Romans 4 and the New Perspective on Paul Gerhard H. Visscher, 2009 In addition to examining Romans IV includes discussion of writings supporting and opposing the New Perspective position New Perspectives on Mixed Languages Maria Mazzoli, Eeva Sippola, 2021-06-08 A growing number of language varieties with diverse backgrounds and structural typologies have been identified as mixed However the debate on the status of many varieties and even on the existence of the category of mixed languages continues still today This volume examines the current state of the theoretical and empirical debate on mixed languages and presents new advances from a diverse set of mixed language varieties These cover well known mixed languages such as Media Lengua Michif Gurindji Kriol and Kallawaya and varieties whose classification is still debated such as Reo Rapa Kumzari Jopar and Wutun The contributions deal with different aspects of mixed languages including descriptive approaches to their current status and origins theoretical discussions on the language contact processes in them and analysis of different types of language mixing practices This book contributes to the current debate on the existence of the mixed language category shedding more light onto this fascinating group of languages and the contact processes that shape them

Paul and the New Perspective Seyoon Kim, 2001-11-08 Understanding Paul and his conversion to Christianity is imperative for a thorough knowledge of the New Testament In Paul and the New Perspective Seyoon Kim develops his argument that the origin of Paul s gospel lies in two places his radical conversion at Damascus and his usage of the Jesus tradition in light of Damascus This new way of looking at Paul further explains how Paul made strong distinctions between the Spirit and the flesh law with further implications for his doctrine of justification A departure from the New Perspective School represented by James D G Dunn Kim s Paul and the New Perspective offers a thorough and extensive argument for the foundation of the gospel that Paul spread in the first century New Perspectives on Old

Texts Orion Center for the Study of the Dead Sea Scrolls and Associated Literature. International Symposium, 2010 This volume presents new perspectives on the ancient texts discovered at Qumran The essays offer fresh insights into particular texts and genres by applying methods and constructs drawn from other disciplines to the study of the Dead Sea Scrolls and by exploring new as well as long standing issues raised by these works The topics and approaches engaged include group identity memory ritual theory sectarian sociology philosophy of education liturgical anthropology Jewish law history of religion and mysticism The articles in this volume were originally presented at the Tenth Annual International Orion Symposium sponsored in 2005 by the Orion Center for the Study of the Dead Sea Scrolls and Associated Literature at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem New Perspectives on Lexical Borrowing Eline Zenner, Gitte Kristiansen, 2013-11-27 This volume aims to broaden the focus of existing loanword research which has mainly been conducted from a systemic and structuralist perspective The eight studies in this volume introduce onomasiological phraseological and methodological innovations to the study of lexical borrowing These new perspectives significantly enhance our understanding of lexical borrowing and provide new insights into contact induced variation and change Cardiac Remodeling: New Insights in Physiological and Pathological Adaptations Leonardo Roeber, Antonio C. Palandri Chagas, 2017-11-15 The effective management of Cardiac remodeling CR remains a major challenge Heart failure remains the leading cause of death in industrialized countries Yet despite the enormity of the problem effective therapeutic interventions remain elusive In fact several initially promising agents were found to decrease mortality in patients recovering from myocardial infarction Cardiac remodeling is defined as molecular and interstitial changes manifested clinically by changes in size mass geometry and function of the heart in response to certain aggression Initially ventricular remodeling aims to maintain stable cardiac function in situations of aggression Conference proceedings. New Perspectives in Seleucid History, Archaeology and Numismatics Roland Oetjen, 2019-12-16 Dedicated to Getzel M Cohen a leading expert in Seleucid history this volume gathers 45 contributions on Seleucid history archaeology numismatics political relations policy toward the Jews Greek cities non Greek populations peripheral and neighboring regions imperial administration economy and public finances and ancient descriptions of the Seleucid Empire The reader will gain an international perspective on current research New perspectives on cohesion and coherence Katrin Menzel, Ekaterina Lapshinova-Koltunski, Kerstin Kunz, 2017-06-23 The contributions to this volume investigate relations of cohesion and coherence as well as instantiations of discourse phenomena and their interaction with information structure in multilingual contexts Some contributions concentrate on procedures to analyze cohesion and coherence from a corpus linguistic perspective Others have a particular focus on textual cohesion in parallel corpora that include both originals and translated texts Additionally the papers in the volume discuss the nature of cohesion and coherence with implications for human and machine translation The contributors are experts on discourse phenomena and textuality who address these issues from an empirical perspective The chapters in this volume are grounded in the latest research making this book useful to both experts of discourse studies and computational linguistics as well as advanced students with an interest in these disciplines We hope that this volume will serve as a catalyst to other researchers and will facilitate further advances in the development of cost effective annotation procedures the application of statistical techniques for the analysis of linguistic phenomena and the elaboration of new methods for data interpretation in multilingual corpus linguistics and machine translation

One Gospel Nathan N. Hoff,2023-12-18 Is faith in Messiah necessary to the content of saving faith in the Old Testament as it is in the New While the dispensational tradition has been clear that salvation in every age includes a common object God a common basis Christ s death and a common requirement faith it has not always agreed on the content of saving faith across the testaments Written within the dispensational tradition One Gospel seeks to advance the discussion by looking at Paul s use of the Abraham story in Romans 4 This work contends there is continuity between the Old Testament and the New as illustrated by Abraham and Paul The content of saving faith must always include faith in Messiah who in the progress of revelation is identified as Jesus Christ

Writing Bernd Herzogenrath, 2022-11-17 Particularly for the disciplines of the humanities and social sciences for which writing is their lifeblood the crisis in academic writing has become existential It is not hard to diagnose the disease and its causes This book showcases what we desperately need radical alternatives experiments we can try out ways of writing that don't just tweak the system but plot a different course altogether This isn't just about finding new genres for these only change the surface appearance without altering the underlying dynamic Rather the editor and contributors focus on finding new ways to join thinking both with writing and the things of which and with which we write Each chapter brims with the kind of liveliness outspokenness and urgency that their theme demands Far from tiptoeing around the edifice of academia they are intent on stirring things up reigniting their scholarship with a fuse of activism in the hope of setting off an explosion that could send ripples throughout the academy

Listening with Two Ears - New Insights and Perspectives in Binaural Research Huiming Zhang, Yi Zhou, Lina Reiss, 2023-11-27 Hearing is dependent on neural processing of acoustic cues obtained by the left and right ears Neural signals driven by the two ears are integrated at multiple levels of the central auditory system which enables animals including humans to perform various functions including localization of a sound source A natural listening environment typically contains sounds from multiple sources These sounds can have different spectral and temporal features and occur at either the same or different time Integration can happen among neural signals elicited by the same or different sounds The way of integration can greatly affect how individual sounds are sensed and perceived Functions such as auditory grouping and stream segregation which are central to establishing coherent auditory images in a complex listening environment are highly dependent on the way of integration Binaural hearing is complicated by individual differences and developmental changes in head and pinna shape size as binaural cues can be affected by these differences and changes Furthermore neural processing of binaural cues can be influenced by hearing impairments and the use of hearing aids and cochlear implants These factors likely require a listener to optimize the use of binaural cues through learning and to use plastic changes in the nervous system to perform the optimization Great strides have been made in understanding binaural processing in normal and impaired auditory systems This Research Topic aims to highlight some of the latest findings in the following areas 1 Animal behavioral and human psychoacoustical studies of binaural hearing 2 Neural encoding and processing of binaural cues and structural as well as neurophysiological bases of such encoding and processing 3 Contribution of binaural neural processing to auditory functions such as sound source localization binaural fusion binaural interference spatial release from masking auditory grouping and auditory stream segregation 4 Computational models of binaural processing 5 Learning and plastic changes in binaural processing following hearing loss or alterations of acoustic environment and structural as well as physiological bases of these behavioral changes 6 Clinical aspects of binaural processing including application of processing strategies including research on the benefits of bilateral cochlear implantation and the neural correlates thereof

New Perspectives on Judeo-Spanish and the Linguistic

History of the Sephardic Jews ,2024-05-06 At the intersection of Jewish studies and linguistic research the essays assembled in this book approach the topic of the languages of Sephardic Jews from different perspectives spanning chronologically from the Middle Ages to the present day Drawing on diverse sources from medical glossaries to inquisition archives from rabbinic responsa to recordings of today s speakers the scholars collaborating on this project have endeavoured to reconstruct fragments of a complex and elusive linguistic reality which over the centuries has been shaped by the historical experience of its speakers An innovative collection of rigorously conducted synchronic and diachronic studies that contributes to expanding our knowledge and opening new perspectives on crucial issues such as the effects of contact on the linguistic structures the possibility of a norm for polycentric languages the relationship between the lexicon of a language and the vitality of its speech community
