are meant to be funny And what might that have to do with our social and cultural backgrounds or with wider cultural ideas about film TV comedy quality and entertainment The book examines these questions through a study of audience responses posted to online facilities such as Twitter Facebook review sites blogs and message boards Bore s analysis of these responses considers a broad range of issues including how audiences perceive the idea of national comedy what they think of female comedians how they evaluate romcoms sitcoms and web comedy what they think is acceptable to joke about what comedy fans get excited about how fans interact with star comedians and what comedy viewers really despise The book demonstrates some of the ways in which we can adapt theories of humour and comedy to examine the practices of contemporary screen audiences while offering new insights into how they negotiate the opportunities and constrictions of different online facilities to share their views and experiences
