The Twenty-Seventh Letter of the Alphabet Kim Adrian, 2018-10 Clear sighted darkly comic and tender The Twenty Seventh Letter of the Alphabet is about a daughter's struggle to face the Medusa of generational trauma without turning to stone Growing up in the New Jersey suburbs of the 1970s and 1980s in a family warped by mental illness addiction and violence Kim Adrian spent her childhood ducking for cover from an alcoholic father prone to terrifying acts of rage and trudging through a fog of confusion with her mother a suicidal incest survivor hooked on prescription drugs Family memories were buried even as they were formed and truth was obscured by lies and fantasies In The Twenty Seventh Letter of the Alphabet Adrian tries to make peace with this troubled past by cataloguing memories anecdotes and bits of family lore in the form of a glossary But within this strategic reckoning of the past the unruly present carves an unpredictable path as Adrian's aging mother plunges into ever deeper realms of drug fueled paranoia Ultimately the glossary's imposed order serves less to organize emotional chaos than to expose difficult but necessary truths such as the fact that some problems simply can't be solved and that loving someone doesn't necessarily mean saving them autobiographical insight reveals PFC's escapades during his assignment in Germany where he becomes the personal stenographer for Brigadier General George Patton IV who will determine his fate when he is convicted for the possession of 06 grams of hashish. He became a member of a blues rock band The Last Transaction with two German civilians and an Army buddy. He continues with frequent AWOL holidays in Switzerland and Austria. He buys a 1961 Porsche, names it Smack, then paints the Superman S logo on the hood. At last, he returns home to Chicago and enrolls into college. After completing two tours of duty in Vietnam, his brother also returns home. Days later, his brother dies. Later, he finds that after a car accident, his girlfriend's mother, a recovering addict, gave him methadone to relieve the head pain incurred from the accident. The coroner attributes his death with the drug and alcohol he had taken earlier. Motivated by the loss of his brother, PFC establishes a career as The Fabulous FENO, the world's only talking mime. He creates the What Is Cool, a program that encourages youths to say no to drugs and alcohol and yes to education and to a healthy positive lifestyle. He appears on numerous TV shows and performs at schools all across the US. The result of his work is exemplified by the positive outcome on the many lives he has inspired to this day.

Alan Ayckbourn: Plays 6 Alan Ayckbourn, 2018-09-04 With an Introduction by the author. The prolific master of suburban mayhem has still got his mojo. Evening Standard. Time of My Life. One of Mr Ayckbourn's most virtuosic experiments in postmodern narrative. Wall Street Journal. Neighbourhood Watch. Ayckbourn's tartly topical pitch, black comedy, a startling evocation of the panic induced by nightmarish notions of broken Britain. An arresting, nastily comic cautionary tale. The Times. Arrivals and Departures. Ayckbourn's genius lies in his ability to write what you might call sad comedies uproariously funny farces that are at second glance deeply serious at times despairing portraits of modern middle class life and its discontents. On occasion, as in Arrivals Departures, he puts the despair at centre stage and what results is a play that at bottom can no longer be called a comedy at all. Wall Street Journal. Hero's Welcome. Alan Ayckbourn is the poet laureate of missed connections. In play after pensive droll and acid play, Ayckbourn anatomizes how we fail to understand and trust our lovers and friends. Guardian. A Brief History of Women. As A Brief History of Women follows Spates at twenty year intervals through the next sixty years, it becomes progressively more funny, more tender, more Ayckbourn. Ayckbourn knows that moments of real connection between people are hard won and hard to forget. The Times.
