Rabies in Man and Animals Sudhi Ranjan Garg, 2013-10-23 Rabies is the deadliest zoonotic disease that threatens humans and animals on all continents except Antarctica Asia and Africa are worst affected as more than 95 per cent of rabies associated human deaths occur in these regions India alone bears about 36 per cent of the global human rabies burden Dogs are the main transmitters of rabies that potentially threaten over 3 billion people in Asia and Africa Many developed nations have been able to successfully control dog rabies but continue to face the risk from wildlife including bats Bat rabies is responsible for most human rabies deaths in the United States of America and Canada but has emerged as a public health threat in Australia Latin America and Western Europe as well Despite being vaccine preventable rabies continues to haunt the mankind Poor resources is a major constraint but the factors like low priority attributed to rabies misconceptions in the community about the disease and unsystematic approach for its prevention and control are also responsible for the grim situation Targets have been set for elimination of human and dog rabies in all Latin American countries by 2015 and of human rabies transmitted by dogs in South East Asia by 2020 However the myths prevailing among the people together with inadequate knowledge of the health professionals veterinarians and the civic body staff about the rabies prevention and control strategies might make the task very difficult This book comprising eight chapters elaborates the causation of rabies in man and animals its global epidemiology risk analysis and effective strategies for the management of exposures Proven methods of rabies prevention and control have been discussed in length along with the challenges and ways to overcome the constraints through intersectoral coordination The inclusion of 200 frequently asked questions is a unique feature of the book which may help not only the common people and pet lovers in clearing their doubts about rabies in man and animals also be equally instrumental in updating the knowledge and skills of the public health personnel veterinarians and other professionals Apt illustrations and simple language make the contents of the book easily comprehensible and a reading pleasure

Dibaba,Nicolaas P. J. Kriek,Charles O. Thoen,2019-07-01 This book recounts the biology of M bovis followed by the status of bovine Tuberculosis bTB in African countries primarily based on zoonotic and epidemiological field reports Since the accumulation of data is valueless unless it led to practicable control measures emphasis is put on locally adapted protocols for future control of the disease In order to systematically evaluate the knowledge base of bTB Epidemiologic Problem Oriented Approach EPOA methodology was used The methodology is composed of two triads i the problem identification characterization triad which is mainly descriptive in nature and ii the problem management solution mitigation triad which is mainly geared toward problem management solution see figure The first triad comprises three pillars i agent ii host and iii environment and the second one i therapeutics treatment ii prevention control and iii health maintenance promotion The two triads are linked together by the diagnostic procedure linkage The systematic and detailed studies of the Host Agent Environment interactions are the building blocks to the understanding of agent transmission pathways and disease spread These may include data about the disease status of the country the nature of the disease agent and its hosts the modes of transmission the wildlife reservoirs in nature persistence of infection and agent survival in animal products and the environment The problem identification and characterization triad identifies these interactions Once a problem has been identified and well understood the next step is to minimize the risk of transmission and spread of a disease This area referred to as problem solution management triad consists of problem management alternatives that rely upon prevention control and health maintenance promotion of the disease in livestock wildlife and humans with the emphasis on resource poor developing countries in Africa
