fieldwork as well as the author's experience working as a museum curator in mainland China in the late 1980s. Museums in China such as this will be of great interest to students and scholars working across museology, heritage studies, tourism studies, Chinese culture and Chinese history. Museums, Collections and Social Repair in Vietnam Graeme Were, 2022-08-29

Museums, Collections and Social Repair in Vietnam analyses the relationship between museums, collections and social repair in contemporary Vietnam. Drawing on fieldwork in a range of museums in the country alongside interviews with museum workers and stakeholders and analyses of museum exhibitions, the book explores how museums help ordinary people overcome loss suffered during conflict. Focusing on key objects in museum collections that elicit strong emotions or feelings, Graeme Were examines their relationship to social repair and transformation in order to understand what mobilises survivors, families and communities to recover and re-evaluate memory and give prominence to grievances and loss or future hopes and aspirations. Arguing that nationalist frameworks no longer adequately account for the diverse agendas of Vietnamese museums, this book brings into question the dynamics between history and memory, the capacity of the museum to repair injury, loss or suffering and the limits of historical memory beyond the control of a one-party state. Museums, Collections and Social Repair in Vietnam analyses the role of museums in transforming lives and creating a just future. It will be of interest to academics and students engaged in the study of museums, heritage, Asia, tourism and anthropology. The Heritage Turn in China Carol Ludwig, Linda Walton, Yi-Wen Wang, 2025-10-01

The Heritage Turn in China: The Reinvention, Dissemination and Consumption of Heritage focuses on heritage discourse and practice in China today as it has evolved from the heritage turn that can be dated to the 1990s. Using a variety of disciplinary approaches to regionally and topically diverse case studies, the contributors to this edited volume show how particular versions of the past are selected, re-invented, disseminated and consumed for contemporary purposes. These studies explore how the Chinese state utilises heritage not only for tourism, entertainment, educational and commercial purposes but also as part of broader political strategies on both the national and international stage. Together they argue that the Chinese state deploys modes of heritage governance to construct new modernities while strengthening collective national identity in support of both its political legitimacy and its claim to status as an international superpower. The authors also consider ways in which state management of heritage is contested by some stakeholders whose embrace of heritage has a different purpose and meaning. Museum Processes in China Chui-fun Selina Ho, 2025-10-01

This book challenges the museum enterprise in China as a state monopoly and considers it as a new cultural agency that has emerged in the early twenty-first century. Following a constructive and multi-perspectival approach, it discusses the roles of political and cultural, economic agents, museum intermediaries and museum publics in the interlinked processes of regulation, cultural production and consumption and the issues of identity and representation faced by the art museums in the Greater Pearl River Delta Region. It broadly traces the art museum from its origin as a tool of nationalism and adoption as a vehicle of modernization in both nationalist and early communist periods until its role in the present as it reflects the contested and alternative representations diverse publics and fissured identities of the post economic reform period of China      The Art of Remembering Yat Ming Loo,Hua Li,Jing Xie,Eugenio Mangi,2024-05-31 Focusing on the non Western context and case studies this book explores theories of interdisciplinary architectural thinking and the construction of urban memory in Chinese cities with an emphasis on contemporary architecture and the diversity of agencies China has undergone one of the fastest urbanisation and urban renewal processes in human history but discussions of urban memory in China have tended to be practice oriented and lack theoretical reflection This book brings together interdisciplinary architectural scholarship to interrogate the production of urban memory and examine experiences in China The 14 chapters explore different processes projects materials architecture and urban spaces in different Chinese cities by analysing cityscapes such as temples bridges conservation projects architectural design historical architecture memorial hall market street city images custom bike food market and so on The book deals with different agencies and methods tangible and intangible in the construction of memories aimed at promoting hybridised multiple identities and explores the interplay of different versions of memory i e state public regional local individual and collective memory This book will be essential reading for scholars and students of architecture and urbanism cultural studies and China studies as well as architects urban planners and historians interested in these fields      The Museum in Asia Yunci Cai,2025-02-04 The Museum in Asia advances an understanding of the flourishing museum landscape in the region by offering a variety of conceptual tools and frameworks through which museum development can be analysed and understood Informed by the key theoretical tenets of critical museology and heritage studies this volume seeks to deconstruct the idea of museology and the museum phenomenon in East South and Southeast Asia to identify common themes and trends unique to Asia Drawing on case studies from ten different countries in Asia including China and India it proffers a set of analytical tools to think through how we can understand and conceptualise the study of museums and museology in Asia Contributions to this edited volume are drawn from both Asian and Western academic contexts thus offering both inside and outside perspectives on the museum phenomenon in Asia The Museum in Asia is the first academic book to explore the museum phenomenon in Asia from theoretical perspectives informed by critical museology and heritage studies making it an essential text for the teaching of courses relating to museum studies cultural heritage studies or Asian studies Academics students and professionals who are interested in learning more about the theory behind the museum phenomenon in Asia will find this book to be a useful resource      Transposed Memory: Visual Sites of National Recollection in 20th and 21st Century East Asia ,2024-02-06 Transposed Memory explores the visual culture of national recollection in modern and contemporary East Asia by emphasizing memories that are under the continuous process of construction reinforcement alteration resistance and contestation Expanding the discussion of memory into visual culture by exploring various visual sites of recollection and the diverse ways commemoration is represented in visual cultural and material forms this book produces cross cultural and

Museum Representations of Chinese Diasporas Cangbai Wang, 2020-12-10 Museum Representations of Chinese Diasporas is the first book to analyse the recent upsurge in museums on Chinese diasporas in China Examining heritage making beyond the nation state the book provides a much needed critical examination of China's engagement with its diasporic communities Drawing on fieldwork in more than ten museums as well as interviews with museum practitioners and archival study Wang offers a timely analysis of the complex ways in which Chinese diasporas are represented in the museum space of China the ancestral homeland Arguing that diasporic heritage is highly ambivalent and introducing a diasporic perspective to the study of cultural heritage this book opens up a new avenue of inquiry into the study and management of cultural heritage in China and beyond Most importantly perhaps Wang sheds new light on the dynamic between China and Chinese diasporas through the lens of the museum Museum Representations of Chinese Diasporas takes a transnational perspective that will draw attention to the under researched connections between heritage mobility and meaning in a global context As such this cross disciplinary work will be of interest to scholars and students working in the museum and heritage studies fields as well as those studying Asia China migration and diaspora anthropology history and culture

The Role of Today's Museum Clive Gray, Vikki McCall, 2020-04-07 The Role of Today's Museum provides a thorough investigation of what museums do and why Arguing that museums are multifunctional institutions the book examines the consequences of this for the services that museums provide the publics to whom they are provided and the providers themselves Adopting a wide perspective on understandings of the roles of museums and considering the different environments within which museums operate Gray and McCall provide a new perspective on how transformations as well as the gaps between intended policies and the actual work that is undertaken within museums can be both identified and understood By differentiating between social economic and political visions and expectations of museums the analysis in this book allows for a fuller understanding of what these organisations do and provide for their societies and the struggles and negotiations that surround their existence The Role of Today's Museum takes a critical interdisciplinary approach to studying museums and museum policy As a result the book will be of interest to academics and students engaged in the study of museums cultural policy social policy cultural sociology public policy and cultural and political economy Highlighting the gaps that exist between policy ideals and museum practices the book also provides valuable insights to policy makers and practitioners

China's Heritage through History Yujie Zhu, 2024-07-26 China's Heritage through History employs a longue durée approach to examine China's heritage through history From Imperial to contemporary China it explores the role of practices and material forms of the past in shaping social transformation through knowledge production and transmission The art of collecting reproducing and reinterpreting the past has been an enduring force shaping cultural identity and political legitimacy in China Offering a unique non Western perspective on the history of heritage in China Zhu considers who the key players have been in these ongoing processes of reconfigured pasts what methods they have employed and how these practices have shaped society at large The book tackles these questions by delving into the transformation of practices related to heritage through examples such as the book collection at Tianyi Private Library the reproduction of the Orchid Pavilion Preface calligraphy and its associated sites and the dynamics of exchange within the Liulichang antique market Zhu reveals how these practices once reserved for elites have become accessible to the broader public These processes of transformation embodied in various forms of reconfigured pasts have given rise to modern approaches to preservation digitisation museums and the burgeoning heritage tourism industry China s Heritage through History will be an invaluable resource for academics students and practitioners working in the fields of heritage museum studies and art history

Out of China Robert Bickers, 2017-03-30 SHORTLISTED FOR THE 2018 WOLFSON HISTORY PRIZE The extraordinary and essential story of how China became the powerful country it is today Even at the high noon of Europe s empires China managed to be one of the handful of countries not to succumb Invaded humiliated and looted China nonetheless kept its sovereignty Robert Bickers major new book is the first to describe fully what has proved to be one of the modern era s most important stories the long often agonising process by which the Chinese had by the end of the 20th century regained control of their own country Out of China uses a brilliant array of unusual strange and vivid sources to recreate a now fantastically remote world the corrupt lurid modernity of pre War Shanghai the often tiny patches of extra territorial land controlled by European powers one of which unnoticed had mostly toppled into a river the entrep ts of Hong Kong and Macao and the myriad means through armed threats technology and legal chicanery by which China was kept subservient Today Chinese nationalism stays firmly rooted in memories of its degraded past the quest for self sufficiency a determination both to assert China s standing in the world and its outstanding territorial claims and never to be vulnerable to renewed attack History matters deeply to Beijing s current rulers and Out of China explains why

and Practice offers a new model for understanding exhibition design in museums as a human and material process. It presents diverse case studies from around the world from the nineteenth century to the recent past. It moves beyond the power of the finished exhibition over both objects and visitors to highlight historic exhibition making as an ongoing task of adaptation, experimentation and interaction that involves intellectual, creative and technical choices. Attentive to hierarchies of ethnicity, race, class, gender, sexuality and ableism that have informed exhibition design and its histories, the volume highlights the labour involved in making museum exhibitions. It presents design as filled with personal and professional demands on the body, senses and emotions. Contributions from historians, anthropologists and exhibition makers focus on histories of identity, collaboration and hierarchy behind the scenes of the museum. They argue for an emphasis on the everyday objects of museum design and the importance of a diverse range of actors within and beyond the museum, from carpenters and label writers to volunteers and local communities. Histories of Exhibition Design in the Museum offers scholars, students and professionals working across the museum and design sectors insight into how past methods still influence museums today. Through a postcolonial and decolonial lens, it reveals the lineage of current processes and supports a more informed contemporary practice. Staging Indigenous Heritage Yunci Cai, 2020-08-12 Staging Indigenous Heritage examines the cultural politics of four Indigenous cultural villages in Malaysia. Demonstrating that such villages are often beset with the politics of brokerage and representation, the book shows that this reinforces a culture of dependency on the brokers. By critically examining the relationship between Indigenous tourism and development through the establishment of Indigenous cultural villages, the book addresses the complexities of adopting the culture for development paradigm as a developmental strategy. Demonstrating that the opportunities for self-representation and self-determination can become entwined with the politics of brokerage and the contradictory dualism of culture, it becomes clear that this can both facilitate and compromise their intended outcomes. Challenging the simplistic conceptualisation of Indigenous communities as harmonious and unified wholes, the book shows how Indigenous cultures are actively forged, struggled over and negotiated in contemporary Malaysia. Confronting the largely positive rhetoric in current discourses on the benefits of community-based cultural projects, Staging Indigenous Heritage should be essential reading for academics and students in the fields of museum studies, cultural heritage studies, Indigenous studies, development studies, tourism, anthropology and geography. The book should also be of interest to museum and heritage professionals around the world. Art Collecting and Gifts to Museums Paul van der Grijp, 2024-12-06 Art Collecting and Gifts to Museums questions why private collectors donate their collection or parts of it to museums and examines what the implications of this gifting process might be. Presenting case studies from Europe, North America, East Asia and the South Pacific, this book is concerned with both elite and popular collections and examines the act of donating art from the collector's point of view. Demonstrating that art museums depend on donations from private collectors, Paul van der Grijp emphasizes that it is crucial to understand the psychological, sociological, economic and educational motivations for gifting works of art to institutions Taken together the chapters argue that collectors donate to museums because the latter represent an imagined community to whom those collectors would like to bestow a sacred gift Private collectors are Van der Grijp maintains motivated to ensure the immortality of their collections and ultimately to preserve some memory of their own lives in the process Art Collecting and Gifts to Museums will be of interest to researchers and students engaged in the study of museums culture art anthropology history and sociology Shaping Modern Shanghai Isabella Jackson,2018 An innovative study of colonialism in China examining Shanghai s International Settlement as the site of key developments in the Republican period Rethinking Public Governance Jacob Torfing,2023-06-01 In this innovative book Jacob Torfing a leading scholar of the field critically evaluates emerging ideas practices and institutions that are transforming how public governance is perceived theorised and conducted in practice With a novel focus on the production of innovative public value outcomes it identifies cutting edge developments in public governance and considers how it may transform in the future to present innovative solutions to societal problems Museum Development in China Gail Dexter Lord,Guan Qiang,An Laishun,Javier Jimenez,2019-06-15 The growth of the number and scale of Chinese museums in the 21st century from about 1 400 at the turn of the century to over 5 000 to date reflects the government s Museum Development Plan for 2011 2020 to open one museum per 250 000 inhabitants with the goal of attracting one billion visitors at the end of the decade It is not just the numbers but the speed of development of Chinese museums that takes our breath away with nearly one new museum per day being opened or expanded in this huge country What are the motivations for the rapid development of museums in China How is the public responding Who pays for these museums and how What has been the impact of china s urbanization How do Chinese museums balance education scientific research social cohesion cultural diplomacy and tourism both internal and external These are issues that continue to be discussed and debated among western museum professionals in the context of our 200 year history of modern museology How are these debates evolving in China which has its own history of museology over that same period from colonialism to communism and from isolation to opening up to the world This book explores these issues while introducing English language readers to a sample of the new Chinese museums in case studies and photographs To accomplish this goal Lord Cultural Associates partnered with the Chinese Museums Association who engaged leading Chinese museologists museum directors academics and architects to provide chapters and case studies on the history of museums in China on evolving national museum policies museum exhibitions and cultural diplomacy the role of private museums and the impact of museums on society The four sections of this book build our knowledge of the roles of China s museums through social and political changes the systems of governance the complex relationships between private and public sectors and many levels of government Section One places the current building boom in context Section Two addresses how China s rapid urbanization has fueled the museum building boom framed it formed it and in some cases financed it Section Three analyzes how Chinese exhibitions are tools for cultural diplomacy and
