Fun and Games Panos Markopoulos, Wijnand IJsselsteijn, Duncan Rowland, 2008-10-08 The use of computing technology for entertainment purposes is not a recent phenomenon. Video game consoles, home computers and other entertainment media have been used widely for more than three decades and people of all ages are spending an increasing amount of time and money on these technologies. More recent is the rise of a vibrant research community focusing on gaming and entertainment applications. Driven by the growth and the coming of age of the gaming industry and by its increasing recognition in the media and the minds of the broader public, the study of computer games, game development and experiences is attracting the interest of researchers from very diverse fields: social sciences, computing, electrical engineering, design, etc. Research of this kind looks to extend the boundaries of gaming technologies. In a relentless drive for innovation, it looks to create and understand an ever increasing range of experiences and examine how games can provide value for educational, therapeutic and other serious purposes. These themes were reflected in the call for participation and eventually the papers accepted for presentation. The Fun and Games conference was the second event of a bi-annual series of conferences. The first event of the series was held in Preston in 2006, organized by the University of Central Lancashire. Following the success of this event, it was decided to run a follow-up. Games for Training, Education, Health and Sports Stefan Göbel, Josef Wiemeyer, 2014-03-27 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Serious Games for Training, Education, Health and Sports, Game Days 2014, held in Darmstadt, Germany, in April 2014. The 13 full papers presented together with 3 short papers, 2 keynotes and 3 workshop papers were carefully reviewed and selected for inclusion in this book. The topics of the papers are settled in the fields of game-based training, teaching and learning, authoring tools, mobile gaming, health and rehabilitation and citizen science. The papers address a broad scope of issues including mechanisms and effects of Serious Games, adaptation and personalisation, local mobile and internet learning and education applications, game reuse and evaluation, game settings, types of learners, problem solving, etc. Governance Networks in the Public Sector Erik Hans Klijn, Joop Koppenjan, Wouter Spekkink, Rianne Warsen, 2015-08-28 Governance Networks in the Public Sector presents a comprehensive study of governance networks and the management of complexities in network settings. Public, private and non-profit organizations are increasingly faced with complex, wicked problems when making decisions, developing policies or delivering services in the public sector. These activities take place in networks of interdependent actors guided by diverging and sometimes conflicting perceptions and strategies As a result these networks are dominated by cognitive strategic and institutional complexities Dealing with these complexities requires sophisticated forms of coordination network governance This book presents the most recent theoretical and empirical insights into governance networks It provides a conceptual framework and analytical tools to study the complexities involved in handling wicked problems in governance networks in the public sector The book also discusses strategies and management recommendations for governments business and third sector organisations operating in and governing networks Governance Networks in the Public Sector is an essential text for advanced students of public management public administration public policy and political science and for public managers and policymakers
