Tourism and Heritage in the Chornobyl Exclusion Zone Magdalena Banaszekiewicz, 2022-09-28 Tourism and Heritage in the Chornobyl Exclusion Zone CEZ uses an ethnographic lens to explore the dissonances associated with the commodification of Chornobyl s heritage. The book considers the role of the guides as experience brokers focusing on the synergy between tourists and guides in the performance of heritage interpretation. Banaszekiewicz proposes to perceive tour guides as important actors in the bottom up construction of heritage discourse contributing to more inclusive and participatory approach to heritage management. Demonstrating that the CEZ has been going through a dynamic transformation into a mass tourism attraction the book offers a critical reflection on heritagisation as a meaning making process in which the resources of the past are interpreted negotiated and recognised as a valuable legacy Applying the concepts of dissonant heritage to describe the heterogeneous character of the CEZ the book broadens the interpretative scope of dark tourism which takes on a new dimension in the context of the war in Ukraine Tourism and Heritage in the Chernobyl Exclusion Zone argues that post disaster sites such as Chernobyl can teach us a great deal about the importance of preserving cultural and natural heritage for future generations The book will be of interest to academics and students who are engaged in the study of heritage tourism memory disasters and Eastern Europe Tourism Crises and Destination Recovery David Beirman,2021-10-20 As of the dynamic intersections between economic geography and tourism highlighting how spatial economic and social processes shape tourism development and how tourism in turn transforms economic spaces Combining theoretical insights with real world case studies it offers a comprehensive understanding of tourism's evolving role within economic geography. The first part lays a strong theoretical foundation introducing key concepts such as the Tourism Area Life Cycle, path dependence, agglomeration economies, smart specialization and regional resilience within the context of tourism research. It explores spatial and temporal patterns in tourism development, the growing influence of digitalization and smart tourism and the roles of innovation and competitiveness in shaping destination dynamics. The second part shifts focus to tourism's broader economic and social implications. It critically assesses urban tourism's links to gentrification, circular economies and social conflicts while exploring strategies to address spatial enclaves and foster integrated tourism networks in low density and fragile regions. Environmental challenges including the impact of tourism mobility on local communities and ecosystems are also examined. The book concludes by addressing the tensions and future trajectories of tourism development, questioning whether sustainable or regenerative tourism can thrive within market driven economies where decision making prioritizes individual preferences over collective well being. It calls for a reassessment of contemporary policy and regulatory frameworks to align tourism with broader economic and environmental goals. By bridging economic geography and tourism studies, this book equips scholars, policymakers and practitioners with analytical tools to rethink tourism development and advocate for strategies that are economically viable and effectively sustainable, inclusive and resilient.
