Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board United States. National Labor Relations Board,2011-06 Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board, V. 328, April 7, 1999 Through August 31, 1999 , A History of Regional Commercial Television in Australia Michael Thurlow,2023-02-14 This book is the first history of commercial television in regional Australia where diverse communities are spread across vast distances and multiple time zones The first station GLV Latrobe Valley began broadcasting in December 1961 By the late 1970s there were 35 independent commercial stations throughout regional Australia from Cairns in the far north east to Bunbury in the far south west Based on fine grained archival research and extensive interviews the book examines the key political regulatory economic technological industrial and social developments which have shaped the industry over the past 60 years Regional television is often dismissed as a mere extension of or footnote to the development of Australia s three metropolitan commercial television networks Michael Thurlow s study reveals an industry which at its peak was at the economic and social heart of regional communities employing thousands of people and providing vital programming for viewers in provincial cities and small towns across Australia

Political Economy of Agricultural Development in India Akina Venkateswarlu,2021-11-17 The book covers

Indian agricultural development from the colonial to the present period It examines how ruling class political ideology determined the agricultural policies from colonial rule It considers both quantitative and qualitative aspects in all periods colonial period to pre green revolution phase post green revolution phase early and late stages and post globalisation phase after 1991 India has achieved the ability to maintain food security through enough food grain buffer stocks to meet the enormous public distribution system But with India s entry into WTO in 1994 euphoria has been created among all types of farmers to adopt commercial crops like cotton cost intensive inputs Even food grain crops are grown through use of costly irrigation and chemicalised inputs But they lacked remunerative prices and so farmers began to commit suicides which crossed 3 5 lakh Government of India attributed this agrarian crisis to the technology fatigue and gave scope for second green revolution GR II GR I was achieved by public sector enterprise whereas the GR II as gene revolution is a result of private sector enterprise MNCs There is fear that opening up of the sector may lead to handover of the family farms to big agri multinationals GOI s proposal to double farmers income by 2022 is feasible only when the problems being faced by small marginal and tenant farmers are addressed in agricultural marketing credit and extension services Now it is time to go for suitable forms of cooperative collective agriculture as 85 percent of total cultivators are the small and marginal farmers This book is co published with Aakar Books New Delhi Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the print versions of this book in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka

Beyond the Silver Screen Mary Tomsic, 2017-10-16 Beyond the Silver Screen tells the history of women's engagement with filmmaking and film culture in twentieth century Australia. In doing so it explores an array of often hidden ways women in Australia have creatively worked with film. Beyond the Silver Screen examines film in a broad sense considering feature filmmaking alongside government documentaries and political films. It also focusses on women's work regulating films and supporting film culture through organising film societies and workshops to encourage female filmmakers. As such it tells a new narrative of Australian film history. Beyond the Silver Screen reveals the variety of roles film has in Australian society. It presents film as a medium of creative and political expression which women have engaged with in diverse ways throughout the twentieth century. Gender roles and gendered ideologies operating within society at large have influenced women's opportunities to work with film and how their filmwork is recognised. Beyond the Silver Screen shows women's sustained involvement with film is best understood as political and cultural action.

Oral History and Business Robert Crawford, Matthew Bailey, 2022-08-22 This book introduces business historians to oral history methodologies and approaches. Using four distinct oral history case studies to explore ideas of disruption and continuity in business history over the second half of the twentieth century, Robert Crawford and Matthew Bailey demonstrate how critical engagement with oral history approaches serves to enhance and enliven business history as well as its relationship with other historical fields. The focus on disruption is used to encompass a broad set of processes such as technological change, the impact of external forces, informal business networks, social constructions of gender, knowledge transfer, firm adaptability and cultural change. The use of oral histories to interpret responses to disruption in the past and to explore the features characterising business continuity provides an opportunity to consider the human dimensions, subjective experiences and personal insights of workplace, firm and industry change. It also sheds light on the ways that people and firms respond to disruptive forces through innovation and adaptation, both successfully and unsuccessfully. This succinct and accessible account is essential reading for business historians with little experience in using oral history as well as those looking to gain deeper insights from their oral history data Protecting The Environment, Privately Jeffrey W Bennett, 2015-06-24 Most volumes in the environmental economics literature consider the environment to be a public good and hence write out a role for the private sector in a source of supply Yet there is ample evidence of the private sector being involved driven both by profit and altruism This book provides the necessary conceptual base for the inclusion of the private sector in the environmental protection supply equation and deliver an extensive set of examples in a wide range of contexts In an economic climate where governments are attempting to reduce expenditures the increased role for the private sector will be readily embraced by policy makers The aim of the book is to establish the principles of markets in the provision of environmental protection and to provide an extensive experience based set of contexts in which the private sector has acted to enhance the supply of environmental goods and services These contexts include both pure private sector initiatives in terrestrial aquatic and marine ecosystems and public private sector joint initiatives such as payment for environmental services PES schemes
