Children s book awards have mushroomed since the early twentieth century and especially since the 1960s when literary prizing became a favored strategy for both commercial promotion and canon making There are over 300 awards for English language titles alone but despite the profound impact of children s book awards scholars have paid relatively little attention to them This book is the first scholarly volume devoted to the analysis of Anglophone children s book awards in historical and cultural context With attention to both political and aesthetic concerns the book offers original and diverse scholarship on prizing practices and their consequences in Australia Canada and especially the United States Contributors offer both case studies of particular awards and analysis of broader trends in literary evaluation and elevation drawing on theoretical work on canonization and cultural capital Sections interrogate the complex and often unconscious ideological work of prizing the ongoing tension between formalist awards and so called identity based awards all the more urgent in light of the We Need Diverse Books campaign the ever morphing forms and parameters of prizing and scholarly practices of prizing Among the many awards discussed are the Pura Belpr Medal the Inky Awards the Canada Governor General Literary Award the Printz Award the Best Animated Feature Oscar the Phoenix Award and the John Newbery Medal giving due attention to prizes for fiction as well as for non fiction poetry and film This volume will interest scholars in literary and cultural studies social history book history sociology education library and information science and anyone concerned with children s literature

Tolerance and Risk Mitra Rastegar, 2021-09-07 How apparently positive representations of Muslims in U S media cast Muslims as a racial population Portrayals of Muslims as the beneficiaries of liberal values have contributed to the racialization of Muslims as a risky population since the September 11 attacks These discourses which hold up some Muslims as worthy of tolerance or sympathy reinforce an unstable good Muslim bad Muslim binary where any Muslim might be moved from one side to the other In Tolerance and Risk Mitra Rastegar explores these discourses as a component of the racialization of Muslims where Muslims are portrayed as a highly diverse population that nevertheless is seen to contain within it a threat that requires constant vigilance Tolerance and Risk brings together several case studies to examine the interrelation of representations of Muslims abroad and in the United States These include human interest stories and opinion polls of Muslim Americans media representations of education activist Malala Yousafzai LGBTQ activist discourses local New York controversies surrounding Muslim led public projects and social media discourses of the Syrian refugee crisis Tolerance and Risk demonstrates how representations of tolerable or sympathetic Muslims produce them as a population with distinct characteristics capacities and risks and circulate standards by which the trustworthiness or threat of individual Muslims must be assessed Tolerance and Risk examines the ways that discourses of liberal rights including feminist and LGBTQ rights discourses are mobilized to racialize Muslims as uncivilized even as they garner sympathy and identification with some Muslims
