

6. Base your answer on the information below and on your knowledge of biology.

Anoles are a diverse group of lizards that live on several islands including Cuba, Hispaniola, Jamaica, and Puerto Rico. Large populations of several species exist on the is islands. The portion of the tree inhabited by the six species of anole lizards is represented in the diagram below.

Island Anoles

Source: Adapted from Journal of Herpetology

Would you expect the crown-ground and trunk-ground anoles to compete for resources if they lived on the same tree?

7. The diagram below represents three branching diagrams that show relationships between three different species, X, Y, and Z.

On the line below, write the letter of the diagram that shows that X and Y are more closely related to each other than to species Z. Explain why that diagram indicates a close relationship.

Growing a Life Illéne Pevec, 2016-09-27 Growing a Life demonstrates just how influential school and community gardening programs can be for adolescents Readers follow author Illéne Pevec as she travels from rural Colorado to inner New York City and from agrarian New Mexico to urban Oakland California to study remarkable youth gardening programs for at risk teens Expressive candid interviews with more than eighty students substantiated by relevant neuroscience research and a framework of positive psychology explain the life altering physical and emotional benefits of gardening As students share their experiences tending the soil and the plants feeding their families and their communities and guiding younger children readers are given the opportunity to examine the largely unexplored topic of mentored urban gardening Growing a Life will inspire educators community leaders and youth to team up and establish community gardens where they do not already exist and to involve youth in existing gardens Resources in Education ,1982 School ,1924

The Ecology of the New Economy Jacob Park,Nigel Roome,2017-09-08 A revolution is taking place in the development of global information and communications technologies In slightly more than a decade the World Wide Web has gone from the idea of an obscure English scientist to a consumer oriented technology system with an expected one billion users by 2005 The technologies that enable this to happen are advancing rapidly which is leading to both an unprecedented number of start up companies and a host of innovative new alliances between companies The growth has been so rapid and unexpected that little research and analysis has yet been done on what impact this transformation has had or will have on the ability of companies to meet the global sustainability challenge As environmental strategy has traditionally been portrayed in terms of risk cutting and resource efficiency there is a danger that critical business issues such as information technology R D and e commerce development are examined in isolation from the wider sustainable business perspective An important objective of the book is to explore document and raise awareness of sustainability concerns arising from the emerging global information economy The information economy is defined in the broadest sense possible including software hardware telecommunication traditional and wireless and advanced communication technologies Some of the key issues and questions that are examined include Case studies on how and to what degree sustainability concerns are being integrated into the business model of electronic telecommunication and dot com firms The relationship between the diffusion of information and communication technologies and the energy and resource intensity of companies The role of information and communication technologies in the shaping of policies for sustainability its impacts on sustainable or unsustainable lifestyles and its implications for the interaction between companies and other actors Corporations and the global digital divide The Ecology of the New Economy will be of interest to academics governments businesses and non governmental groups who are trying to understand the linkages and relationship between the two of our greatest global challenges the information revolution and environmental sustainability Creating Strategic Partnerships Marilyn J. Amey,Pamela L. Eddy,2023-07-03 What are the characteristics and conditions that lead to successful educational partnerships What can we learn from partnerships that fail cannot be sustained over time or cease to benefit their partners This book serves as a guide to the successful implementation of partnerships It provides the context and tools for readers who are responding to the increasing demands of policy makers funders and institutional leaders to use partnerships to address local state and federal issues achieve external mandates meet public or internal agendas or pursue international collaborations This guide provides an evidence based framework for institutional and organizational leaders to develop the vision shared values and norms to achieve the partnership capital that will sustain an enduring relationship It offers a three phase model of the development process of collaboration together with a tool box for those charged with partnering and leading organizational change and includes a template for both creating new partnerships and sustaining existing ones The authors start by differentiating between traditional often ad hoc partnerships and strategic partnerships that align organizational strategy with partnership actions and by identifying the importance of moving beyond incremental or surface first order change to develop deep second order change through which underlying structures and operations are questioned and new processes emerge due to the partnership They offer analyses and understandings of seven key components for success exploring motivations developing partner relationships communicating and framing purpose creating collaborative structures and resources leading various partnership stages generating partnership capital and implementing strategies for sustaining partnerships Each chapter concludes with a case study to provide more understanding of the ideas presented and for use in training or classes This guide is addressed to policy makers and educational leaders college administrators and their non profit and business partners to enable them to lead and create strategic partnerships and facilitate organizational change Chemical & Metallurgical Engineering
