Neurobehavioral Toxicity Neurobehavioral Toxicity:

Neurobehavioral Toxicity Bernard Weiss, 1994-06-30 In establishing how certain chemicals can cause behavioural disorders the process of neurotoxicity risk assessment poses significant challenges to every discipline within neuroscience In this volume leaders from industrial academic and government settings share insights on behavioural measurement in neurotoxicity risk assessment and address the critical scientific issues arising from the expanding role of neurobehavioral toxicology in public policy development The authors set out to provide a comprehensive and authoritative review of current methods in the analysis and interpretation of neurobehavioural toxicology Coverage begins with a discussion of criteria for determining neurotoxic potential The next section examines neurobehavioural evaluations in developmental neurotoxicity Subsequent sections focus on activity and observational data and applications of schedule controlled operant behaviour in toxicity testing The contributors address controversies surrounding the suitability and interpretation of procedures designed for neurotoxicological assessments Some case studies are also included Risk Assessment for Neurobehavioral Toxicity Scientific Group on Methodologies for the Safety Evaluation of Chemicals. Workshop, 1996 Risk Assessment for Neurobehavioral Toxicity Bernard Weiss, Jürg Elsner, 1997-07 After three decades of research neurobehavioral toxicity is now acknowledged as a significant outcome of chemical exposure Its health and economic costs may exceed those by cancer by substantial amounts This new perspective has been accompanied by efforts designed to explore the responsible mechanisms to design applicable risk assessment procedures and to determine the consequent policy implications This publication includes 25 papers from international experts and includes human neurobehavioral toxicity animal behavioral methods selected model compounds and risk assessment Behavioral Measures of Neurotoxicity National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, U.S. National Committee for the International Union of Psychological Science, 1990-02-01 Exposure to toxic chemicals in the workplace and at home is increasing every day Human behavior can be affected by such exposure and can give important clues that a person or population is in danger If we can understand the mechanisms of these changes we can develop better ways of testing for toxic chemical exposure and most important better prevention programs This volume explores the emerging field of neurobehavioral toxicology and the potential of behavior studies as a noninvasive and economical means for risk assessment and monitoring Pioneers in this field explore its promise for detecting environmental toxins protecting us from exposure and treating those who are exposed Neurobehavioral Toxicity, 1996

Introduction to Neurobehavioral Toxicology Hugh A. Tilson, R.M.A. Jaspers, L.M.W. Kornet, J.M. van Ree, 1998-11-25 Introduction to Neurobehavioral Toxicology Food and Environment examines the effects of chemicals on the central and peripheral nervous system and the subsequent changes in behavior with a focus on the toxicity of food components and behavioral effects of environmental toxicants Topics addressed include acute and chronic effects reversible and Environmental Health Perspectives ,1993 Neurotoxicology Jean Harry G,Hugh A. Tilson,1999-07-22 This second edition of Neurotoxicology is valuable for scientists in government and industry who are responsible for public health and for the safe and efficient use of chemicals This integrated approach to neurotoxicology will aid in the understanding of the sites and mechanisms of neurotoxicity stimulate the formulation of testable hypotheses about how chemicals affect the nervous system and help improve the risk assessment process This edition focuses primarily on the neurobiological basis underlying neurotoxic sites and modes of action The contents include molecular biological and in vitro approaches potential cellular and molecular sites involving neuron glia interactions axonal transport ion channels metabolic influences on neurotoxicity role of free radical formation in neurotoxicity interaction between chemicals and trophic factors endocrine disruptors apoptosis in neurotoxicity in vivo brain imaging advances in measuring cognitive function advances in developing quantitative models for neurotoxicology risk assessment Relationships of Blood and Brain Halocarbon Solvent Concentrations to Neurobehavioral Toxicity

David Alan Warren,1995 Time courses of blood and brain concentrations and neurobehavioral toxicity were determined for two halocarbon solvents in two rodent species Based on these data quantitative relationships or the lack thereof have been reported between the degree of neurobehavioral toxicity and internal measures of dose In the case of orally administered perchloroethylene PCE relationships between blood and brain concentrations and operant performance were not discernable due in part to an acute adaptation of rats to PCE s response suppressing effect For inhaled 1 1 1 trichloroethane TRI blood and brain concentrations were strongly correlated with the rate of operant responding in rats

Toxicity Testing National Research Council,Division on Earth and Life Studies,Commission on Life Sciences,Steering Committee on Identification of Toxic and Potentially Toxic Chemicals for Consideration by the National Toxicology Program,1984-02-01 Prepared at the request of the National Toxicology Program this landmark report reveals that many chemicals used in pesticides cosmetics drugs food and commerce have not been sufficiently tested to allow a complete determination of their potential hazards Given the vast number of chemical substances to which humans are exposed the authors use a model to show how research priorities for toxicity testing can be set Risk Assessment for Neurobehavioral Toxicity Bernard Weiss,Jürg Elsner,1996
