers lawmakers and the many others who have viewed higher education as part of the American dream Diploma Mills speaks to today s concerns by shedding light on unmistakable conflicts of interest long associated with this scandal plagued class of colleges and universities Into the Black Rowland White,2016-04-19 A book no aviation buff will want to miss The Wall Street Journal and the perfect tale that educates as it entertains Clive Cussler 1 bestselling author Into the Black recaptures the historic moments leading up to and the exciting story of the astronauts who flew the daring maiden flight of the space shuttle Columbia Using interviews NASA oral histories and recently declassified material Into the Black pieces together the dramatic untold story of the Columbia mission and the brave people who dedicated themselves to help the United States succeed in the age of space exploration On April 12 1981 NASA s Space Shuttle Columbia blasted off from Cape Canaveral It was the most advanced state of the art flying machine ever built challenging the minds and imagination of

America's top engineers and pilots Columbia was the world's first real spaceship a winged rocket plane the size of an airliner and capable of flying to space and back before preparing to fly again On board were moonwalker John Young and test pilot Bob Crippen Less than an hour after Young and Crippen's spectacular departure from the Cape all was not well Tiles designed to protect the ship from the blowtorch burn of re entry were missing from the heat shield If the damage to Columbia was too great the astronauts wouldn't be able to return safely to earth NASA turned to the National Reconnaissance Office a spy agency hidden deep inside the Pentagon whose very existence was classified To help the ship the NRO would attempt something never done before Success would require skill perfect timing and luck Set against the backdrop of the Cold War Into the Black is a thrilling race against time and the incredible true story of the first space shuttle mission that celebrates our passion for spaceflight
