Networkologies A Philosophy Of Networks For A Hyperconnected Age A Manifesto:

Networkologies Christopher Vitale, 2014 Networks are the future here s the first philosophy based on networks a new image of thought for a hyperconnected age Hildegard von Bingen's Ordo Virtutum Michael Gardiner, 2018-10-03 The Ordo Virtutum Hildegard von Bingen s twelfth century music drama is one of the first known examples of a large scale composition by a named composer in the Western canon Not only does the Ordo s expansive duration set it apart from its precursors but also its complex imagery and non biblical narrative have raised various questions concerning its context and genre As a poetic meditation on the fall of a soul the Ordo deploys an array of personified virtues and musical forces over the course of its eighty seven chants In this ambitious analysis of the work Michael C Gardiner examines how classical Neoplatonic hierarchies are established in the music drama and considers how they are mediated and subverted through a series of concentric absorptions absorptions related to medieval Platonism and its various theological developments which lie at the core of the work s musical design and text This is achieved primarily through Gardiner s musical network model which implicates mode into a networked system of nodes and draws upon parallels with the medieval interpretation of Platonic ontology and Hildegard s correlative realization through sound song and voice

Conceptualising the Global in the Wake of the Postmodern Joel Evans, 2019-03-28 Identifies a return to figurations of the totality in contemporary literature theory and culture Shadowing the Anthropocene: Eco-Realism for Turbulent Times Adrian Ivakhiv, 2018 A spectre is haunting humanity the spectre of a reality that will outwit and in the end bury us The Anthropocene or The Human Era is an attempt to name our geological fate that we will one day disappear into the layer cake of Earth s geology while highlighting humanity in the starring role of today s Earthly drama In Shadowing the Anthropocene Adrian Ivakhiv proposes an ecological realism that takes as its starting point humanity s eventual demise The only question for a realist today he suggests is what to do now and what quality of compost to leave behind with our burial The book engages with the challenges of the Anthropocene and with a series of philosophical efforts to address them including those of Slavoj Žižek and Charles Taylor Graham Harman and Timothy Morton Isabelle Stengers and Bruno Latour and William Connolly and Jane Bennett Along the way there are volcanic eruptions and revolutions ant cities and dog parks data clouds and space junk pagan gods and sacrificial altars dark flow souls of things and jazz Ivakhiv draws from centuries old process relational thinking that harkens back to Daoist and Buddhist sages but gains incisive re invigoration in the philosophies of Charles Sanders Peirce and Alfred North Whitehead He translates those insights into practices of engaged Anthropocenic bodymindfulness aesthetic ethical and ecological practices for living in the shadow of the Anthropocene

The Shock Doctrine of the Left Graham Jones, 2018-08-28 Shocks from natural disasters to military catastrophes have long been exploited by the state to impose privatization cuts and rampant free markets This book argues that the left can use such moments of chaos to achieve emancipation Graham Jones illustrates how everyone can help to exploit these shocks and bring about a new world of compassion and care He examines how combining mutually reinforcing strategies of smashing building healing and taming can become the basis of a unified left His vivid personal experience underpins a compelling practical vision for activism from the scale of the individual body to the global social movement This bold book is a toolkit for revolution for activists and radical millennials everywhere The Future of Humanity Pavlina Radia, Sarah Fiona Winters, Laurie Kruk, 2019-08-12 What is the future of humanity What does it mean to be human in the posthuman age What responsibility does humankind have towards others and their environments How are the stories that humans tell themselves implicated in the very power asymmetries and eco political challenges that they bemoan Taking a cross disciplinary approach to the posthuman age the essays in this collection speak to the multifaceted geographies and counter geographies of humanity probing into the possible futures we face as planetary species Some of these include ecological issues generated by centuries of neglecting our environment s power asymmetries stemming from economic and cultural globalization violence and its affective politics informed by cultural ethnic and racial genocides religious disputes social inequities produced by consumerism gender normativity and the increasing impact of digital and AI artificial intelligence technology on the human body as well as historical socio political not to mention ethical relations The Arts of the Grid Liora Bigon, Nava Shaked, 2021-10-04 This is the first collection of interdisciplinary scholarship to expand on gridded modalities with a strong affinity to the arts It seeks to inspire new avenues of research by exploring a horizon of gridded relationships among humans between humans and the environment and between human and non human actors By bringing together philosophical themes and applied practices the volume traces a genealogy of the grid as an exercise in grasping its inherent complexity and incomplete quality A collective effort by a group of researchers practitioners and designers it promotes an understanding of gridded modalities as complex networks that interact with other networks generating new meanings and reflecting changes in thought Impact Networks David Ehrlichman, 2021-10-12 The key to solving big complex problems a powerful and flexible organizing system that can span regions teams and silos of all kinds The social and environmental challenges we face today are not only complex they are also systemic and structural and have no obvious solutions They require diverse combinations of people organizations and sectors to coordinate actions and work together even when the way forward is unclear Even so collaborative efforts often fail because they attempt to navigate complexity with traditional strategic plans created by hierarchies that ignore the way people naturally connect By embracing a living systems approach to organizing impact networks bring people together to build relationships across boundaries leverage the existing work skills and motivations of the group and make progress amid unpredictable and ever changing conditions As a powerful and flexible organizing system that can span regions organizations and silos of all kinds impact networks underlie some of the most impressive and large scale efforts to create change across the globe David Ehrlichman draws on his experience as a network builder interviews with dozens of network leaders and insights from the fields of network science community building and systems thinking to provide a clear process for creating and developing impact networks Given the increasing complexity of our society and the issues we face our ability to form grow and work through networks has never been more essential Networks are the organizing system of the future and this book is your guide Philip Li President and CEO Robert Sterling Clark Foundation Spider Web, Labyrinth, Tightrope Walk Regina Schober, 2023-08-07 Spider Web Labyrinth Tightrope Walk explores the shifting functions of the network as a metaphor model and as an epistemological framework in US American literature and culture from the 19th century until today The book critically inquires into the literary cultural philosophical and scientific rhetoric values and ideological underpinnings that have given rise to the network concept Literature and culture play a major role in the ways in which networks have been imagined and how they have evolved as conceptual models This study regards networks as historically emergent and culturally constructed formations closely tied with the development of knowledge technologies in the process of modernization as well as with an increasingly critical awareness of network technologies and infrastructures While the rise of the network in scientific philosophical political and sociological discourses has received wide attention this book contributes an important cultural and historical perspective to network theory by demonstrating how US American literature and culture have been key sites for thinking in and about networks in the past two centuries

Phase Media James Ash, 2017-12-14 In Phase Media James Ash theorizes how smart objects understood as Internet connected and sensor enabled devices are altering users experience of their environment Rather than networks connected by lines of transmission smart objects generate phases understood as space times that modulate the spatio temporal intelligibility of both humans and non humans Examining a range of objects and services from the Apple Watch to Nest Cam to Uber Ash suggests that the modulation of spatio temporal intelligibility is partly shaped by the commercial logics of the industries that design and manufacture smart objects but can also exceed them Drawing upon the work of Martin Heidegger Gilbert Simondon and Bruno Latour Ash argues that smart objects have their own phase politics which offer opportunities for new forms of public to emerge Phase Media develops a conceptual vocabulary to contend that smart objects do more than just enabling a world of increased corporate control and surveillance as they also provide the tools to expose and re order the very logics and procedures that created them

Cyber Influence and Cognitive Threats Vladlena Benson, John McAlaney, 2019-09-27 In the wake of fresh allegations that personal data of Facebook users have been illegally used to influence the outcome of the US general election and the Brexit vote the debate over manipulation of social Big Data continues to gain more momentum Cyber Influence and Cognitive Threats addresses various emerging challenges in response to cybersecurity examining cognitive applications in decision making behaviour and basic human interaction The book examines the role of psychology in cybersecurity by addressing each factor involved in the process hackers targets cybersecurity practitioners and the wider social context in which these groups operate Cyber Influence and Cognitive Threats covers a variety of topics including information systems psychology sociology human resources leadership strategy innovation law finance and others Explains psychological factors inherent in machine learning and artificial intelligence Explores attitudes towards data and privacy through the phenomena of digital hoarding and protection motivation theory Discusses the role of social and communal factors in cybersecurity behaviour and attitudes Investigates the factors that determine the spread and impact of information and disinformation

Ecstatic Consumption Pavlina Radia, 2016-12-14 While modernity aspired to fix radical alienation through aesthetics by assigning an ethical value to narratives contemporary literature and the arts are no longer immune to the impact of commodity culture amplified by globalization In the world of commodity corporate logic and cyborgs the very notion of identity is frequently turned into a spectacle Yet it is also simultaneously mobilized by the search for what Jean Baudrillard describes as the ecstatic form that materializes aesthetics Ecstatic Consumption The Spectacle of Global Dystopia in Contemporary American Literature investigates not only how these transformations affect gender racial and class relations as well as how they impact the representation of historical events Pop culture media and discourses of multiculturalism both important venues of and vehicles for globalization have had an extensive effect on contemporary writers like Don DeLillo Marge Piercy and Jane Smiley as have the discourses of terrorism and assimilation on the works of Diana Abu Jaber Chang Rae Lee Shalom Auslander and Alissa Torres As the works of these authors show the tendency to unify the world as a global village has been frequently complicit in perpetuating oppressive neo colonial ideologies As these writers reveal literature no longer provides a solid cure for the somnambulist culture of instant gratification On the global stage the body becomes the ultimate commodity the fetish of ecstatic consumption as it is persistently mobilized by the search for ecstatic avatar anti forms Whether these forms provide an escape into a utopian space or further enhance the dystopian ecstasy is a crucial query framing this book As it shows the works of DeLillo Smiley Piercy Abu Jaber Lee Auslander and Torres provide important and challenging commentaries on the ecstatic gaze of global dystopia particularly its appetite for alterity and the tragic often disguised as interchangeable metaphors of Otherness fear anxiety terror pain and pleasure titillation exoticism and ecstasy Consequently the book sheds light on the ways in which the culture of spectacle is ever evolving manipulating and affecting the global dependence on the ecstasy of consumption and its many different forms

Speculations Paul J. Ennis, 2020 From the Editorial Introduction Since I am convinced that nobody reads editorials I will keep my remarks brief Putting together the inaugural issue of Speculations has been an unusual experience It has depended on the collusion of fellow speculative types the help of many anonymous reviewers the endless patience of designer Thomas Gokey and more hours than someone in the final year of their PhD should ever spend on a project Looking over the final product I think it has all been worth it This is the first journal dedicated to speculative realism and despite the obscurity of that term I think we all understand it as a handy label under which weird realists continental metaphysicians object oriented ontologists transcendental realists vitalists and Lovecraftians can unite This is also perhaps the first time a journal can boast that each contributor is also a blogger This is the reason why Speculations could only ever be an online open access journal

Play Among Books Miro Roman, Alice_ch3n81, 2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science

The Onlife Manifesto Luciano Floridi, 2014-11-16 What is the impact of information and communication technologies ICTs on the human condition In order to address this question in 2012 the European Commission organized a research project entitled The Onlife Initiative concept reengineering for rethinking societal concerns in the digital transition This volume collects the work of the Onlife Initiative It explores how the development and widespread use of ICTs have a radical impact on the human condition ICTs are not mere tools but rather social forces that are increasingly affecting our self-conception who we are our mutual interactions how we socialise our conception of reality our metaphysics and our interactions with reality our agency In each case ICTs have a huge ethical legal and political significance yet one with which we have begun to come to terms only recently The impact exercised by ICTs is due to at least four major transformations the blurring of the distinction between reality and virtuality the blurring of the distinction between human machine and nature the reversal from information scarcity to information abundance and the shift from the primacy of stand alone things properties and binary relations to the primacy of interactions processes and networks Such transformations are testing the foundations of our conceptual frameworks Our current conceptual toolbox is no longer fitted to address new ICT related challenges This is not only a problem in itself It is also a risk because the lack of a clear understanding of our present time may easily lead to negative projections about the future The goal of The Manifesto and of the whole book that contextualises is therefore that of contributing to the update of our philosophy It is a constructive goal The book is meant to be a positive contribution to rethinking the philosophy on which policies are built in a hyperconnected world so that we may have a better chance of understanding our ICT related problems and solving them satisfactorily The Manifesto launches an open debate on the impacts of ICTs on public spaces politics and societal expectations toward policymaking in the Digital Agenda for Europe s remit More broadly it helps start a reflection on the way in which a hyperconnected world calls for rethinking the referential frameworks on which policies are built

The Age of the Network
Jessica Lipnack, Jeffrey Stamps, 1994 The Age of the Network offers leaders managers and teams a new practical view of how to think about their companies and reinvent them without losing the value and knowledge that s embedded in their current organization The Age of the Network delivers a rich array of advice and insights for starting the vital process of creating a networked enterprise Lipnack and Stamps show managers how to focus on five essential team net networks of teams principles which include establishing a clear purpose and creating communication links Next they offer a guided tour describing how organizations can turn these principles into practice and evaluate their real potential for creating a networked organization

Adopting the Track of Phrase: An Mental Symphony within Networkologies A Philosophy Of Networks For A Hyperconnected Age A Manifesto

In some sort of used by displays and the ceaseless chatter of instantaneous connection, the melodic beauty and psychological symphony developed by the written term often fade in to the background, eclipsed by the relentless noise and interruptions that permeate our lives. But, located within the pages of Networkologies A Philosophy Of Networks For A Hyperconnected Age A Manifesto a wonderful literary treasure filled with natural feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced.
