The Mirror Steamed Over Anthony Byrt, 2020-06-18 In the early sixties at the Royal College of Art in London three extraordinary personalities collided to reshape contemporary art and literature Barrie Bates who would become Billy Apple in November 1962 was an ambitious young graphic designer from New Zealand who transformed himself into one of pop art's pioneers. At the same time his friend and fellow student David Hockney, young, Northern and openly gay, was making his own waves in the London art world. Bates and Hockney travelled together, bleached their hair together and despite being two of London's rising art stars almost failed art school together. And in the middle of it all was the secretary of the Royal College's Painting School, an aspiring young novelist called Ann Quin. Quin ghost wrote her lover Bates's dissertation and collaborated with him on a manifesto all the while writing Berg, the experimental novel that would establish her as one of the British literary scene's most exciting new voices. Taking us back to London's art scene in the late fifties and early sixties, award-winning writer Anthony Byrt illuminates a key moment in cultural history and tackles big questions: Where did Pop and conceptual art come from? How did these three remarkable young outsiders change British culture? And what was the relationship between revolutions in personal and sexual identities and these major shifts in contemporary art? From the Royal College to Coney Island and Madison Avenue, encountering R.D. Laing and Norman Mailer, Shirley Clarke and Larry Rivers, The Mirror Steamed Over is a remarkable journey through a pivotal moment in contemporary culture.

Modern American Poetry and the Architectural Imagination Jo Gill, 2023. Modern American Poetry and the Architectural Imagination: The Harmony of Forms assesses the relationship between architectural and poetic innovation in the United States across the twentieth century. Taking the work of five key poets as case studies and drawing on the work of a rich range of other writers, architects, artists and commentators, this study proposes that by examining the sustained and productive if hitherto overlooked engagement between the two disciplines we enrich our understanding of the complexity and interrelationship of both. The book begins by tracing the rise of what was conceived of as modern and often international style architecture and by showing how poetry and architecture in the early decades of the century developed in dialogue and within a shared and often transnational context. It then moves on to examine the material, aesthetic and social conditions that helped shape both disciplines, offering new readings of familiar poems and bringing other pertinent resources to light. It considers the uses to which poets of the period put the insights of architecture and vice versa. In closing, Gill turns to modern and contemporary architects' written accounts of their own practice in memoirs and other commentaries and examines how they have assimilated or resisted the practice and vision of poetry.

The Sound Sense of Poetry Peter Robinson, 2018-09-13. What real role can poetry have in the world? How are its truths created by the words and sounds chosen by the poet and by the way readers respond to them? Acclaimed poet Peter Robinson brings his knowledge of poetic art to the understanding of the reader's contribution in enabling poetry to play its part in life. Emphasising the value of individual writers and readers' interactions together with such key matters as meter and rhythm, voicing and form, rhyme and syntax, Robinson shows how poems engage in speech performances such as promising, justifying, excusing and explaining, including the telling of truths. Illustrated with detailed readings of poems by, among others, Jonson, Marvell, Blake, Wordsworth, Coleridge, Tennyson, Christina Rossetti, Dickinson, Kipling, Basil Bunting, Frank O'Hara, Tony

Harrison and Denise Riley this book shows how important poetry is as a means to do things with words and make things happen
