Poetics of Liveliness Ada Smailbegović, 2021-10-29 Can poetry act as an aesthetic amplification device akin to a microscope through which we can sense minute or nearly imperceptible phenomena such as the folding of molecules into their three dimensional shapes the transformations that make up the life cycle of a silkworm or the vaporous movements that constitute the ever shifting edges of clouds We tend to think of these subjects as reserved for science but as Ada Smailbegović argues twentieth and twenty first century writers have intermingled scientific methodologies with poetic form to reveal unfolding processes of change Their works can be envisioned as laboratories within which the methodologies of experimentation natural historical description and taxonomic classification allow poetic language to register the rhythms and durations of material transformation Poetics of Liveliness moves across scales to explore the realms of molecules fibers tissues and clouds It investigates works such as Christian B k s insertion of a poetic text into the DNA code of living bacteria in order to generate a new poem in the shape of a protein molecule Jen Bervin's considerations of silk fibers and their use in biomedicine Gertrude Stein's examination of brain tissues in medical school and its subsequent influence on her literary taxonomies of character and Lisa Robertson's studies of nineteenth century meteorology and the soft architecture of clouds In their attempt to understand physical processes unfolding within lively material worlds Smailbegovi contends these poets have developed a distinctive materialist poetics Structured as a poetic cosmology akin to Lucretius's On the Nature of Things which begins at the atomic level and expands out to the vastness of the universe Poetics of Liveliness provides an innovative and surprising vision of the relationship between science and poetry

Attention Equals Life Andrew Epstein, 2016 Poetry has long been thought of as a genre devoted to grand subjects timeless themes and sublime beauty Why then have contemporary poets turned with such intensity to documenting and capturing the everyday and mundane Drawing on insights about the nature of everyday life from philosophy history and critical theory Andrew Epstein traces the modern history of this preoccupation and considers why it is so much with us today Attention Equals Life argues that a potent hunger for everyday life explodes in the post 1945 period as a reaction to the rapid unsettling transformations of this epoch which have resulted in a culture of perilous distraction Epstein demonstrates that poetry is an important and perhaps unlikely cultural form that has mounted a response and even a mode of resistance to a culture suffering from an acute crisis of attention In this timely and engaging study Epstein examines why a compulsion to represent the everyday becomes predominant in the decades after modernism and why it has so often sparked genre bending formal experimentation With chapters devoted to illuminating readings of a diverse group of writers including poets associated with influential movements like the New York School language poetry and conceptual writing the book considers the variety of forms contemporary poetry of everyday life has taken and analyzes how gender race and political forces all profoundly inflect the experience and the representation of the quotidian By exploring the rise of experimental realism as a poetic mode and the turn to rule governed everyday life projects Attention Equals Life offers a new way of understanding a vital strain at the heart of twentieth and twenty first century literature It not only charts the evolution of a significant concept in cultural theory and poetry but also reminds readers that the quest to pay attention to the everyday within today's frenetic world of and social media is an urgent and unending task

New Perspectives on International Comparative

Literature Cao Shunqing, Theo D'haen, Liang Chang, Zhou Shu, 2022-07-25 Bringing together 17 articles by renowned scholars from around the globe this volume offers a multi dimensional view of comparative and world literature Drawing on the scope of these scholars collective intellects and insights it connects disparate research contexts to illuminate the multi dimensional views of related areas as we step into the third decade of the 21st century The book will be of particular interest to scholars working in comparative literary and cultural studies and to readers interested in the future of literary studies in a cross culturized world

Literature and the Glocal City Ana María Fraile-Marcos, 2014-07-17 The modern city is a space that can simultaneously represent the principles of its homeland alongside its own unique blend of the cultures that intermingle within its city limits This book makes an intervention in Canadian literary criticism by foregrounding both globalism which is increasingly perceived as the state of the art literary paradigm and the city These are two significant axes of contemporary culture and identity that were previously disregarded by a critical tradition built around the importance of space and place in Canadian writing Yet as relevant as the turn to the city and to globalism may be this collection s most notable contribution lies in linking the notion of glocality that is the intermeshing of local and global forces to representations of subjectivity in the material and figurative space of the Canadian city Dealing with oppositional discourses as multiculturalism postcolonialism feminism diaspora and environmentalism this book is an essential reference for any scholar with an interest in these areas Contemporary Women's Poetry and Urban Space Z. Skoulding,2013-10-03

This book focuses on the role of the city and its processes of mutual transformation in poetry by experimental women writers Readings of their work are placed in the context of theories of urban space while new visions of the contemporary city and its global relationships are drawn from their innovations in language and form Neoliberalism and Contemporary Literary Culture Mitchum Huehls,Rachel Greenwald Smith,2017-09-19 Neoliberalism and Contemporary Literary Culture is essential reading for anyone invested in the ever changing state of literary culture Blast, Corrupt, Dismantle, Erase Brett Josef Grubisic,Gisèle M. Baxter,Tara Lee,2014-06-16 What do literary dystopias reflect about the times In Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase contributors address this amorphous but pervasive genre using diverse critical methodologies to examine how North America is conveyed or portrayed in a perceived age of crisis accelerated uncertainty and political volatility Drawing from contemporary novels such as Cormac McCarthy s The Road Neil Gaiman s American Gods and the work of Margaret Atwood and William Gibson to name a few this book examines dystopian literature produced by North American authors between the signing of NAFTA 1994 and the tenth anniversary of 9 11 2011 As the texts illustrate awareness of and deep concern about perceived vulnerabilities ends of water oil food capitalism empires stable climates ways of life non human species and entire human civilizations have become central to public discourse over the same period By asking questions such as What are the distinctive qualities of post NAFTA North American dystopian literature and What does this literature reflect about the tensions and contradictions of the inchoate continental community of North America Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase serves to resituate dystopian writing within a particular geo social setting and introduce a productive means to understand both North American dystopian writing and its relevant engagements with a restricted mapped reality Terrain Vague PATRICK BARRON,Manuela Mariani,2013-08-15 As planners and designers have turned their attentions to the blighted vacant areas of the city the concept of terrain vague has become increasingly important Terrain Vague seeks to explore the ambiguous spaces of the city the places that exist outside the cultural social and economic circuits of urban life From vacant lots and railroad tracks to more diverse interstitial spaces this collection of original essays and cases presents innovative ways of looking at marginal urban space with studies from the United States Europe and the Middle East from a diverse group of planners geographers and urban designers Terrain Vague is a cooperative effort to redefine these marginal spaces as a central concept for urban planning and design Presenting innovative ways of looking at marginal urban space and focusing on its positive uses and aspects the book will be of interest to all those wishing to understand our increasingly complex everyday surroundings from planners cultural theorists and academics to designers and architects

Placing Poetry Ian Davidson,Zoë Skoulding,2013 The essays in this volume present a thorough re evaluation of the idea of place for the twenty first century linking across theoretical interests in space and spatialisation and in motion and mobility Placing becomes an active process that happens in different parts of the world and there is work here from the countries of the United Kingdom from Ireland the USA Australia and mainland Europe Placing also happens in different contexts in the Production of visual images in translation in performance and in poetry that is both there and here The range of poets under consideration matches the breadth of the range of the Contributors International in scope and drawn from a variety of practices and processes their combination in a single volume leads to unusual connections and new readings of their work

The Routledge Companion to Architectural Drawings and Models Federica Goffi,2022-05-30 Architectural drawings and models are instruments of imagination communication and historical continuity The role of drawings and models and their ownership placement and authorship in a ubiquitous digital age deserve careful consideration Expanding on the well established discussion of the translation from drawings to buildings this book fills a lacuna in current scholarship questioning the significance of the lives of drawings and models after construction Including emerging well known and world renowned scholars in the fields of architectural history and theory and curatorial practices the thirty five contributions define recent research in four key areas drawing sites sites of knowledge construction drawing office construction site the afterlife of drawings and models archiving collecting displaying and exhibiting tools of making architectural representations and their apparatus over time and the ethical responsibilities of collecting and archiving authorship ownership copyrights and rights to copy The research covers a wide range of geographies and delves into the practices of such architects as Sir John Soane Superstudio Eugène Emmanuel Viollet le Duc Frank Lloyd Wright Wajiro Kon Germ n Samper Gnecco A PS Mies van der Rohe and Renzo Piano

Rites of Way Mark Kingwell,Patrick Turmel,2011-04-07 There are many ways to approach the subject of public space the threats posed to it by surveillance and visual pollution the joys it offers of stimulation and excitement of anonymity and transformation its importance to urban variety or democratic politics But public space remains an evanescent and multidimensional concept that too often escapes scrutiny The essays in Rites of Way The Politics and Poetics of Public Space open up multiple dimensions of the concept from architectural political philosophical and technological points of view There is some historical analysis here but the contributors are more focused on the future of public space under conditions of growing urbanization and democratic confusion The added interest offered by non academic work visual art fiction poetry and drama is in part an admission that this is a topic too important to be left only to theorists. It also makes an implicit argument for the crucial role that art not just public art plays in a thriving public realm. Throughout this work contributors are guided by the conviction not pious but steely that healthy public space is one of the best living parts of a just society. The paths of desire we follow in public trace and speak our convictions and needs, our interests and foibles. They are the vectors and walkways of the social, the public dimension of life lying at the heart of all politics.

Poets on Teaching Joshua Marie Wilkinson, 2010-08-28 Here is an astonishingly generous gathering of poetic energies and imaginations aimed toward turning more and more classrooms into scenes of transformative engagement with the prime instrument of our humanity: language. The essential work of exploratory play with words is presented in heartening variety in its necessary wildness, surprising pleasures, gravitas, illumination. This book is a catalogue of invention, visionary, pragmatic, surprising, fun, useful because it is inspiring and vice versa. The poets' essays are themselves an affirmation of the vital presence of poetry in our culture, proof and promise.

The Oxford Handbook of Ecocriticism Greg Garrard, 2014-07-03 The Oxford Handbook of Ecocriticism provides a broad survey of the longstanding relationship between literature and the environment. The moment for such an offering is opportune in many respects: multiple environmental crises are increasingly inescapable at both transnational and local levels; the role of the humanities in addition to technology and politics is increasingly recognized as central for exploring and finding solutions; and the subject of ecocriticism has reached a kind of critical mass both within its Anglo-American heartlands and beyond. From its origins in the study of American Nature Writing and British Romanticism, ecocriticism has developed along numerous theoretical, historical, cultural, and geographical axes, the most contemporary and exciting of which will be represented in the Handbook. The contributors include eminent founders of the field, including Michael Branch and Richard Kerridge; a number of key second-wave ecocritics; and the best up-and-coming scholars. Topics covered include Renaissance anxieties about nature; the challenges of representing climate change; the racialization of the environment in the early 20th century; language and the concept of biosemiotics; and the possibilities for environmental humour.

Fieldworks Lytle Shaw, 2013-01-22 Fieldworks offers a historical account of the social, rhetorical, and material attempts to ground art and poetry in the physicality of a site. Arguing that place-oriented inquiries allowed poets and artists to develop new experimental models of historiography and ethnography, Lytle Shaw draws out the shifting terms of this practice from World War II to the present through a series of illuminating case studies. Beginning with the alternate national genealogies unearthed by William Carlos Williams in Paterson and Charles Olson in Gloucester, Shaw demonstrates how subsequent poets sought to ground such inquiries in concrete social formations to, in effect, live the poetics of place. Gary Snyder in his back-to-the-land familial compound, Kitkitdizze; Amiri Baraka in a black nationalist community in Newark; Robert Creeley and the poets of Bolinas, California, in the capacious now of their poet-run town. Turning to the work of Robert

Smithson who called one of his essays an appendix to Paterson and who in turn has exerted a major influence on poets since the 1970s Shaw then traces the emergence of site specific art in relation both to the poetics of place and to the larger linguistic turn in the humanities considering poets including Clark Coolidge Bernadette Mayer and Lisa Robertson By putting the poetics of place into dialog with site specificity in art Shaw demonstrates how poets and artists became experimental explicators not just of concrete locations and their histories but of the discourses used to interpret sites more broadly It is this dual sense of fieldwork that organizes Shaw s groundbreaking history of site specific poetry On the Outskirts of Form Michael Davidson,2012-01-01 This new book by eminent scholar Michael Davidson gathers his essays concerning formally innovative poetry from modernists such as Mina Loy George Oppen and Wallace Stevens to current practitioners such as Cristina Rivera Garza Heriberto Y pez Lisa Robertson and Mark Nowak The book considers poems that challenge traditional poetic forms and in doing so trouble normative boundaries of sexuality subjectivity gender and citizenship At the heart of each essay is a concern with the politics of form the ways that poetry has been enlisted in the constitution and critique of community Davidson speculates on the importance of developing cultural poetics as an antidote to the personalist and expressivist treatment of postwar poetry A comprehensive and versatile collection On the Outskirts of Form places modern and contemporary poetics in a cultural context to reconsider the role of cultural studies and globalization in poetry The Constellational Novel Louis Klee,2025-08-05 A constellational novel is a novel that has an associative essayistic digressive and densely patterned prose form The Constellational Novel aims to shed light on the field of contemporary literature by offering a definitive theory of the constellational novel These novels are recognizable by the presence of a first person narrator committed to drawing affinities and making connections among disparate things Beginning with Marcel Proust Klee s argument focuses on novels published over roughly the last two decades between 2001 and 2020 by writers such as W G Sebald Lisa Robertson Teju Cole Jacqueline Rose and Olga Tokarczuk Strikingly it is often assumed that the attunement of their narrators to an unfolding web of potential interconnections holds an ethical promise of new ways of relating to oneself others and the world Klee considers this implication of ethics and associative form to be peculiar and in some important respects unprecedented in the history of the novel How is recognizing connections between things ethical exactly Could it not simply be the working of a resourceful or possibly even deranged intelligence one that obsessively sees patterns everywhere Why should the value of literature hinge on such an idiosyncratic process And what does finding affinities have to do with the more familiar categories of novelistic form like character and narrative Taking inspiration from the work of Walter Benjamin this book analyzes the distinctive ethics of affinity offered by these novels and thus seeks to clarify one of the most intriguing and consequential developments in the contemporary novel Where We Live Now Matthew Stadler,2008 The point of departure for this collection is a translation of excerpts from Zwischenstadt by Thomas Sieverts Sentient Subjects Gerda Roelvink,Magdalena Zolkos,2020-12-27 Non cognitive expressions of the life of the subject feeling motion tactility instinct automatism and sentience have transformed how scholars understand subjectivity agency and identity This collection investigates the critical purchase of the idiom of affect in this post humanist thinking of the subject It also explores political and ethical questions raised by the deployment of affect as a theoretical and artistic category Together the contributors to this collection map the theoretically heterogeneous field of post humanist scholarship on affect making inspiring and at times surprising connections between Spinoza s and Tomkins s theories of affect the concept of affect and psychoanalysis and affect and animal studies in art and literature As a result the concepts vocabulary compatibility and attribution of affect are challenged and extended The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Angelaki
