Not Your Mothers Meatloaf A Sex Education Comic Book:

Not Your Mother's Meatloaf Saiya Miller, Liza Bley, 2013-07-30 As teenagers today navigate increasingly fluid identities and choices there is a demand for an accessible interactive tool to help share knowledge about sex and sexual health one that demystifies the facts and speaks frankly about experiences whose lessons often fall into the grey areas Since 2008 Miller and Bley have held an open call for young people to create comics that address a variety of topics involved with sex education We have since produced several issues of a sex ed comic called Not Your Mother's Meatloaf The work is chosen from a vastly varied group of submissions and attempts to challenge hetero and gender normative practices in sex education The comics address topics like body image safer sex consent and relationships from positions that have historically been left out of sex education These graphically illustrated personal narratives address different themes such as Firsts Bodies Health Age and Endings The book will bring together the best of the material from the Not Your Mother's Meatloaf comics along with new graphic stories and writing by the editors providing personal and sociological background Not Your Mother's Meatloaf

,2010 Not Your Mother's Meatloaf ,2009 Using Graphic Novels in the English Language Arts Classroom

William Boerman-Cornell, Jung Kim, 2020-10-01 Shortlisted for the UK Literacy Association's Academic Book Award 2021 There is an increasing trend in teachers using graphic novels to get their students excited about reading and writing using both original stories and adaptations of classic works by authors such as Homer Shakespeare and the Brontes However there is surprisingly little research available about which pedagogies and classroom practices are proven to be effective This book draws on cutting edge research surveys and classroom observations to provide a set of effective methods for teaching with graphic novels in the secondary English language arts classroom These methods can be applied to a broad base of uses ranging from understanding literary criticism critical reading multimodal composition to learning literary devices like foreshadowing and irony The book begins by looking at what English language arts teachers hope to achieve in the classroom It then considers the affordances and constraints of using graphic novels to achieve these specific goals using some of the most successful graphic novels as examples including Maus Persepolis The Nameless City and American Born Chinese and series such as Manga Shakespeare Finally it helps the teacher navigate through the planning process to figure out how to best use graphic novels in their own classroom Drawing on their extensive teaching experience the authors offer examples from real classrooms suggested lesson plans and a list of teachable graphic novels organized by purpose of teaching

Graphic Medicine Manifesto MK Czerwicz, Ian Williams, Susan Merrill Squier, Michael J. Green, Kimberly R. Myers, Scott T. Smith, 2020-05-18 This inaugural volume in the Graphic Medicine series establishes the principles of graphic medicine and begins to map the field The volume combines scholarly essays by members of the editorial team with previously unpublished visual narratives by Ian Williams and MK Czerwicz and it includes arresting visual work from a wide range of graphic medicine practitioners The book's first section featuring essays by Scott Smith and Susan Squier argues that as a new area of scholarship research on graphic medicine has the potential to challenge the conventional boundaries of academic disciplines raise questions about their foundations and reinvigorate literary scholarship and the notion of the literary text for a broader audience The second section incorporating essays by Michael Green and Kimberly Myers demonstrates that graphic medicine narratives can engage members of the health professions with literary and visual representations and symbolic practices that offer patients family members physicians and other caregivers new ways to experience and work with the complex challenges of the medical experience The final section by Ian Williams and MK Czerwec focuses on the practice of creating graphic narratives iconography drawing as a social practice and the nature of comics as visual rhetoric A conclusion in comics form testifies to the diverse and growing graphic medicine community Two valuable bibliographies guide readers to comics and scholarly works relevant to the field

Adolescent Literacies and the Gendered Self Barbara J. Guzzetti, Thomas W. Bean, 2013 Today's youth live in the interface of the local and the global Research is documenting how a world youth culture is developing how global migration is impacting youth how global capitalism is changing their economic and vocational futures and how computer mediated communication with the world is changing the literacy needs and identities of students This book explores the dynamic range of literacy practices that are reconstructing gender identities in both empowering and disempowering ways and the implications for local literacy classrooms As gendered identities become less essentialist are more often created in virtual settings and are increasingly globalized literacy educators need to understand these changes in order to effectively educate their students The volume is organized around three themes gender influences and identities in literacy and literature gender influences and identities in new literacies practices and gender and literacy issues and policies The contributing authors from North America Europe and Australia offer an international perspective on literacy issues and practices This volume is an important contribution to understanding the impact of the local and the global on how today's youth are represented and positioned in literacy practices and policies within the context of 21st century global cosmopolitan life
