, 1987 The Solar System Beyond Neptune M. Antonietta Barucci, 2008 A new frontier in our solar system opened with the discovery of the Kuiper Belt and the extensive population of icy bodies orbiting beyond Neptune Today the study of all of these bodies collectively referred to as trans Neptunian objects reveals them to be frozen time capsules from the earliest epochs of solar system formation This new volume in the Space Science Series with one hundred contributing authors offers the most detailed and up to date picture of our solar system s farthest frontier Our understanding of trans Neptunian objects is rapidly evolving and currently constitutes one of the most active research fields in planetary sciences The Solar System Beyond Neptune brings the reader to the forefront of our current understanding and points the way to further advancement in the field making it an indispensable resource for researchers and students in planetary science Hijacked on a Moon Trek: Saturn Night Fever Diane Vallere, 2018-09-18 Enjoy this humorous outer space mystery adventure with uniform lieutenant Sylvia Stryker and a supporting cast of quirky aliens by national bestselling author Diane Vallere Sylvia Stryker has found her footing in the Moon Unit Corporation but it ll take more than fancy dance moves for this amateur sleuth to stay alive on this hilarious rescue mission in space from national bestselling author Diane Vallere Space sleuth Sylvia Stryker wants more from her day job aboard a Moon Unit than to manage crew uniforms In her time between moon treks she turns to hunky hero Neptune for lessons in security training But when a hijacked space pod lands by their training site and the body of an intergalactic courier is discovered inside Sylvia s newly acquired skills are put to the test The courier was a friend who shared her interest in back channel business and his death seems like a message or worse a warning Determined to seek justice Sylvia and Neptune assemble a team But there s more to this trek through the stars than expected including fifty rambunctious aliens accidentally beamed aboard the ship some very nasty space pirates and one suspicious member of the staff who thought the recruitment message was a call of duty Now Sylvia s on a quest to catch a killer but if she fails she could wipe out an entire alien race in the process Hijacked on a Moon Trek is the hilarious third novel featuring uniform lieutenant Sylvia Stryker If you like humorous mysteries unique characters and spacey fun or read favorites like Joann Fluke or Dakota Cassidy you ll love Diane Vallere s entertaining interstellar series Previously published as SATURN NIGHT FEVER What a fun unique and intriguing story Love the inside joke about red shirts That and the laser cat Lol Thank you for such an entertaining read Reader I am pleased to say that after finishing the third book in the series the enchanting mind of author Diane Vallere continues to charm and come up with even more new fun and adventures around every corner Reader CHAPTER ONE EXCERPT When Neptune said I fought like a girl I did the only respectable thing I hit him That s not to say it s a good idea for dropouts from the space academy to strike their newly appointed superiors but in this case he deserved it In the two versions of the story that will be told of the incident at least one will contain the fact that technically I was in training Technically the only reason we were on the helipad on the corner of Neptune s property was because the helipad was a convenient place to practice Technically I was being paid a small sponsorship fee to test the durability of new uniforms designed for Moon Unit Corporation and technically the only way I could fully know if the uniforms were durable were to see how they held up when I threw a punch Neptune s version might include slight variations In case you haven t noticed I am a girl I said Neptune was bigger older and more experienced than I was and he probably had more important things to do than spend the day teaching me defensive maneuvers But never graduating had left me with relatively few channels to advance my learning After Moon Unit 6 returned from Venus Neptune contacted me via the comm device implanted in my ear and offered me free room and board in exchange for lessons to pick up where my interrupted education had left off I d dropped out when my dad was arrested so I could help my mom with the family dry ice mines Neptune s offer to teach me gave us both something of value I d accepted more for me than for him I m selfish that way You know why you were almost incapacitated on our last moon trek he asked Because you dropped your guard You thought size and skill were enough to beat your enemy You fought fair You fought like a woman Oh so now I m a woman I countered I grew up fast It wasn t that Neptune treated me like a girl or a woman He treated me like a student And most of the time I was okay with that But the voice in my head that I didn t want to listen to wondered why someone like Neptune spent time training someone like me It was a voice that hadn t had much to question since my dad was arrested Any attention paid to me usually had strings attached Retribution for my dad s crimes or the novelty of my half Plunian background in a world where lavender women were now rare More than once I d fended off advances when I saw where they were headed I developed a thick skin and narrowed my social circle to a very tight group But despite the fact that Neptune was a muscular wall of taciturn authority or maybe because of it I was attracted to him I doubted it was the black military issue cargo gear he wore did he buy his clothes in bulk or the intimidating stance he d perfected long before I met him arms crossed feet shoulder width apart I d never been attracted to men in power in fact power was a pretty tried and true turn off I didn t know what it was about Neptune that made my lavender skin glow at the least opportune times I only knew it was important to me to prove to him that I was different Today different meant throwing a non girly punch He grabbed my wrist and closed my fingers into a fist His hand was twice the size of mine tawny against my lavender coloring You have to toughen up Stryker You re smart and you learn information fast but instincts don t come from a book I learned how to fight by an accredited Hapkido master Or have you already forgotten that I dropped you with a sweeping kick because you underestimated me He let go of my fist and pointed at me Don t let that go to your head Success is built on failure If you learn anything from these lessons learn that Failure is your friend I thought failure wasn t an option The flight director of Earth s space shuttle program said it right His biography was required reading You didn t read the book That s a made up quote from a movie script The flight director liked the line so much he used it for the title of his biography Lesson number two check your source I thought you knew that by now I didn't tell Neptune that I hadn't read the book because the course took place after I dropped out I'm pretty sure lesson number three was to keep your weaknesses to yourself Repeat it back to me Blah blah check your source Repeat what I told you about failure Failure is my friend Remember that He turned around and walked a few feet away from me and then turned back If you think you can fight because you dropped me once then you'll get complacent Don't forget what happened the last time you got complacent How could I forget I almost died It didn't help that the fight had been four against one or that my oxygen supply had been cut off rendering me helpless My opponents knew my weakness and used it against me Nothing fair about it I didn't want to admit it but Neptune was right I'd falsely assumed I could defend myself without too much effort and my false sense of confidence had worked against me Go again he said He bent his knees slightly and prepared for my attack I swung my arms forward and backward giant half circles to limber up my shoulders and felt a seam tear Hold on Uniform malfunction Moon Unit Corporation thinks they can cut corners by using a different supplier but the last six uniforms I tested fell apart Where Shoulder Turn around I turned and pointed to where I'd felt the split What am I supposed to tell them this time Looks good but you can't throw a girly punch I felt Neptune tug the split fabric together Even though I wasn't looking at him just the graze of his fingertips against my shoulder blade made me flush Why are you wasting your time with uniforms Someday the name Sylvia Stryker will be synonymous with space uniforms After our trip to Venus the publicity company who planned the hype around the Moon Units contacted me to wear test their prototypes It's a little cash on the side between treks and all things considered I can use the money I can't crash here forever I knew Neptune wouldn't pursue the conversation He understood my predicament no planet no family no home He was with me the night space pirates destroyed everything I'd ever known The only reason I agreed to train with him was because there's a certain security in spending time with someone who prioritized silence over small talk I could learn a lot from Neptune and I knew it He could learn from me too I wasn't sure he knew that Yet Neptune's loner lifestyle suited him but I was glad that he begrudgingly allowed me to coexist on his property Not one to mooch I made sure to bring what I could to the table Enter Mattix Dusk space courier and my Hapkido instructor who traveled between the thirteen colonies under Federation Control to pick up and deliver anything that needed to be picked up or delivered I introduced the two men and they worked out a mutually acceptable deal Mattix had use of the helipad and a place to crash while on the Kuiper Belt Neptune had access to Mattix's courier contacts and suppliers And for the foreseeable future I had not one but two mentors who could further my education Where Neptune was tall tawny and solid muscle Mattix looked like a piece of worn leather in loose fitting castoff clothes Tanned skin bleached hair worn in a ponytail and ragamuffin clothes suited him His job as courier put him in front of shady characters and he passed along his two most important pieces of advice look like you have less than the other guy and learn to take care of yourself Whatever direction my lesson was supposed to go was interrupted by a swiftly approaching space pod I looked at the sky and watched it glide toward us It was the Dusk Driver the space pod that belonged to Mattix I smiled and waved while backing up so he could land As his space pod drew closer alarm bells rang out from the nearby towers His speed was too fast He was going to crash And if I didn't get out of the way I'd burn up in the wreckage Neptune reached the same conclusion before I did How do I know When I tore my attention from the incoming space pod to tell Neptune something was wrong I saw him charge toward me The impact knocked me to the ground Either Neptune knew what was happening and wanted to save me or he was trying to make a point From the bank of dirt alongside the helipad the space pod jerked to a halt and then hovered two feet above the ground Mattix knew better than to approach at the speed he had but he'd compensated for the potential accident by activating the ship's invisible buffer a two foot bumper of static electricity that kept the exterior from contacting another surface It operated much the same way as two magnets held in close proximity The dueling forcefields pushed away from each other making it impossible to touch Mattix wouldn't have activated the buffer shield unless something was wrong I scrambled to my feet and keeping my center of gravity low approached the space pod Mattix wouldn't allow anyone else to navigate the ship without reason which made what I saw even scarier The ship was being flown on autopilot _____

Everything changes when the uniform lieutenant position on Moon Unit 6 opens up days before departure Sylvia immediately puts her hacking skills to use uploading bogus credentials onto the crew manifest Now to just lay low do her job and impress the new boss Her plan goes off without a hitch until a non celestial body falls from the uniform inventory closet after departure Reporting it means drawing attention the very opposite of laying low When the head of security shows up to investigate and throws her into the spaceship holding cell her onboard status shifts from staff to prisoner If Sylvia can t expose the killer herself she ll be bunking with her dad at the local space prison National bestselling author Diane Vallere sends you out of this world alongside the uniform lieutenant on an intergalactic cruise with and a dead body and plenty of suspects What readers are saying I really enjoyed this mixture of science fiction and cozy mystery I loved how Vallere combined science fiction mystery drama and humor making this book very enjoyable and hard to put down I gave it a try simply because the author was Diane Vallere I m so glad I did Just as you would expect this is a totally FUN murder mystery that doesn t disappoint It s like Sherlock Holmes in space but better I loved this mystery set in space It is a murder mystery It is a spy story It is a futuristic science fiction story It is pure genius and entertaining from start to finish It s as if Star Trek married a cozy very well done Read and enjoy It s not easy being purple especially when you re trapped on a spaceship with people who want to arrest you for a crime you didn t commit and the one who did Murder on a Moon Trek is the quirky first novel featuring uniform lieutenant Sylvia Stryker If you like unique characters delightful plots and cool futuristic fashion you ll love Diane Vallere s entertaining interstellar series Previously published as FLY ME TO THE MOON Is it a cozy mystery set in space or an outer space with a cozy mystery You decide CHAPTER ONE EXCERPT When Moon Unit 5 kicked off its inaugural trip from my home planet of Plunia I expected the uniform closet to be stuffed to capacity I just hadn t expected it to be stuffed with a body But here we were light years from the space station where we d departed and instead of a closet of freshly laundered uniforms I had a dead man No matter how thoroughly I d planned for today I never could have planned for this Maybe he wasn t dead Maybe he was tired Maybe he d had a late night partying before today s departure and crawled into my uniform closet to take a nap As unlikely as that explanation was I wasn t yet willing to accept the more probable reality I knelt next to him and checked for a pulse on the side of his neck His skin was cold to the touch which was either due to his not alive state or the twenty degree difference between earthling temperatures his and Plunian temperatures mine In this case it was both No pulse no breathing A Code Blue Moon Unit Corporation ran a fleet of cruise spaceships whose mission was to provide relaxing getaways to one of our galaxy s moons Ever since I d learned they were reopening after years of inactivity I d fantasized about working for them The fact that I d hacked my records into their system was a minor technicality My job was to manage the uniforms during the moon trek and as long as I did my job and avoided ship security my fantasy would become a reality But this was bigger than managing uniforms Regardless of the risks to me I had to contact the bridge I could send a general message over the staff communication network I stepped away from the pile of spilled uniforms and shifted to the computer that sat above the console in the middle of the room. It was standard issue: a flat black folio with colorful buttons and a low definition screen. Only the top members of the ship and paying passengers were given high def equipment. For the rest of us, it was the bare minimum. Moon Unit Corporation's way of making sure distractions didn't surround us. To the right side of the computer was a clear plastic dome that protected a shiny red button that, despite learning about during emergency protocol training, I'd hoped never to have to use. This was a button message. I flipped the dome up and pressed the button. Uniform Ward to the bridge, Lieutenant Sylvia Stryker, reporting. There's a situation in my ward. What kind of situation? asked a female voice. It sounded like my immediate supervisor, Yeoman D. Nar. There was no official reason for her to be on the bridge during departure, but senior officers of the ship were given an open invitation to witness the launch. With Captain Swift, D. Nar was exactly the type to insert herself where she wasn't wanted. I'm pretty sure it's a Code Blue. Pretty sure I was completely sure. There was no doubt I was looking at a Code Blue. Don't be reckless. A Code Blue is serious. I think you made a mistake. I bristled at her accusation but kept my voice in check. It's not a mistake. I memorized the codes last night. I don't think you have a Code Blue. Check the BOP and report in as applicable. The BOP Book of Protocols was a 237 page manual that outlined the proper method for handling everything from hydrating vacuum packed meals to subordination expectations between low level officers and high ranking ones. Every ship in the galaxy had a BOP. Crew members were expected to know the rules and regulations of the ship, but the BOP existed as a backup when something unexpected happened. I picked up a small hand mirror from the nearby uniform alterations station and held it in front of the officer's mouth. No condensation. Code Blue, alright. I hadn't been lying about having memorized the list of codes from the BOP. I'd bought a used copy of an old Book of Protocols from the black market and studied it from cover to cover. No doubt it was outdated. The Moon Units 1-3 had had their share of trouble, and the problems with the Moon Unit 4 were still classified, but I had to start somewhere. I flipped through the pages of the Moon Unit 5 BOP looking for an updated list of warning codes. Because my knowledge had come from the old BOP, I'd created a finding tool, a cross reference of everything in the old manual and where to find it in the new one. I'd also had a copy of the BOP made and organized it the way I would if I were in charge of ship security. Someday I would be. When people stopped judging me by what my dad had done before they arrested him and took him away. But today wasn't someday, and even though the bridge blew off my call, I still had a problem that had nothing to do with uniform management. I studied the deceased officer. Who was he? A quick assessment of his uniform indicated his position and rank: red shirt, two bands circling his cuff, standard issue black pants and gravity boots. Second navigation officer of Moon Unit 5. There were no visible wounds to indicate how he'd died. He wasn't wearing an air purification helmet like I was, so I disconnected my inhalation tube from the oxygen tank under my uniform, held the tube in front of his mouth, and sniffed. Cherries and menthol. I reconnected the tube and then put my hand under his chin and opened his mouth wide. His tongue had a stripe of bright red down the middle, like he'd been sucking on a throat lozenge. It was common practice among crew members during takeoff because frequent swallowing kept ears from plugging up What are you doing said a voice behind me I turned my head and bumped my protective fiberglass bubble helmet on the closet door My helmet bounced off the surface I blinked a few times and then looked up Uh oh Even if I d been face to face with the man in the uniform ward he would have towered over me He had a bald head and dark pointed eyebrows that shielded dark eyes Long straight nose and lips that were drawn in a line and turned down on the sides His arms crossed in front of his body and his biceps bulged below the hem of the short sleeves of his dark blue jumpsuit My mind flashed over a series of facts and images I d memorized before my official first day and I reached one conclusion This man was from the maintenance crew My know it all boss must have told him I called in the wrong code and sent him here to clean up whatever mess I d caused I m Sylvia Stryker I spoke with Yeoman D Nar about a Code Blue Did she send you He looked over my shoulder at the body Move he said I stood quickly The action triggered a bout of vertigo I put my hand on my counter just behind where I d left the open Book of Protocols Yikes If this guy saw that I d torn apart and rearranged the protocol manual he d report me to ship security without a second thought I moved a few inches to the left and turned around to block his view of the counter They must have notified you You re with maintenance right His expression didn t change I haven t heard anything about a Code Blue Oh I looked over my shoulder to where I d moved the body Maybe the bridge was busy with takeoff Unlike my uniform the muscular man s didn t have the Moon Unit insignia a silver number 5 surrounded by circles on their axis like the rings around Saturn all contained in an orange patch edged in black thread It was the same insignia on my ID card and woven into the carpet in the employee lounge and on the cover of the BOP and every single uniform in the inventory closet But it wasn t on him Still the deceased officer deserved to be in a more honorable location than the inventory closet and I needed help moving him But since there was the tiniest chance that ship security would uncover the fact that I hadn t indeed been hired through proper channels and might be viewed as a stowaway on board the ship I d planned to lay low until we d cleared the breakaway point in our moon trek Maybe Yeoman D Nar s lack of urgency was a blessing in disguise He s dead I said How I don t know He was inside the uniform closet when I got here I checked for a pulse but couldn t find it You need to notify the bridge Well duh I said I probably know the ship protocols better than you do I contacted the bridge and told Yeoman D Nar I had a Code Blue but she didn t believe me I looked at the body over the large man s shoulder Can you help me move him I have to prep for departure and I can t do that while he s blocking my inventory The man s back was to me but he turned his head to the side so I could see his profile His eyebrow raised again He slipped his arms under the officer s neck and knees and then stood up and lifted him like he was lifting a bag of potatoes Plunia was filled with potato farms and when I wasn t working in the ice mines with my mom I d often played in the potato fields I was pretty sure Plunian potatoes weighed a lot less than the second nav officer The maintenance man set the body on the reclining bench alongside the inside wall of the uniform ward He draped a dressing gown over him covering his face and red shirt The dressing gown was only so long though so the officer's bottom half still showed Your ward is off limits the maintenance man said No I said I mean this is my job on the ship I expect today to be slow because everybody is probably wearing their best uniform but still if I don't open the uniform ward the crew will ask questions Do you have something to hide he asked I crossed my arms over my magenta uniform You ask a lot of questions for a janitor He seemed surprised and then his lips pressed together and the corners of his mouth turned up Why do you think I'm the janitor I don't recognize your uniform and I know all the different ones on the ship The only people on the ship wearing uniforms that don't come from my ward are the janitorial crew The cabin doors swished open and a man in gray walked in Neptune Captain Swift is waiting for you in engineering He says the crack isn't sealed Neptune I asked I looked back and forth between the new guy and the one who'd been asking all the questions I thought Neptune was the head of Moon Unit security division I am the original man said Oh no I'd heard about Neptune He was the one person I'd been hoping to avoid For fans of Star Trek Star Wars Dune UFO The Orville Galaxy Quest Lost in Space and The Jetsons who also like Hallmark Mysteries Diane Fans describe her vintage Vallere goodness and say she is a great storyteller with a way with creating strong female characters and intrigue who is a superb and very humorous writer Her gift of creating spunky sleuths in fun settings take readers to Dallas Palm Springs Los Angeles Pennsylvania and outer space
