Negotiating Critical Literacies with Teachers Vivian Maria Vasquez, Stacie L. Tate, Jerome C. Harste, 2013 How can teacher educators engage pre service and in service teachers in learning about and framing their teaching from a critical literacy perspective What does this mean Why is it important To address these questions this book offers a theoretical framework and detailed examples pedagogical resources and insights into ways to build critical literacies with teachers in and out of school Its unique contribution is to bridge critical literacy theory and teacher education Participants in teacher education programs and professional development settings are often reminded of the need to build curriculum using children's inquiry questions, passions and interests but generally this message is delivered only through telling lectures or showing examples from other people's classrooms. This book advances critical literacy by explaining and illustrating how teacher educators can do much more by creating opportunities for pre-service and in-service teachers to live critical literacies through experiencing firsthand what it is like to be a learner where the curriculum is built around teachers' own inquiry questions, passions and interests.

Technology and Critical Literacy in Early Childhood Vivian Maria Vasquez, Bryan Woods, Carol Branigan Felderman, 2022-05-05. Now in its second edition, this popular text explores classrooms where technology and critical literacies are woven into childhood curricula and teaching. Using real-world stories, it addresses what ICTs afford critical literacy with young children and how new technologies can be positioned to engage in meaningful and authentic learning. Concise but comprehensive, the text provides strategies, theoretical frameworks, demonstrations of practice, and resources for teachers. Updated with discussions of media literacy and new pedagogical tools, the second edition features new classroom examples and experiences that highlight the ways in which critical literacy, technology, and media literacy come together in everyday life in the early childhood classroom. The inviting examples model how to use the interests and inquiry questions of young learners as a springboard for creating a critical curriculum. Each chapter includes Reflection Points, pedagogical invitations, and Resource Boxes to imagine new possibilities of working with students in engaging and supportive ways. The inspiring stories, guidance, and tools this book makes it a great resource for pre-service teachers and students in Early Childhood Education and Literacy Education, and primary teachers and educators.

Coaching in Communities Melissa Mosley Wetzels, Kerry H. Alexander, Claire Collins, 2023-05-30. A revolutionary framework for teacher learning centered on justice-focused coaching that encourages culturally responsive practice and disrupts systems of oppression. In Coaching in Communities, researcher Melissa Mosley Wetzels and her coauthors distill the lessons of an eight-year study into a transformative educator training model. Coaching with CARE: critical and content-focused, appreciative, reflective, and experiential. They demonstrate how effective contextual teacher training can be a cornerstone of educational justice, which occurs when all learners are supported to be successful in school and when schools expand notions of success to include diverse ways of life and learning. The authors show how this new framework, which draws from behavioral, cognitive, humanistic, and critical models of coaching, can be used in professional and informal learning contexts and in dialogue with families and communities to upend the status quo, break down the expert-novice distinction, and cultivate just forms of practice. As they note, the work of justice is collaborative, sustained engagement in resistance to marginalization, racism, and other inequities. Coaching in Communities presents a set of tools, including shared inquiry and coaching cycles of observation, reflection, and debriefing, and demonstrates how they work in real-life settings. With these tools, teacher education programs as well as districts, schools, and other organizations can train for change, which is one essential step in school transformation.

Recontextualizing Humor Villy Tsakona, 2020-02-10. Humor may surface in numerous and diverse contexts which at the same time determine how humor works its form and its functions and consequences for interlocutors Adopting a sociolinguistic and discourse analytic perspective this study is aligned with approaches to humor exploring the variety of humorous genres the wide range of sociopragmatic functions of humor and the more or less dissimilar perceptions speakers may have concerning what humor is what it means and how it works The chapters of this book propose a new theoretical approach to the analysis of humor by bringing context into focus Furthermore the study explores how we can teach about humor within a critical literacy framework creating classroom space for everyday humorous texts that are part of students social realities and simultaneously taking into account that humor may yield multiple disparaging and often conflicting interpretations This book is intended to appeal to humor researchers from various disciplines such as linguistics media studies cultural studies literary studies sociology anthropology folklore as well as to professionals or researchers in education
