A Savage Country Paul Moon, 2012-04-26 New Zealand in the 1820s had no government or bureaucratic presence no newspapers were published the literate population was probably no more than a couple of dozen people at any one time Early explorers assessments of New Zealand were haphazard at best few knew what to make of this foreign land and its people In this groundbreaking history of early New Zealand Paul Moon details how so many of the events in this decade the introduction of aggressive capitalism the arrival of literacy and the beginnings of Maori print culture intertribal warfare Hongi Hika and the British connection colonisation as a simultaneously destructive and beneficial force influenced the nation s evolution over the remainder of the century Moon leaves no stone unturned in his examination of this dynamic and fascinating pre Treaty era Surprising and engaging A Savage Country does not merely recount events but takes us inside a changing country giving a real sense of history as it happened Paul Moon has produced an engrossing account of a singular violent and confused decade in New Zealand s history Paul Little North South Te Wananga, 1929

Words for a Dying World Hannah Malcolm, 2020-12-07 How do we talk about climate grief in the church And when we have found the words what do we do with that grief There is a sudden and dramatic rise in people experiencing a profound sense of anxiety in the face of our dying planet and a consequent need for churches to be better resourced pastorally and theologically to deal with this threat Words for a Dying World brings together voices from across the world from the Pacific islands to the pipelines of Canada from farming communities in Namibia to activism in the UK Author royalties from the sale of this book are split evenly between contributors The majority will be pooled as a donation to ClientEarth The remainder will directly support the communities represented in this collection Contributors include Anderson Jeremiah Azariah France Williams David Benjamin Blower Holly Anna Petersen Isabel Mukonyora Jione Havea and Maggi Dawn

Handbook of Research on Indigenous Knowledge and Bi-Culturalism in a Global Context Hameed, Shahul, El-Kafafi, Siham, Waretini-Karena, Rawiri,2019-02-15 Society is continually moving towards global interaction and nations often contain citizens of numerous cultures and backgrounds Bi culturalism incorporates a higher degree of social inclusion in an effort to bring about social justice and change and it may prove to be an alternative to the existing dogma of mainstream Europe based hegemonic bodies of knowledge The Handbook of Research on Indigenous Knowledge and Bi Culturalism in a Global Context is a collection of innovative studies on the nature of indigenous bodies knowledge that incorporates the sacred or spiritual influence across various countries following World War II while exploring the difficulties faced as society immerses itself in bi culturalism While highlighting topics including bi cultural teaching Africology and education empowerment this book is ideally designed for academicians urban planners sociologists anthropologists researchers and professionals seeking current research on validating the growth of indigenous thinking and ideas Indigenous Autoethnography Kelli Te

Maihāroa,Adrian Woodhouse,2024-01-31 This book opens new pathways for decolonial autoethnography presented as a series of reflective stories that showcase how M ori have negotiated and navigated their personal and professional identities within contemporary society Framed within the academic methodology of Indigenous Autoethnography authors recount their personal and professional experiences to address their encounters with cultural trauma and personal enlightenment As a culturally responsive methodology Indigenous Autoethnography embraces reflective practice and critical awakening to validate Indigenous knowledge ensuring that it remains meaningful and responsive to the needs of M ori Utilising metaphorical storytelling as a primary means of sensemaking this work reinforces the importance of M ori and other Indigenous People to seek wisdom from the past to guide them into the future With Indigenous knowledge historically ignored and misrepresented in higher education this seminal text provides invaluable guidance for global Indigenous researchers seeking to produce story work that genuinely encompasses physical emotional and spiritual dimensions

Ecologies Design Maibritt Pedersen Zari,Peter Connolly,Mark Southcombe,2020-07-07 The notion of ecology has become central to contemporary design discourse This reflects contemporary concerns for our planet and a new understanding of the primary entanglement of the human species with the rest of the world The use of the term ecology with design tends to refer to how to integrate ecologies into design and cities and be understood in a biologically scientific and technical sense In practice this scientific technical knowledge tends to be only loosely employed The notion of ecology is also often used metaphorically in relation to the social use of space and cities This book argues that what it calls the biological and social senses of ecology are both important and require distinctly different types of knowledge and practice It proposes that science needs to be taken much more seriously in biological ecologies and that social ecologies can now be understood non metaphorically as assemblages Furthermore this book argues that design practice itself can be understood much more rigorously productively and relevantly if understood ecologically The plural term ecologies design refers to these three types of ecological design This book is unique in bringing these three perspectives on ecological design together in one place It is significant in proposing that a strong sense of ecologies design practice will only follow from the interconnection of these three types of practice Ecologies Design brings together leading international experts and relevant case studies in the form of edited research essays case studies and project work It provides an overarching critique of current ecologically oriented approaches and offers evidence and exploration of emerging and effective methods techniques and concepts It will be of great interest to academics professionals and students in the built environment disciplines Postcolonial Pacific Writing Michelle Keown, 2004-12-17 This major new interdisciplinary study focuses on the representation of the body in the work of eight of Polynesia's most significant contemporary writers Drawing on anthropology psychoanalysis philosophy history and medicine Postcolonial Pacific Writing develops an innovative postcolonial framework specific to the literatures and cultures of this region Critical Qualitative Research in Second Language Studies Kathryn A. A Decade of Disaster Experiences in Ōtautahi Christchurch Shinya Uekusa, Steve Matthewman, Bruce C.

Glavovic, 2022-02-13 This book critically surveys a decade of disasters in Ōtautahi Christchurch. It brings together a diverse range of authors, disciplinary approaches, and topics to reckon with the events that commenced with the 2010/2011 Canterbury earthquake sequence. Each contribution tackles its subject matter through the frame of Critical Disaster Studies (CDS). The events and the subsequent recovery provide a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to learn from a series of concatenating urban disasters in order to prepare us for our future on an urban planet facing unprecedented environmental pressures. The book focuses on the production of vulnerability, the human dimensions of disaster, the Indigenous response to disasters, and the practical lessons that can be drawn from them.

Transpacific Americas Eveline Dürr, Philipp Schorch, 2015-12-07 This volume explores cultural, social, and economic connections between the Americas and the South Pacific. It reaches beyond Sino-American collaborations to focus on rather neglected and sometimes invisible Southern linkages, asking how these connections originated and have developed over time, which local responses they have generated, and what impact these processes have in the region in terms of representational forms and strategies, new cultural practices, and empowerment of individuals in post-colonial contexts. The volume also compares and contrasts intriguing parallels of politics and identity formation. By extending the focus beyond East Asia to the Southern Pacific region, including Island connections with the Americas, the volume provides a more comprehensive understanding of recent dynamics and shifting relations across the Pacific. By approaching the Transpacific Americas as an assemblage or relational space which is created and becomes meaningful through multiple localities and their translocal connections, the book complicates the Euro-American distinction between centre and rim. While the collection offers a distinctive geographical focus, it simultaneously emphasizes the translocal qualities of specific locations through their entanglements in transpacific assemblages within and across cultural, social, and economic spheres. Furthermore, without neglecting the inextricable historical dimension of anthropological perspectives, the focus is on the diverse and unexpected contemporary forms of cultural, social, and economic encounters and engagements, and on re-emerging Indigenous networks. Primarily based on empirical research, the volume explores face-to-face encounters, relations from below, and transcultural interactions and relationships, as well as ideas and conceptualizations of cultural spaces across localities that have long been perceived as separate but are indeed closely interconnected.

Maori Oral Tradition Jane McRae, 2017-03-20 Maori oral tradition is the rich poetic record of the past handed down by voice over generations through whakapapa, whakatauki, korero, and waiata. In genealogies and sayings, histories, stories, and songs, Maori tell of te ao tawhito or the old world, the gods, the migration of the Polynesian ancestors from Hawaiki, and life here in Aotearoa. A voice from the past, today this remarkable record underpins the speeches, songs, and prayers performed on marae and the teaching of tribal genealogies and histories. Indeed, the oral tradition underpins Maori culture itself. This book introduces readers to the distinctive oral style and language of the traditional compositions acknowledges the skills of the composers of old and explores the meaning of their striking imagery and figurative language And it shows how nga korero tuku iho the inherited words can be a deep well of knowledge about the way of life wisdom and thinking of the Maori ancestors
