

The background of the cover is a painting. At the top, a vibrant red umbrella is partially visible, its fabric showing some texture and folds. Below it, a dark-colored stroller with large, spoked wheels is depicted. The stroller has a dark canopy and a handle. The painting style is somewhat abstract and expressive, with visible brushstrokes and a muted color palette for the stroller and background, contrasting with the bright red of the umbrella.

Mothers, Mothering and Sex Work Rebecca Bromwich, Monique Marie DeJong, 2015 In a transnational intersectional framework this book discusses lived experiences of legal and governmental frameworks affecting and theorizations of mothers and sex work This is the first collaboration of its kind that is specifically focused on Canada and explores not only what is done to or about sex workers who are mothers under governmental regimes or exploitative traffickers in the context of political and social systems that continue to disempower women in general and mothers in particular but also the agencies of mothers who are sex workers and the mothers of those engaged in sex work This book seeks to open a space for the study of connections between sex work and mother work The text provides a venue for telling stories by sex workers who are or were mothers As such this collection goes beyond a study of how mothering in the context of sex work is regulated by law and society to look at the agencies and lived experiences of sex workers who are mothers It also looks at discourses of sex work and motherhood as complementarily regulating the sexuality of women in a way that reinscribes and maintains a patriarchal social order

Justice in the Age of Agnosis James Gacek, Richard Jochelson, 2024-05-18 This book seeks to further the understanding of the human experience of coerced and forced ignorance on social human rights and criminal justice related topics drawing together scholars from multiple disciplinary fronts It argues that people in our social world are forced or coerced through either implicatory or interpretive denial that is normalized through specific cultural and social mechanisms by which we refer to this as non knowledge or agnosis There has also been a lack of scholarship which examines how human victimization and power intersects by and through the systematic orchestration of forced ignorance and doubt upon daily human life This book s focus is an examination of the ways in which people find themselves in social spaces without empirical clarity and understand that absence as satisfaction stability or perhaps even pleasure It discusses a range of topics including for example people s sense of relative safety despite empirical realities suggesting otherwise This book seeks to make visible the role of ignorance in governing society highlighting how the late modern human experience in a post World War II human rights era subsumes subverts and sublimates the complex relationship between knowledge and denial the empirical gulf between knowledge and resistance may indeed breed complicit bliss Maternal Geographies Jennufer L.

Johnson,2019-05-01 This collection broaches the intersections of critical motherhood studies and feminist geography Contributors demonstrate that an important dimension of the social construction of motherhood is how mothering happens in space and place leading to the articulation of diverse maternal geographies Through 16 concise chapters divided into three thematic sections the contributors provide an account of motherhood and mothering as spatial practices that are embedded in relations of power across time and place While some contributors explore how dominant discourses of motherhood seek to keep mothers in their place others take up the notion of maternal geographies as productive in their own right and follow their subjects as they create a new sense of place Collectively the authors demonstrate that mothers are produced and regulated as subjects in relation to space and place and also that practices of mothering produce spatial relationships
