Design Control A. C. Hall, 1996 This book proposes a new way forward The need for negotiation requires that design goals and objectives be made explicit They should be distinguished clearly from the criteria for their fulfilment any advice on how they could be achieved and the legal and administrative procedures to be employed A new concept the design area is proposed in place of uniform land use notations Its use would enable design strategies including mix of uses to be shown the stated objectives to vary from place to place and variations in the degree of intervention to be made explicit In addition a start is made on developing a more structured language with which to express changes to urban form To make the plans more accessible to the negotiating
