Language Dominance in Bilinguals Carmen Silva-Corvalán, Jeanine Treffers-Daller, 2015-12-18 With contributions from leading scholars of bilingualism Language Dominance in Bilinguals is the first publication to survey different approaches to language dominance along with suggested avenues for further research It illustrates how a critical approach to the notion of language dominance as well as its operationalization and measurement can provide new insights into this burgeoning area of research Drawing on adult and child data from a variety of language pairs the chapters discuss how language dominance is to be conceptualized and distinguished from such related constructs as language proficiency and language competence This volume is the first of its kind to present an overview of different approaches to language dominance from across the theoretical spectrum as well as suggested avenues for further research Accessibly written Language Dominance in Bilinguals is a valuable new addition to the field and essential reading for students and scholars working in bilingualism speech therapy and education

Language Dominance in Bilinguals Jeanine Treffers-Daller, Carmen Silva-Corvalán, 2016 With contributions from an international team of leading experts this volume offers new ways to explore and measure language dominance

Bilingual Language Development: The Role of Dominance Cornelia Hamann, Esther Rinke, Dobrinka Genevska-Hanke, 2019-09-20 It has long been established that bilingual speakers are rarely balanced in their languages so that one language is dominant The contributions to the Research Topic Bilingual Language Development The Role of Dominance focus on the potential effects of language dominance on the competence and processing of bilinguals covering a large variety of language combinations and domains Important aspects of such work are the interplay of L1 maintenance attrition and possible L2 dominance the direction of cross linguistic influence CLI or code mixing as well as the effects of bilingualism on cognitive development each addressed in several contributions However such research presupposes a definition of dominance which is far from being settled This gives rise to considerable differences in the operationalization of the concept across studies The studies in this Research Topic present a multifaceted picture of the role of language dominance for L1 maintenance attrition L2 development and CLI Though a unified story cannot emerge for such a complex subject interesting new venues are explored including the impact of dominance shift during L1 re exposure comparisons of different types of bilingual groups or operationalization of dominance through experiential measures The variety of approaches and results is in part owed to the many language combinations studied and the fact that bilingual children adults and atypical speakers are investigated This diversity constitutes the interest of this Research Topic

Remote Online Language Assessment: Eliciting Discourse from Children and Adults Natalia Gagarina, Angel Chan, Wenchun Yang, 2024-08-20 Being able to collect valid data is crucial for empirical science disciplines such as linguistics developmental psycholinguistics clinical psycholinguistics and speech and hearing sciences In recent years there has been an increasing use of digital devices for remote language assessments such as online elicitation of language samples apps for eliciting expressive and productive lexical abilities and online questionnaires With the ongoing COVID 19 pandemic still affecting many lives globally there have been numerous disruptions of face to face in person language assessments leading many researchers to conduct their language assessments online Despite the necessity of remote language assessments and the convenience they may bring to both assessors and assessees the potential merits limits and problems of remote testing have not yet been systematically explored and understood This timely Research Topic seeks contributions that mobilize new evidence and or insightful and nuanced discussions to address questions such as can we control online testing so that it is as good as face to face in person testing and if so how Do we have evaluative evidence of such practices and if so how robust is the evidence What adaptations and concerns can and cannot be accommodated at the present time What opportunities are offered by recent technological advances Are there certain conditions in which online testing works better or worse Last but not least how do differences between offline in person language assessments and online remote assessments affect the results of testing The current topic has two main foci the first deals with the assessment of conversational discourse in general and narrative discourse in particular in both children and young adults Communicative competence at the discourse level has been considered an essential and ecologically valid component in language assessments of children and adults for three key reasons 1 this competence is crucial for an individual s everyday functioning and academic and social life 2 it provides information about an individual s socio cognitive and linguistic abilities and 3 it is a versatile test of language skills at the levels of content form use and their integration The second focus is on comparing the results elicited via in person assessments and remote online assessments This Research Topic welcomes empirical articles discussing new evidence perspective and opinion papers on issues at the conceptual methodological interface and methods articles presenting approaches that can offer opportunities for remote testing of developmental discourse supported by recent technological advances Potential themes may include but are not limited to comparisons of remote versus in person testing modes using a within participants research design learner variables such as age gender language status monolingual multilingual and clinical status typically developing children and adults children and adults with clinical conditions such as developmental language disorder autism spectrum disorder which may affect the efficacy of remote testing linguistic variables such as the use of referential and relational devices and mental state language which may be subject to more variations when being assessed remotely new methods that offer opportunities for the remote testing of developmental and adult discourse supported by recent technological advances articles addressing the same research question within developmental narrative discourse but using different i e either online or offline research methods

The Acquisition of Spanish in Understudied Language Pairings Tiffany Judy, Silvia Perpiñán, 2015-02-18 By examining the acquisition of Spanish in combination with languages other than English Arabic Basque Catalan Chinese Dutch Farsi French German Nahuatl Quechua Portuguese Swedish Turkish this volume advances novel data pertinent to the field's understanding of acquisition of Spanish in the XXI century Its crosslinguistic nature invites us to reconsider major theoretical questions such as the role of L1 transfer linguistic typology and onset of acquisition from a fresh perspective and to question the validity of the traditional parameter re setting perspective taken in SLA Additionally this volume underscores the necessity of providing accurate descriptions of the language pairings investigated emphasizing the interconnection between linguistic and SLA theory and pushing us to a more atomic view of the system in which features and feature bundles mapped onto lexical items comprise the skeleton of language This volume is of great relevance for researchers and students of SLA alike Syntax Processing Vicenç Torrens, 2021-07-27 This volume deals with research on the processing of a native language second language learning bilingualism typical and impaired syntax processing The articles presented here cover a number of linguistic phenomena including passives temporal concord object pronouns reflexives embedded sentences relative clauses wh movement and binding theory They also apply various experimental methods such as eye tracking reaction times event related potentials picture selection tasks sentence elicitation pupillometry and picture matching tasks As such this book details a number of the most representative methods used in language processing Modulators of Cross-Language Influences in Learning and Processing Anat Prior, Tamar Degani, Zofia Wodniecka, 2022-06-01 Research in Heritage Speaker Bilingualism Amelia Tseng, Charles B. Chang, Tania Leal, Jin Sook Lee, Belem G. López, 2025-07-31 Research in Heritage Speaker Bilingualism unites diverse methodological perspectives on heritage language research offering insights into key research questions experimental designs research techniques and instruments used to investigate heritage languages This ambitious volume covers a variety of linguistic affective social and educational perspectives all related to heritage language research Each chapter provides a state of the art overview of the topic under discussion with examples from a variety of heritage languages is written in a highly accessible way featuring activities and leads to further research literature Readers are guided through theoretical background research justification creation use and the possible outcomes of key research methods This exciting text is an invaluable resource for graduate as well as advanced undergraduate students in second language acquisition language learning and heritage languages Radicalizing Literacies and Linguaging Alexandra Babino, Mary Amanda Stewart, 2020-10-26 This book names and confounds the mono mainstream assumption that invisibly frames much research the ideologies that normalize monolingualism monoculturalism monoliteracy mononationalism and or monomodal ways of knowing In its place the authors propose multi and trans lenses of these phenomena steeped in a raciolinguistic perspective on Bourdieu s reflexive sociology to move toward a more accurate multidimensional view of racialized peoples literacy and language practices To achieve this they first engage in a comprehensive review of literacies linguaging and a critical sociocultural framework Then the distinct testimonios of four women underscore this framework in practice followed by action steps for research policy and pedagogy This book will be of particular interest to literacy and language education researchers Language Acquisition in Diverse Linguistic, Social and Cognitive Circumstances, volume II Maria Garraffa, Gary Morgan, Theodoros Marinis, Maria Teresa Guasti, 2023-10-10 The Next Phase in Heritage Language Studies: Methodological Considerations and Advancements Fatih Bayram, Maki Kubota, Sergio Miguel Pereira Soares, 2024-03-27 Over the past three decades studies investigating heritage speaker HS linguistic competencies have shown time and again that despite being L1 or 2L1 native speakers of their home language s HS outcomes display variation across a wide spectrum of differences as compared to each other other types of bilinguals as well as their monolingual peers

Studies have traditionally used mostly behavioral methodologies rooted in adjacent established fields e.g. L1 acquisition adult L2 acquisition offering in addition to documenting and describing HS performance important insights for linguistic theory and challenges related to home minority language maintenance contact policy and more. A birds eye view makes it clear that the methodologies one uses to tap into HSs linguistic knowledge areas if not more are important than the phenomena under investigation especially in light of how their unique experiences with their heritage and other languages are present across a continuum.

These studies in this book further elucidate the nature of phonetic interactions in the context of bilingualism and multilingualism and outline future directions in multilingual phonetics and phonology research.

Heritage Languages at the Crossroads: Cultural Contexts, Individual Differences, and Methodologies Brechje Antonet Van Osch, Alicia Luque, Jason Rothman, Selim Tiryakioğlu, Nadine Kolb, 2025-02-10 This Research Topic focuses on heritage languages at the crossroads by approaching heritage language bilingualism in an interdisciplinary way. A language qualifies as a heritage language if it is a minority language spoken at home in a majority language context. Any language can be the societal majority language in one context and the heritage language in another. While the number of empirical studies on language acquisition and processing in heritage language bilingualism has increased in recent years heritage language bilinguals are an understudied subgroup of bilinguals. When examined as adults heritage speaker bilinguals tend to show significant differences in their heritage language performance use and competence grammatical knowledge from one another. This variation is particularly unusual because heritage speakers like monolinguals are native speakers of the heritage language.

Bilingualism, Executive Function, and Beyond Irina A. Sekerina, Lauren Spradlin, Virginia Valian, 2019-06-15 The study of bilingualism has charted a dramatically new important and exciting course in the 21st century benefiting from the integration in cognitive science of theoretical linguistics psycholinguistics and cognitive psychology especially work on the higher level cognitive processes often called executive function or executive control. Current research as exemplified in this book advances the study of the effects of bilingualism on executive function by identifying many different ways of being bilingual exploring the multiple facets of executive function and developing and analyzing tasks that measure executive function. The papers in this volume 21 chapters by leading researchers in bilingualism and cognition investigate the mechanisms underlying the effects or lack thereof of bilingualism on cognition in children adults and the elderly They take us beyond the standard classical black and white approach to the interplay between bilingualism and cognition by presenting new methods new findings and new interpretations
