The Foreign Political Press in Nineteenth-Century London Constance Bantman, Ana Cláudia Suriani da Silva, 2017-12-14 In a period of turmoil when European and international politics were in constant reshaping immigrants and political exiles living in London set up periodicals which contributed actively to national and international political debates Reflecting an interdisciplinary and international discussion this book offers a rare long term specialist perspective into the cosmopolitan and multilingual world of the foreign political press in London with an emphasis on periodicals published in European languages It furthers current research into political exile the role of print culture and personal networks as intercultural agents and the dynamics of transnational political and cultural exchange in global capitals Individual chapters deal with Brazilian French German Indian Italian Portuguese Spanish Spanish American and Russian periodicals Overarching themes include a historical survey of foreign political groups present in London throughout the long 19th century and the causes and movements they championed analyses of the press in local and transnational contexts and a focus on its actors and on the material conditions in which this press was created and disseminated The Foreign Political Press in Nineteenth Century London is a useful volume for students and academics with an interest in 19th century politics or the history of the press

Cinéma&Cie 28 Ilaria A. De Pascalis, 2018-12-14 T00:00:00+01:00 Who is the Subaltern in the current global frame Has neoliberalism changed the experience of subalternity How do subalterns write history and what kind of history is written about subalternity Cin ma Cie s special issue addresses these and other questions through various theoretical approaches The essays argue for the importance of a multidisciplinary perspective and address issues of media representation from a variety of perspectives such as visual culture history philosophy and postcolonialism They focus on contemporary subalternity and especially on the migrant characterized by diaspora and condemned to invisibility by hegemonic power and the postcolonial subaltern who has now the possibility to express her himself in unexpected ways in particular by using new media The scattering and pervasiveness of media devices and gazes is discussed in depth in these essays which delve into the dialectic between subaltern cultures and agency embodied in the subjects of representation

Postcolonialism: A Guide for the Perplexed Pramod K. Nayar, 2010-10-21 Postcolonialism as a critical approach and pedagogic practice has informed literary and cultural studies since the late 1980s The term is heavily loaded and has come to mean a wide and often bewildering variety of approaches methods politics and ideas Beginning with the historical origins of postcolonial thought in the writings of Gandhi Cesaire and Fanon this guide moves on to Edward Said s articulation into a critical approach and finally to postcolonialism s multiple forms in contemporary critical thinking including theorists such as Bhabha Spivak Arif Dirlik and Aijaz Ahmed Written in jargon free language and illustrated with examples from literary and cultural texts this book addresses the many concerns forms and specializations of postcolonialism including gender and sexuality studies the nations and nationalism space and place history and politics It explains the key ideas concepts and approaches in what is arguably the most influential and politically edged critical approach in literary and cultural theory today

The Postcolonial Aura Arif Dirlik, 2018-02-20 The essays in this volume range from questions of cultural self representation in China to more general problems of reconceptualizing global relationships in response to contemporary changes Although the new era of global capitalism calls for the remapping of global relations such remapping must be informed both by a grasp of contemporary structures of economic political and cultural power and by memories of earlier radical visions of society Without these two conditions Arif Dirlik argues the current preoccupation with Eurocentrism ethnic diversity and multiculturalism distract from issues of power that dominate global relations and that find expression in murderous ethnic conflicts Dirlik offers multi historicalism which presupposes a historically grounded conception of cultural difference seeks in different histories alternative visions of human society and stresses divergent historical trajectories against a future colonized presently by an ideology of capital Arguing that the operations of capital have brought the question of the local to the fore he points to indigenism as a source of paradigms of social relations and relationships to nature to challenge the voracious developmentalism that undermines local welfare globally
