Making Truth in Early Modern Catholicism Andreea Badea, Bruno Boute, Marco Cavarzere, Steven Broecke, 2025-10-01 Scholarship has come to value the uncertainties haunting early modern knowledge cultures indeed awareness of the fragility and plurality of knowledge is now offered as a key element for understanding early modern science as a whole Yet early modern actors never questioned the possibility of certainty itself and never objected to the notion that truth is out there universal and therefore safe from human manipulation This book investigates how early modern actors managed not to succumb to postmodern relativism despite the increasing uncertainties and blatant disagreements about the nature of God Man and the Universe An international and interdisciplinary team of experts in fields ranging from the history of science to theology and the history of ideas analyses a number of practices that were central to maintaining and functionalizing the notion of absolute truth Through such an interdisciplinary research the book shows how certainty about truth could be achieved and how early modern society recognized the credibility of a wide plethora of actors in differentiating fields of knowledge Lived Experiences and Social Transformations CL Wren Radford,2022-03-07 Practices of sharing marginalised lived experiences are framed as providing insight into injustices yet social inequalities influence whose experiences and whose interpretations of these experiences are seen as valid Lived Experiences and Social Transformations analyses academic and activist encounters with lived experiences arguing that these practices reinforce or disrupt power relations Through the example of UK activists sharing their experiences of poverty Wren Radford advocates for collaborative interventions that emphasise the critical creative knowledges enmeshed in marginalised experiences The book compellingly enacts this approach to practical theology rooted in concrete issues and argued through poetic writing artwork and interdisciplinary sources Death in the City Kathryn A. Sloan,2017 At the turn of the twentieth century many observers considered suicide to be a worldwide social problem that had reached epidemic proportions This idea was especially powerful in Mexico City where tragic and violent deaths in public urban spaces seemed commonplace in a city undergoing rapid modernization Crime rates mounted corpses piled up in the morgue and the media reported on sensational cases of murder and suicide More troublesome still a compelling death wish appeared to grip women and youth Drawing on an extensive range of sources from judicial records to the popular press Death in the City examines the cultural meanings of death and self destruction in modern Mexico The author examines approaches and responses to suicide and death disproving the long held belief that Mexicans possessed a cavalier response to death Provided by publisher Continental Philosophy of Technoscience Hub Zwart,2021-11-18 The key objective of this volume is to allow philosophy students and early stage researchers to become practicing philosophers in technoscientific settings Zwart focuses on the methodological issue of how to practice continental philosophy of technoscience today This text draws upon continental authors such as Hegel Engels Heidegger Bachelard and Lacan and their fields of dialectics phenomenology and psychoanalysis in developing a coherent message around the technicity of science or rather technoscience Within technoscience the focus will be on recent developments in life sciences research such as genomics post genomics synthetic biology and global ecology This book uniquely presents continental perspectives that tend to be underrepresented in mainstream philosophy of science yet entail crucial insights for coming to terms with technoscience as it is evolving on a global scale today This is an open access book Early Orientalism Ivan Kalmar,2013-06-17 The history of western notions about Islam is of obvious scholarly as well as popular interest today This book investigates Christian images of the Muslim Middle East focusing on the period from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment when the nature of divine as well as human power was under particularly intense debate in the West Ivan Kalmar explores how the controversial notion of submission to ultimate authority has in the western world been discussed with reference to Islam s alleged recommendation to obey unquestioningly a merciless Allah in heaven and a despotic government on earth He discusses how Abrahamic faiths Christianity and Judaism as much as Islam demand devotion to a sublime power with the faith that this power loves and cares for us a concept that brings with it the fear that on the contrary this power only toys with us for its own enjoyment For such a power Kalmar borrows Slavoj Zizek's term obscene father He discusses how this describes exactly the western image of the Oriental despot Allah in heaven and the various sultans emirs and ayatollahs on earth and how these despotic personalities of imagined Muslim society function as a projection from the West on to the Muslim Orient of an existential anxiety about sublime power Making accessible academic debates on the history of Christian perceptions of Islam and on Islam and the West this book is an important addition to the existing literature in the areas of Islamic studies religious history and philosophy Learning from Delhi Written by Maurice Mitchell, Shamoan Patwari, 2017-03-02 The inflexibility of modern urban planning which seeks to determine the activities of urban inhabitants and standardise everyday city life is challenged by the unstoppable organic growth of illegal settlements In rapidly expanding cities issues of continuity with local traditions local conditions and local ways of working are juxtaposed with those of abrupt change due to emergency reaction to modernity environmental degradation global market forces and global technological imperatives to make efforts to control by physical planning redundant as soon as they are enacted In most third world cities there is little social welfare and almost no attempt at social housing The Cinema of Aki Kaurismäki Andrew Nestingen, 2013-06-25 Since 1983 Aki Kaurismäki has made classically styled films filled with cinephilic references to film history influencing Jim Jarmusch Quentin Tarantino and Wes Anderson Yet the director is often depicted as the loneliest most nostalgic of Finns except when promoting his films making political statements and running his many businesses Drawing on revisionist approaches to film authorship this text links Kaurismäki's work to issues in film aesthetics and history nostalgia late modernity commerce film festivals and national cinema Documentary Filmmaking in Contemporary Brazil Gustavo Procopio Furtado, 2019 This book examines the vibrant field of documentary filmmaking in Brazil from the transition to democracy in 1985 to the present Marked by significant efforts toward the democratization of Brazil's highly unequal society this period also witnessed the documentary's rise to unprecedented vitality in quantity quality and diversity of production which includes polished auteur films as well as rough hewn collaborative works films made in major metropolitan regions as well as in indigenous villages and in remote parts of the Amazon intimate first person documentaries as well as films that dive headfirst into struggles for social justice The transformations of Brazilian society and of filmmaking coalesce and become entangled in this cinema's preoccupation with archives Historically linked to the exercise and maintenance of power the concept of the archive is critical for the documentary as a cultural practice that preserves images from the present for the future unearths and repurposes visual materials from the past and is historically invested in filmic images as records of the real Contemporary films incorporate reflect on and rework a variety of archives such as documents produced by official institutions ethnographic images home movies and photo albums and engage not only with what is preserved but also with lacunas in the record and with alternate forms of remembering retrieving and transmitting the past Through its interaction with archives this book argues the contemporary documentary reflects on and intervenes in the distribution of
