Negotiated Risks International Talks On Hazardous Issues:

Negotiated Risks Rudolf Avenhaus, Gunnar Sjöstedt, 2009-04-28 The International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis IIASA has had risk as a research topic on its agenda right from its inception in 1972 Risk has played a jor role in the Energy Program with research being carried out both in house and in cooperation with other international institutions like the International Atomic Energy Agency IAEA and national research centers Research areas were primarily the evaluation of all possible risks within one category of energy supply like nuclear fission or fusion or fossil fuels and even more important the comparison of risks of different energy supply strategies Later on an independent program was started which still exists today under the name Risk and Vulnerability There is a large amount of literature on risks to which IIASA's research programs have contributed significantly over the years and there is of course an abundance of published work on international negotiations part of which is a result of the work of the Processes of International Negotiation PIN Program There are however so far no studies on the combination of these two strands Therefore and as research on both topics is housed at IIASA we are happy that our PIN Program has undertaken the difficult and important task of analyzing what the editors of this book have called negotiated risks

Arab Spring I. William Zartman, 2015 Beginning in January 2011 the Arab world exploded in a vibrant demand for dignity liberty and achievable purpose in life rising up against an image and tradition of arrogant corrupt unresponsive authoritarian rule These previously unpublished country-specific case studies of the uprisings and their still unfolding political aftermaths identify patterns and courses of negotiation and explain why and how they occur The contributors argue that in uprisings like the Arab Spring negotiation is not just a nice practice or a diplomatic exercise Rather it is a dynamically multilevel process involving individuals groups and states with continually shifting priorities and with the prospect of violence always near From that perspective the essays analyze a range of issues and events including civil disobedience and strikes mass demonstrations and nonviolent protest and peaceful negotiation and armed rebellion and contextualize their findings within previous struggles both within and outside the Middle East The Arab countries discussed include Algeria Bahrain Egypt Libya Morocco Syria Tunisia and Yemen The Arab Spring uprisings are discussed in the context of rebellions in countries like South Africa and Serbia while the Libyan uprising is also viewed in terms of the negotiations it provoked within NATO Collectively the essays analyze the challenges of uprisers and emerging governments in building a new state on the ruins of a liberated state the negotiations that lead either to sustainable democracy or sectarian violence and coalition building between former political and military adversaries Contributors Samir Aita Monde Diplomatique Alice Alunni Durham University Marc Anstey Nelson Mandela University Abdelwahab ben Hafaiedh MERC Maarten Danckaert European Bahraini Organization for Human Rights Heba Ezzat Cairo University Amy Hamblin SAIS Abdullah Hamidaddin King's College Fen Hampson Carleton University Roel Meijer Clingendael Karim Mezran Atlantic Council Bessma Momani Waterloo University Samiraital Pres Cercle des Economistes Arabes Aly el Raggal Cairo University

Preventing Deadly Conflict I. William Zartman, 2015-10-29 Conflict is inherent to all human and inter state relations but it is not inevitable Since the end of the Cold War the prevention of conflict escalation into violence through management and resolution has become a fundamental objective of the international system So how does prevention work when it works and what can be done when tried and tested practices fail In this book I William Zartman offers a clear and authoritative guide to the key challenges of conflict prevention and the norms processes and methods used to dampen and diffuse inter and intra state conflict in the contemporary world Early stage techniques including awareness de escalation stalemate ripening and resolution are explored in full alongside the late or crisis stage techniques of interruption separation and integration Prevention he argues is a battle that is never won there is always more work to be done The search for prevention necessary but still imperfect continues into new imperatives new mechanisms new agents and new knowledge which this book helps discover and apply

Green Activism in Post-Socialist Europe and the Former Soviet Union Adam Fagan,JoAnn Carmin,2014-06-11 Green activism played a critical role in the downfall of Soviet style communism in Eastern Europe at the end of the 1980s After the revolutions environmentalists were expected to exert influence within the new democracies and to form the bedrock of the new civil societies that were predicted to flourish across the region the prospect of EU membership provided activist networks with even greater optimism about their political opportunities Two decades later what has been the impact of political and economic liberalisation on environmental campaigners and policy advocates Has access to elites increased with democratisation and Europeanization To what extent does the realm of environmental politics within individual states and across the region continue to represent an optic on change and continuity Through country case studies and comparative analysis of national movements this edited volume addresses each of these questions and provides a different perspective of green politics in the region This book was previously published as a special issue of Environmental Politics

Euratom at the Crossroads Anna Södersten,2018-03-30 This book addresses the contentious debate surrounding the future of the European Atomic Energy Community Treaty Euratom one of the European Union s founding treaties Arguing that it has remained at a crossroads since its adoption in 1957 Anna S dersten explores the issue of whether the treaty should be kept separate from the EU or be brought within its framework

The Slippery Slope to Genocide Mark Anstey,I. William Zartman,Paul Meerts,2012-01-17 In this volume noted thinkers and practitioners of conflict management present ideas on how to prevent identity issues from causing fear and escalating into genocide They focus on measures for handling the internal dynamics of parties facing identity conflicts as well as considerations for arranging external assistance

Revisiting the "Ripeness" Debate Tetsuro Iji,Siniša Vuković,2022-08-22 This book takes stock of the accumulated body of literature on ripeness theory inspired by the seminal work of I William Zartman The book posits the continued relevance of the ripeness theory well into the 21st century and sheds new light on the potential for further development The timing of efforts for resolution either negotiation or mediation is always a central concern for policy makers and scholars alike in the field of international conflict resolution The work of I William Zartman on ripeness was a groundbreaker in the long standing inquiry into this key question and over more than three decades the notion of a ripe moment and its adjuncts such as a mutually hurting stalemate and a mutually enticing opportunity has not only served as an essential policy guidance but also inspired wide ranging research programs The chapters in this edited volume feature studies intended to advance ripeness theory conceptually test it empirically through case studies for possible implications to the theory itself or examine relations with related concepts and theories This volume is divided into two parts The Foreword and the chapters included in Part I were originally published as a special issue of the journal Ethnopolitics Part II features first and foremost Zartman's own seminal article published in the inaugural issue of the same journal It also includes other recently published articles in journals such as Security Studies Civil Wars and Studies in Conflict Terrorism that are considered to have made important contributions to the debate on the subject

This edited volume addresses the important issue of negotiating with terrorists and offers recommendations for best practice and processes Hostage negotiation is the process of trying to align two often completely polarised parties Authorities view hostage taking as unacceptable demands made by unacceptable means However terrorists view their actions as completely justified even on moral and religious grounds If they are to try and reconcile these two sides it is essential for hostage negotiators to understand terrorist culture the hostage takers profiles their personality their view of the world and also the authorities their values and their framing of the problem raised by the taking of hostages Although not advocating negotiating with terrorists the volume seeks to analyse when why and how it is done Part I deals with the theory and quantifiable data produced from analysis of hostage situations while Part II explores several high profile case studies and the lessons that can be learnt from them This volume will be of great interest to students of terrorism studies conflict management negotiation security studies and IR in general I William Zartman is the Jacob Blaustein Distinguished Professor Emeritus of International Organization and Conflict Resolution and former Director of the Conflict Management and African Studies Programs at the Paul H Nitze School of Advanced International Studies Johns Hopkins University Washington DC He is a member of the Steering Committee of the Processes of International Negotiation PIN Program at the International Institute of Applied Systems Analysis IIASA in Laxenburg Austria He is author editor of over 20 books on negotiation conflict and mediation Guy Olivier Faure is Professor of Sociology at the Sorbonne University Paris I and a member of the Steering Committee of the Processes of International Negotiation PIN Program at the International Institute of Applied Systems Analysis IIASA in Laxenburg Austria He has served as an advisor to French government on hostage negotiations

Rethinking Conflict Resolution and Management I. W. Zartman, Siniša Vuković, 2023-02-14 Rethinking and revising the established knowledge and practice of conflict resolution and management this innovative book brings together complementary perspectives to consider what novel approaches to conflict need to be invented after the collapse of the World Order

limps along without the participation of the US and Australia on going climate negotiations are plagued by competing national and business interests that are creating stumbling blocks to success Climate Change Negotiations A Guide to Resolving Disputes and Facilitating Multilateral Cooperation asks how these persistent obstacles can be down scaled approaching them from five professional perspectives a top policy maker a senior negotiator a leading scientist an international lawyer and a sociologist who is observing the process The authors identify the major problems including great power strategies the EU the US and Russia leadership the role of NGOs capacity and knowledge building airline industry emissions insurance and risk transfer instruments problems of cost benefit analysis the IPCC in the post Kyoto situation and verification and institutional design A new key concept is introduced strategic facilitation Strategic facilitation has a long time frame a forward looking orientation and aims to support the overall negotiation process rather than individual actors This book is aimed at academics university students and practitioners who are directly or indirectly engaged in the international climate negotiation as policy makers diplomats or experts Banning the Bang or the Bomb? Mordechai Melamud, Paul Meerts, I. William Zartman, 2014-04-17 The Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty CTBT negotiated between 1994 and 1996 is the latest development in the nuclear arms control regime It continues to serve a vital role in preserving the privileged status of the nuclear weapons states and barring the way to proliferation Banning the Bang or the Bomb brings together a team of leading international experts who together analyse its negotiation as a model of regime creation examining collective dynamics the behaviour of individual countries and the nature of specific issues The book offers practical guidance and training for members of the Comprehensive Nuclear Test Ban Treaty Organization future inspectorate to help negotiate their way during an on site inspection OSI in an inspected state This is a valuable resource for researchers and professionals alike that turns an analysis of what has happened into a manual for what is about to happen Africa in World Politics John W Harbeson, Donald Rothchild, 2018-04-24 The sixth edition of Africa in World Politics focuses on challenges African states face in constructing viable political economies in contexts both of familiar domestic challenges and an unprecedented mix of engagements opportunities and threats emanating from a turbulent and rapidly changing international order This text including new chapters on Nigeria and the influence of party politics on economic development remains an invaluable resource for students of African politics seeking to navigate the continent s complex political and economic landscapes Revised chapters consider both the extent and the limits of continued healthy growth rates in many countries the impacts of investments by China and other BRICS countries plateaus and some reversals in progress on human rights and democratization dimensions of chronic state weakness deepened by insurgencies including some that are connected to Al Qaeda and the Islamic State and peacebuilding efforts struggling to uphold responsible sovereignty in the Sudans the Great Lakes region and elsewhere Unfinished Business Guy Olivier Faure, 2012-08-01 Most studies of international negotiations take successful talks as their subject With a few notable exceptions analysts have paid little attention to negotiations ending in failure The essays in Unfinished Business show that as much if not more can be learned from failed negotiations as from successful negotiations with mediocre outcomes Failure in this study pertains to a set of negotiating sessions that were convened for the purpose of achieving an agreement but instead broke up in continued disagreement Seven case studies compose the first part of this volume the United Nations negotiations on Iraq the Middle East Peace Summit at Camp David in 2000 Iran European Union negotiations the Cyprus conflict the Biological Weapons Convention the London Conference of 1830-33 on the status of Belgium and two hostage negotiations Waco and the Munich Olympics These case studies provide examples of different types of failed negotiations bilateral multilateral and mediated or trilateral The second part of the book analyzes empirical findings from the case studies as causes of failure falling in four categories actors structure strategy and process This is an analytical framework recommended by the Processes of International Negotiation arguably the leading society dedicated to research in this area The last section of Unfinished Business contains two summarizing chapters that provide broader conclusions lessons for theory and lessons for practice
