Cullen, Pamela Wilcox, 2009-12-15. This two-volume set is designed to serve as a reference source for anyone interested in the roots of contemporary criminological theory. Drawing together a team of international scholars, it examines the global landscape of all the key theories and the theorists behind them, presenting them in a context needed to understand their strengths and weaknesses. The work provides essays on cutting-edge research as well as concise-to-the-point definitions of key concepts, ideas, schools, and figures. Topics include contexts and concepts in criminological theory, the social construction of crime, policy implications of theory, diversity and intercultural contexts, conflict theory, rational choice theories, conservative criminology, feminist theory, and more. Key Themes: The Classical School of Criminology, The Positivist School of Criminology, Early American Theories of Crime, Biological and Biosocial Theories of Crime, Psychological Theories of Crime, The Chicago School of Criminology, Cultural and Learning Theories of Crime, Anomie and Strain Theories of Crime and Deviance, Control Theories of Crime, Labeling and Interactionist Theories of Crime, Theories of the Criminal Sanction, Conflict, Radical and Critical Theories of Crime, Feminist and Gender-Specific Theories of Crime, Choice and Opportunity Theories of Crime, Macro-Level Community Theories of Crime, Life Course and Developmental Theories of Crime, Integrated Theories of Crime, Theories of White Collar and Corporate Crime, Contemporary Gang Theories, Theories of Prison Behavior and Insurgency, Theories of Fear and Concern About Crime. Studies of good and evil, a series of essays Josiah Royce, 1898.

Mission-Based Policing John P. Crank, Dawn M. Irlbeck, Rebecca K. Murray, Mark Sundermeier, 2017-07-27. The research revolution in police work has uncovered a multitude of data, but this contemporary knowledge has done very little to change the way things are done in most police departments across the U.S., where the prevalent form of policing is based on the traditional model of district assignments and random preventive patrol. Drawn from the work of scholars on the cutting edge of police research, this volume argues for a radical shift in the way policing is approached. It provides concrete recommendations for the fundamental reorganization of the policing institution and presents a comprehensive planning regimen for urban problems that encompasses security, urban reinvestment, and public planning. Practice and Progress in Social Design and Sustainability Siu, Kin Wai, Michael, Wong, Yin Lin, 2018-07-06. Designers provide creative solutions for user problems and identify the needs of users in a given environment. However, it is often difficult to understand the social design of a product or service. Practice and Progress in Social Design and Sustainability is a critical scholarly resource that provides groundbreaking research on social contributions to design. Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as rural sustainability, ecological farmhouse designs, and community public spaces, this book is geared towards architects, designers, program planners, entrepreneurs, and engineers seeking information about design for resolving social issues. Policing and the Mentally Ill Duncan Chappell, 2013-05-14. In countries with democratic traditions, police interactions with the mentally ill are usually guided by legislative mandates giving police discretion and possibly resulting in referrals for assistance and treatment. But all too frequently the outcome of these interactions is far less therapeutic and leads to a cycle of arrests and ultimately incarceration. Stemming from an initiative in Memphis Tennessee two decades ago police departments in many parts of the world have set up specific programs with crisis intervention teams to facilitate police contact with the mentally ill. Policing and the Mentally Ill: International Perspectives examines how these types of programs have fared in jurisdictions across the world. The book begins with developments in North America and Europe traditionally the locus of much of the innovation and change in policing and related areas. It demonstrates how a number of jurisdictions in Europe have only recently begun to recognize therapeutic intervention with the mentally ill as a priority issue and still frequently suffer from a lack of significant resources. The largest section of the book focuses on Australia where local law enforcement agencies have displayed a remarkable enthusiasm for and commitment to change in their management of interactions with citizens with mental illness. Finally the book examines the particular challenges of providing humane and effective policing for persons with mental illnesses in parts of the developing world. These challenges often involve dealing with entrenched cultural beliefs and practices based on superstition fear and prejudice regarding persons thought to be mentally ill. Interactions between police and persons with mental illnesses comprise an important and sensitive aspect of everyday policing. The 16 chapters in this book offer a wide range of cross cultural perspectives on this essential aspect of policing enabling police practitioners to develop a best practices approach to managing their interactions with this vulnerable segment of the community.
