Arab Masculinities Konstantina Isidoros, Marcia C. Inhorn, 2022-01-04 Arab Masculinities provides a groundbreaking analysis of Arab men's lives in the precarious aftermath of the 2011 Arab uprisings It challenges received wisdoms and entrenched stereotypes about Arab men offering new understandings of rujula or masculinity across the Middle East and North Africa The 10 individual chapters of the book foreground the voices and stories of Arab men as they face economic precarity forced displacement and new challenges to marriage and family life Rich in ethnographic details they illuminate how men develop alternative strategies of affective labor how they attempt to care for themselves and their families within their local moral worlds and what it means to be a good son husband father and community member Arab Masculinities sheds light on the most private spaces of Arab men s lives offering stories that rarely enter the public realm It is a pioneering volume that reflects the urgent need for new anthropological scholarship on men and masculinities in a changing Middle East

Arab Family Studies Suad Joseph,2018-07-10 Family remains the most powerful social idiom and one of the most powerful social structures throughout the Arab world To engender love of nation among its citizens national movements portray the nation as a family To motivate loyalty political leaders frame themselves as fathers mothers brothers or sisters to their clients parties or the citizenry To stimulate production economic actors evoke the sense of duty and mutual commitment of family obligation To sanctify their edicts clerics wrap religion in the moralities of family and family in the moralities of religion Social and political movements from the most secular to the most religious pull on the tender strings of family love to recruit and bind their members to each other To call someone family is to offer them almost the highest possible intimacy loyalty rights reciprocities and dignity In recognizing the significance of the concept of family this state of the art literature review captures the major theories methods and case studies carried out on Arab families over the past century The book offers a country by country critical assessment of the available scholarship on Arab families Sixteen chapters focus on specific countries or groups of countries seven chapters offer examinations of the literature on key topical issues Joseph s volume provides an indispensable resource to researchers and students and advances Arab family studies as a critical independent field of scholarship

Masculinities and Displacement in the Middle East Magdalena Suerbaum,2020-11-26 Following the outbreak of the Syrian uprising in 2011 many Syrians fled to Egypt This ethnographic study traces Syrian men s struggles in Cairo their experiences in the Egyptian labour market and efforts to avoid unemployment their ambitions to prove their groomability in front of potential in laws in order to get married and their discontent with being assigned the label refugee The book reveals the strategies these men use to maintain their identity as the respectable Syrian middle class man including engaging in processes of Othering and the creation of hierarchies and Magdalena Suerbaum explains why this proved so much more difficult for them after Morsi was toppled in 2013 Based on in depth interviews conversations and long term participant observations Suerbaum identifies Syrian men s emotional struggles as they undergo the experience of forced displacement and she highlights the adaptability and ultimate elasticity of constructed masculinities The Syrians interviewed share their memories and their understandings of sectarianism and growing up in Syria their interactions with the Egyptian and Syrian states and their experiences during the Syrian uprising The book takes an intersectional approach with close attention to the refugee as a classed and gendered person      Reconceiving Muslim Men Marcia C. Inhorn, Nefissa Naguib, 2018-06-18 This volume provides intimate anthropological accounts of Muslim men's everyday lives in the Middle East, Asia, Africa, and diasporic communities in the West. Amid increasing political turmoil and economic precarity, Muslim men around the world are enacting nurturing roles as husbands, sons, fathers, and community members, thereby challenging broader systems of patriarchy and oppression. By focusing on the ways in which Muslim men care for those they love, this volume challenges stereotypes and showcases Muslim men's humanity.

Manhood Is Not Easy Karin van Nieuwkerk, 2019-07-23 In this in-depth ethnography, Karin van Nieuwkerk takes the autobiographical narrative of Sayyid Henkish, a musician from a long family tradition of wedding performers in Cairo, as a lens through which to explore changing notions of masculinity in an Egyptian community over the course of a single lifetime. Central to Henkish's story is his own conception of manhood, which is closely tied to the notion of ibn al balad, the authentically Egyptian lower middle-class male with all its associated values of nobility, integrity, and toughness. How to embody these communal ideals while providing for his family in the face of economic hardship and the perceived moral ambiguities associated with his work in the entertainment trade are key themes in his narrative. Van Nieuwkerk situates his account within a growing body of literature on gender that sees masculinity as a lived experience that is constructed and embodied in specific social and historical contexts. In doing so, she shows that the challenges faced by Henkish are not limited to the world of entertainment and that his story offers profound insights into socioeconomic and political changes taking place in Egypt at large and the ways in which these transformations impact and unsettle received notions of masculinity.

The Labor of Hope Harry Pettit, 2023-11-14 Technological advancements, expanding education, and unfettered capitalism have encouraged many around the world to aspire to better lives, even as declines in employment and widening inequality are pushing more and more people into insecurity and hardship. In Egypt, a generation of young men desire fulfilling employment, meaningful relationships, and secure family life, yet find few paths to achieve this. The Labor of Hope follows these educated but underemployed men as they struggle to establish careers and build satisfying lives. In so doing, this book reveals the lived contradiction at the heart of capitalist systems: the expansive dreams they encourage and the precarious lives they produce. Harry Pettit follows young men as they engage a booming training, recruitment, and entrepreneurship industry that sells the cruel meritocratic promise that a good life is realizable for all. He considers the various ways individuals cultivate distraction and hope for future mobility, education, migration, consumption, and prayer. These hope-filled practices are a form of emotional labor for young men, placing responsibility on the individual rather than structural issues in Egypt's economy. Illuminating this emotional labor, Pettit shows how the capitalist economy continues to capture the attention of the very people harmed by it.

Food and Families in the Making Katharina Graf, 2024-04-01 Even in the context of rapid material and social change in urban Morocco, women and especially those from low-income households continue to invest a lot of work in preparing good food for their families. Through the lens of domestic food preparation, this book looks at knowledge reproduction how we know cooking and its role in the making of everyday family life It also examines a political economy of cooking that situates Marrakchi women s lived experiences in the broader context of persisting poverty and food insecurity in Morocco

Un-Settling Middle Eastern Refugees Marcia C. Inhorn, Lucia Volk, 2021-06-11 Since the Iraq war the Middle East has been in continuous upheaval resulting in the displacement of millions of people Arriving from Afghanistan Iraq Palestine and Syria in other parts of the world the refugees show remarkable resilience and creativity amidst profound adversity Through careful ethnography this book vividly illustrates how refugees navigate regimes of exclusion including cumbersome bureaucracies financial insecurities medical challenges vilifying stereotypes and threats of violence The collection bears witness to their struggles while also highlighting their aspirations for safety settlement and social inclusion in their host societies and new homes

Fraught Balance Shayna M. Silverstein,2024-05-07 Dabke one of Syria s most beloved dance music traditions is at the center of the country s war and the social tensions that preceded conflict Drawing on almost two decades of ethnographic archival and digital research Shayna M Silverstein shows how dabke dance music embodies the fraught dynamics of gender class ethnicity and nationhood in an authoritarian state The book situates dabke politically economically and historically in a broader account of expressive culture in Syria s recent and ongoing turmoil Silverstein shows how people imagine the Syrian nation through dabke how the state has coopted it how performances of masculinity reveal and play with the tensions and complexities of the broader social imaginary how forces opposed to the state have used it resistively and how migrants and refugees have reimagined it in their new homes in Europe and the United States She offers deeply thoughtful reflections on the ethnographer's ethical and political dilemmas on fieldwork in an authoritarian state Silverstein's study ultimately questions the limits of authoritarian power considering the pleasure and play intrinsic to dabke circles as evidence for how performance cultures sustain social life and solidify group bonds while reproducing the societal divides endemic to Syrian authoritarianism
