Nora Ishibashi:

Critiquing the DSM 5 Nora L. Ishibashi, 2015-06-08 Essays written by social work master's degree students responding to the categories of psychological diagnosis issued by the American Psychiatric Association Arguing with the DSM-5 Nora Ishibashi, 2014-08-19 These papers represent the thoughts of first year master's degree students in the Social Work Program at Loyola University of Chicago They express the responses of students to diagnostic categories in the DSM 5 after much research and discussion Lost Souls James Wright, 2018-05-11 What is the state of contemporary American morality From their original conception in Christian scripture to their assimilation into Western culture the Seven Deadly Sins lust greed envy pride and all the rest have guided human morality steering human behavior and psychology away from evil and toward a full embrace of the good But their hold on modern life is increasingly tenuous Indeed one may observe that these days deadly sin is far more common and more commonly practiced than its virtuous counterparts humility charity kindness industriousness and chastity Without greed there is no economy without anger no politics and without pride and envy surely less motivation and competition would exist James D Wright carefully examines the complexities and ambiguities in modern society in the context of the seven deadly sins and their corresponding virtues Are we all lost souls condemned by our immoral deeds or are the trappings of older sin deteriorating Is it time finally to reconsider the classifications of evil and good Wright uses each chapter to consider how the social sciences have operationalized each sin how they have been studied and what lessons have been learned over time He reviews recent trends and contemplates the societal costs and benefits of the behaviors in question Lost Souls emerges then as a meditation on contemporary sin concluding that the line between guilt and innocence right and wrong is often very thin Innovations in Psychosocial Interventions and Their Delivery Alan E. Kazdin, 2018 Innovations in Psychosocial Interventions and Their Delivery provides an integrated and detailed overview of advances challenges and necessary new directions with regard to evidence based psychological interventions Drawing on diverse fields such as public health business entertainment social policy and law and other domains that may inform efforts to deliver interventions more effectively Alan Kazdin explores an assortment of novel and inventive ways to address the world's mental health crisis The Wealth of Reality Margaret A. Syverson, 1999 Margaret A Syverson discusses the ways in which a theory of composing situations as ecological systems might productively be applied in composition studies She demonstrates not only how new research in cognitive science and complex systems can inform composition studies but also how composing situations can provide fruitful ground for research in cognitive science Syverson first introduces theories of complex systems currently studied in diverse disciplines She describes complex systems as adaptive self organizing and dynamic neither utterly chaotic nor entirely ordered these systems exist on the boundary between order and chaos Ecological systems are metasystems composed of interrelated complex systems Writers readers and texts together with their environments constitute one kind of ecological system Four attributes of complex systems provide a theoretical framework for this study distribution embodiment emergence and enaction Three case studies provide evidence for the application of these concepts an analysis of a passage from an autobiographical poem by Charles Reznikoff a study of first year college students writing collaboratively and a conflict in a computer forum of social scientists during the Gulf War The diversity of these cases tests the robustness of theories of distributed cognition and complex systems and suggests possibilities for wider application Syverson concludes with a discussion of some implications of an ecological approach for composition research pedagogy and assessment presenting the Learning Record model as one practical application of the theory Finally she argues that technological changes have created new environments for composing providing an opportunity to reconsider conventional environments as well

Globalizing Critical Theory Max Pensky, 2005-01-28 Across a spectrum of academic disciplines the topic of globalization is at the forefront of contemporary efforts to understand a dynamically changing world society How might critical social theory respond creatively to the challenge of thinking and theorizing globalization in its full complexity Globalizing Critical Theory collects essays by scholars at the forefront of Critical Theory as they confront this timely topic This book offers readers a chance to see contemporary Critical Theory in its full range from political analyses of a global public sphere critical race theory and the politics of memory to aesthetics and media studies It includes crucial new essays by Jürgen Habermas on the transformations of the global order in the wake of the American invasion of Iraq and major interventions by Nancy Fraser Peter Hohendahl Andreas Huyssen James Bohman and others Globalizing Critical Theory provides a fascinating exploration of how Critical Theory is confronting the question of globalization and how globalization is transforming Critical Theory

Racism and Discourse in Latin America Teun A. van Dijk, 2009-01-01 Racism and Discourse in Latin America investigates how public discourse is involved in the daily reproduction of racism in Latin America The essays examine political discourse mass media discourse textbooks and other forms of text and talk by the white symbolic elites looking at the ways these discourses express and confirm prejudices against indigenous people and against people of African descent The essays show that ethnic and racial inequality in Latin America continues to exacerbate the chasm between the rich and the poor despite formal progress in the rights of minorities during the last decades Teun A van Dijk brings together a multidisciplinary team of linguists and social scientists from eight Latin American countries Mexico Guatemala Colombia Venezuela Brazil Argentina Chile and Peru creating the first work in English that provides comprehensive insight into discursive racism across Latin America Book jacket
