Expressive Writing for Healing Mary Potter Kenyon,2018-04-01 We do not write in order to be understood we write in order to understand C Day Lewis Writing is one of the oldest and most effective means of self exploration self expression and self discovery In this new guided journal Mary Potter Kenyon offers readers an opportunity to reflect on the meaning and significance of loss and allows the griever to sort through all the conflicting emotions that arise after a death By interweaving her own experiences of loss the proven research behind writing as a method for healing and blank pages with carefully chosen quotes Kenyon gives readers space to express the feelings that are sometimes too painful to speak aloud

Telling Lives Marianne Horsdal,2012 In the groundbreaking Telling Lives Exploring dimensions of narratives the author illustrates as many facets as possible of the stories people tell about their lives She demonstrates the interconnectedness between engagements in narrative research and shows that the theoretical understanding of the nature of narrative is bound up with the methods for biographical narrative research

Natural-Born Cyborgs Andy Clark,2003-06-05 From Robocop to the

Terminator to Eve 8 no image better captures our deepest fears about technology than the cyborg the person who is both flesh and metal brain and electronics But philosopher and cognitive scientist Andy Clark sees it differently Cyborgs he writes are not something to be feared we already are cyborgs In Natural Born Cyborgs Clark argues that what makes humans so different from other species is our capacity to fully incorporate tools and supporting cultural practices into our existence Technology as simple as writing on a sketchpad as familiar as Google or a cellular phone and as potentially revolutionary as mind extending neural implants all exploit our brains astonishingly plastic nature Our minds are primed to seek out and incorporate non biological resources so that we actually think and feel through our best technologies Drawing on his expertise in cognitive science Clark demonstrates that our sense of self and of physical presence can be expanded to a remarkable extent placing the long existing telephone and the emerging technology of telepresence on the same continuum He explores ways in which we have adapted our lives to make use of technology the measurement of time for example has wrought enormous changes in human existence as well as ways in which increasingly fluid technologies can adapt to individual users during normal use Bio technological unions Clark argues are evolving with a speed never seen before in history As we enter an age of wearable computers sensory augmentation wireless devices intelligent environments thought controlled prosthetics and rapid fire information search and retrieval the line between the user and her tools grows thinner day by day This double whammy of plastic brains and increasingly responsive and well fitted tools creates an unprecedented opportunity for ever closer kinds of human machine merger he writes arguing that such a merger is entirely natural A stunning new look at the human brain and the human self Natural Born Cyborgs reveals how our technology is indeed inseparable from who we are and how we think

The Mind's Eye Oliver Sacks, 2010-10-26 NATIONAL BESTSELLER

From the poet laureate of medicine The New York Times and the author of the classic The Man Who Mistook his Wife for a Hat comes a fascinating exploration of the remarkable unpredictable ways that our brains cope with the loss of sight by finding rich new forms of perception Elaborate and gorgeously detailed Again and again Sacks invites readers to imagine their way into minds unlike their own encouraging a radical form of empathy Los Angeles Times With compassion and insight Dr Oliver Sacks again illuminates the mysteries of the brain by introducing us to some remarkable characters including Pat who remains a vivacious communicator despite the stroke that deprives her of speech and Howard a novelist who loses the ability to read Sacks investigates those who can see perfectly well but are unable to recognize faces even those of their own children He describes totally blind people who navigate by touch and smell and others who ironically become hyper visual Finally he recounts his own battle with an eye tumor and the strange visual symptoms it caused As he has done in classics like The Man Who Mistook his Wife for a Hat and Awakenings Dr Sacks shows us that medicine is both an art and a science and that our ability to imagine what it is to see with another person's mind is what makes us truly human

Adapted Brains and Imaginary Worlds Donald Beecher, 2016-03-01 In Adapted Brains and Imaginary Worlds Donald Beecher explores the characteristics and idiosyncrasies of the brain as they affect the study of fiction He builds upon insights from the cognitive sciences to explain how we actualize imaginary persons read the clues to their intentional states assess their representations of selfhood and empathize with their felt experiences in imaginary environments He considers how our own faculty of memory in all its selective particularity and planned oblivion becomes an increasingly significant dimension of the critical act and how our own emotions become aggressive readers of literary experience culminating in states which define the genres of literature Beecher illustrates his points with examples from major works of the Renaissance period including Dr Faustus The Faerie Queene Measure for Measure The Yorkshire Tragedy

Menaphon The Dialogue of Solomon and Marcolphus and The Moral Philosophy of Doni In this volume studies in the science of mind come into their own in explaining the architectures of the brain that shape such emergent properties as empathy suspense curiosity the formation of communities gossip rationalization confabulation and so much more that pertains to the behaviour of characters the orientation of readers and the construction of meaning Discussing a breadth of topics from the mysteries of the criminal mind to the psychology of tears Adapted Brains and Imaginary Worlds is the most comprehensive work available on the study of fictional worlds and their relation to the constitution of the human brain The Positive

Psychology of Personal Transformation James Garbarino, 2011-01-06 Given the current climate of economic and environmental uncertainty it is all too easy for individuals to feel hopeless about their lives and indifferent to the problems of others But according to leading psychologist James Garbarino this is the peak time for people to enhance their optimism empathy and emotional responsiveness In his important new book The Positive Psychology of Personal Transformation Dr Garbarino reveals the social basis for moral development in adversity and the mental and physical benefits of psychological and spiritual growth Drawing widely on his years as a healing professional and own experience of personal crisis as well as on decades of resilience and happiness literature the author traces the evolution of the moral sense that affects all human relationships including the one with the Earth itself In these compelling pages Dr Garbarino Examines how humans deep bonds with dogs can model positive human relationships Compares the risks and benefits of the oblivious versus the self aware life Analyzes the role of trauma in heightening our sense of the meaning of life and defines the experience of transformational grace in adversity Explains current manifestations of narcissism and the need for the positive death of the self Asserts that every person is capable of living an extraordinary life A book with vast significance across the healing disciplines The Positive Psychology of Personal Transformation should be read savored and practiced by researchers practitioners and scientists in clinical child school and developmental psychology social work educational and community psychology sociology and public health Why Do We Care about Literary Characters? Blakey Vermeule, 2010-01-01

Blakey Vermeule wonders how readers become involved in the lives of fictional characters people they know do not exist Vermeule examines the ways in which readers experiences of literature are affected by the emotional attachments they form to fictional characters and how those experiences then influence their social relationships in real life She focuses on a range of topics from intimate articulations of sexual desire gender identity ambition and rivalry to larger issues brought on by rapid historical and economic change Vermeule discusses the phenomenon of emotional attachment to literary characters primarily in terms of 18th century British fiction but also considers the postmodern work of Thomas Mann J M Coetzee Ian McEwan and Chinua Achebe From the perspective of cognitive science Vermeule finds that caring about literary characters is not all that different from caring about other people especially strangers The tools used by literary authors to sharpen and focus reader interest tap into evolved neural mechanisms that trigger a caring response This book contributes to the emerging field of evolutionary literary criticism Vermeule draws upon recent research in cognitive science to understand the mental processes underlying human social interactions without sacrificing solid literary criticism People interested in literary theory in cognitive analyses of the arts and in Darwinian approaches to human culture will find much to ponder in Why Do We Care about Literary Characters The Medical News ,1903 Medical News and Abstract ,1903 Robots & Artificial Intelligence Short Stories Eleanor Wood,2018-12-15 Flame Tree Publishing continues to publish excellent fiction with their Gothic Fantasy series of anthologies offering themed compendiums of both classic and modern fiction By doing so the series lets readers note similarity differences and trends of subgenres over time Kirkus The promise and the threat of technology of humankind replaced by its own mechanical creation has long enticed the SF and fantasy imagination This fabulous mix of new and established writing brings together the top talents of today with classic and essential authors including L Frank Baum Ambrose Bierce E T A Hoffmann Jerome K Jerome and more New contemporary and notable writers featured are Roan Clay George Cotronis Deborah L Davitt Jeff Deck Christopher M Geeson Bruce Golden Rob Hartzell Nathaniel Hosford Rachael K Jones Rich Larson Monte Lin Trixie Nisbet Chloie Pival David Sklar Claire Allegra Sorrenson Sara L Uckelman Holly Lyn Walrath Nemma Wollenfang and Eleanor R Wood Mind ,1985 Includes papers of the Aristotelian Society 1896 1900 Inside Out Kimberly Daniels,2012-09-27 Combining the best tactics from two spiritual strategies Daniels prescribes a fresh but tested approach to resolving persistent personal problems such as unhealed negative emotions and hindering behaviors and faults Many people struggle with the same habits hurts and fears over and over in their lives They feel like they are being kept from a life of meaning and fulfillment It s time to bring healing and hope to every area of your life In Inside Out Kimberly Daniels teaches you how deliverance and spiritual warfare are an important part of your inner healing Claim God s promises for your healing and wholeness FND Stories Markus Reuber,Maxanne McCormick,Gregg H. Ghaly,2015-01-23 A

CHRISTIAN FROM EGYPT LIFE STORY RAMSIS F GHALY MD FACS This is my life story as a Coptic Christian born and raised in Egypt in an environment of limited opportunities and scarce resources especially for Christian minorities Seeking the promise opportunity I came to the United States nearly 30 years ago as a young man As I flew westward on the plane it did not occur to me that I would become a prominent neurosurgeon with a practice in one of the great cities of America Nor did I anticipate that I would ever be in a position to fight for save lives and fight for patients lives protecting them from the specter of financial greed permeates the health care industry This book chronicles my journey in America from my early struggles to get past closed doors to my current practice serving the mission set before me with uncompromising zeal and devotion Eventually I became a prominent American neurosurgeon among the only 4000 active nationwide and the only one nationally and internationally to achieve five board certifications in five acknowledged medical disciplines My story takes the reader through my first hand experiences through the eight health care systems and Chicagos history of neuroscience over the last three decades providing an in depth view of the medical practices in the surrounding suburban communities My book also includes the lessons that I have learned my personal views and patient testimonials What I have faced and seen since my plane landed in this country in 1984 is almost inexpressible It is my sincere wish that others may find hope and inspiration from my story as well as an understanding of the challenges that the healthcare industry faces today along with my own passion for excellence in neuroscience as I confront them I owe my success to God to my cherished parents my teachers my mentors and most importantly my beloved patients

Literature, Neurology, and Neuroscience: Historical and Literary Connections ,2013-11-25 This well established international series examines major areas of basic and clinical research within neuroscience as well as emerging and promising subfields This volume on the neurosciences neurology and literature vividly shows how science and the humanities can come together and have come together in the past Its sections provide a new broad look at these interactions which have received surprisingly little attention in the past Experts in the field cover literature as a window to neurological and scientific zeitgeists theories of brain and mind in literature famous authors and their suspected neurological disorders and how neurological disorders and treatments have been described in literature In addition a myriad of other topics are covered including some on famous authors whose important connections to the neurosciences have been overlooked e g Roget of Thesaurus fame famous neuroscientists who should also be associated with literature and some overlooked scientific and medical men who helped others produce great literary works e g Bram Stoker s Dracula There has not been a volume with this coverage in the past and the connections it provides should prove fascinating to individuals in science medicine history literature and various other disciplines This book looks at literature medicine and the brain sciences both historically and in the light of the newest scholarly discoveries and insights
