Miles to Go David Lygre, 2014-04-04 What is it like to be running on a snowy remote jeep trail in December getting caught in a whiteout and spending eighteen hours shivering in a snow hole Is it a good idea to promise a friend you ll buy a mountain bike and ride with him 2500 miles along the Continental Divide or help another friend who has Parkinson s disease race 100 miles on mountain trails If you like armchair adventures come along and experience running across the Grand Canyon and back at high altitude in Colorado after recovering from cancer 500 miles across Washington state and the largest ultramarathon in the world in South Africa Spend vicarious time bicycling in Alaska pedaling with 10 000 other people across Iowa and racing against The Trailer Trash Girls The author s journey from age 35 to age 71 lessons learned and perspective on what it means are vividly described in Miles to Go A Lifetime of Running and Bicycling Adventures

A Lifetime of Diving Adventures George Bell, 2015-12-11 His stories include Being chased by a killer whale or being attacked by a huge octopus Finding large amounts of gold and silver on sunken wrecks Locating huge hauls of copper worth millions and tankers full of crude oil Diving with Great White Sharks Battling extreme weather conditions including Tsunamis Fishing for strange and valuable creatures and breaking records while doing it Frightening near misses and exciting rescues Historic shipwrecks Having done all these things George Bell lives to tell the tale and vividly recounts his life underwater in over 100 short stories The old man of the sea indeed it is a title I bear with some pride after sixty years diving and fishing Some people count their fingers I count my lives With a life spent much of it on or under the ocean waters which lap the exotic coastlines of South Africa one has to rely on a certain degree of luck You can call me the sea gambler if you wish It wouldn t be too far off the mark Those far southern climes are notorious for their massive ocean swells After all South Africa s coastline is shadowed by the world s mightiest oceans The Indian Ocean all the way to Australia and the Atlantic all the way to the Americas can both be tempestuous and fickle too It is also home to many millions of sea life species that don t always see eye to eye with intruders from the one seventh of the earth they re unfamiliar with To these creatures man s habitat is indeed an island and a small and insignificant one at that Living and working on the surface and just under the skin of these great earthly creatures we call the Indian and Atlantic Oceans one faces dangers and a colourful kaleidoscope of events on a daily basis The nemesis of many a horror story the killer sharks are just another part of that great ocean s tapestry It was quite a life gauntlet for me to run but I survived the blows largely unscathed In fact I survived to tell the tale indeed with many tales to tell The credit for my initiative in setting them down must include my grandchildren with their constant appeals to Papa tell us a story The difficulty was how to set it out and not to repeat myself I didn t like them saying O we ve heard that one Should it be a biography a fictional novel based on a true story Might it not be far better for reader and writer alike to skip the boring mess room bits and sticking to the point in telling a 101 tales Let that be the only exaggeration but you will get my drift You will also be assured that in the telling you will not only read of my experiences you will share them with me I want you to feel the whip of the wind the aroma of the seas and fill your lungs with the smells of the upper and lower decks So welcome aboard shipmates enjoy a life that only the few are privileged to experience I would like to thank my daughter Carolyn who started transcribing the first stories from my very rough notes Later when I had moved to Spain my good friend Sarah Crosby was able to complete the difficult task

Starting just east of la Ciotat, the great sweep of Mediterranean coast all the way to the Italian border is referred to as the Cote d'Azur or the Riviera. It is a large area with dozens of beaches, and despite the coast's reputation for toney glamor alternating with brash vulgarity, it's a great location for watersports, boating, parascending, climbing, hiking, and gliding. The Western Cote d'Azur is a deeply indented coast characterized by many small towns, miles of sandy beaches, and three great mountainous headlands called massifs: The Massif des Maures, Massif de l'Esterel, and Massif de Tanneron. They foreshadow the march of the Alps to the sea. Farther east along the Riviera, they offer stunning long-distance views and provide miles of good walking. For years, French vacationers kept the region secret, staying in their holiday homes or with friends and family. As a result, the massifs remain largely undiscovered territory for foreign visitors who usually race around and between them on motorways heading for the coast. If you stop to enjoy this region, you'll find it has its own personality and surprises. Among the attractions here are St. Tropez and St. Raphael. Like a lot of people, I got my first glimpse of the Riviera watching classic movies on television: Cary Grant and Grace Kelly trading barbs on a balcony overlooking a yacht-filled harbor in To Catch a Thief; one of any number of James Bonds or Simon Templars stepping out of the Casino at Monte Carlo; Pink Panther movies; car chases on the Grande Corniche; David Niven in Casino Royale. They all created an indelible impression of a gorgeous, glamorous, and expensive jetsetters' paradise. The term jetsetter is a little dusty these days, but substitute Eurotrash, and the idea is the same: celebrities, minor

royals and fashionistas mingling with arms dealers deposed dictators media tycoons and shipping magnates while gossip columnists write about their lifestyles of apparently endless leisure This is not an entirely imaginary picture There s no denying that the Riviera is a playground for the rich and famous Behind the walls and towering hedges of Cap Ferrat and other such places most of what all the money in the world will buy can probably be found But don t be put off if you re traveling on a modest budget It is the glamor of the landscape and all the outdoor activities to which it lends itself that was probably what attracted the beautiful people in the first place And that is within reach of everyone Breathtaking drives along Les Corniches de la Riviera and coastal walks that range from gentle strolls to challenging climbs are laced between the distinctive towns and villages Antibes Nice Menton Beaulieu sur Mer Villefranche scattered almost artfully along the coast In the skies paragliders float down like flower petals from a handful of exceptional launch sites Starting around Antibes and heading east the back country rises and the Alps crowd down to the water Along the way the villages perched become ever more dramatic Eze at 427 m 1 400 feet tops a narrow dome of rock La Turbie at 500 m 1 640 feet is where the Emperor Augustus planted the Trophee des Alpes a 165 foot monument to the power of Rome that still lords over the coast and looks down on Monte Carlo the medieval village of Sainte Agnes just inland of Menton at 800 m 2 600 feet claiming to be the highest coastal village in Europe This is an excerpt equivalent to about 200 print pages from the 420 page Adventure Guide to Provence the Cote d Azur Both books are highly detailed exploring the culture the sights and activities the places to stay and the best restaurants Dozens of photographs are included plus 15 detailed maps
