Omar Farugue Shipon, 2020-02-01 Before I came to this foreign soil I took all my love and affection out of the heart and put all of these into archive of my dreams Relative in a Foreign Land Taken together this generous collection of stories offers English readers an unprecedented glimpse into the lives of Bangladeshi migrant workers oscillating Singapore and the mother country home seen through the lens of a twenty first century Bangladeshi Muslim male lens That lens deftly and shifts between Singapore and Bangladesh past and present as co workers hitherto little known recount their often heartbreakingly sad stories One gets the impression that the narrator for the main part is the same in each story a soft hearted administrative worker in the marine sector his dark skin on more than one occasion leading to him being mistaken for a Singaporean of Tamil descent not recognised by his own Bangladeshi countrymen The narrator is ultimately the catalyst or repository for the stories of the varied quotidian workers he encounters While not topographically explicit the stories catch for us up close something of the poetry of conversations between migrant workers often revealing complicated stories of a worker missing his father s funeral far away a mother s sorrow even when her migrant son for whatever reason tries to lie on speakerphone unfairnesses such as being sent home without warning after one infraction Singapore is the backdrop the city and focus of many delusory dreams of fortune loss and homesickness The stories are elliptically poetically recounted A profound tragic beauty flowers out of the migrant quotidian as the speaker encounters a variety of multicultural voices the sad thorny lives contended with that lie behind the hard work done by migrants Stories like Love of Farhan take us to and leave us in discombobulating unexpected places raising more questions than answers As with these story endings there is no easy solution to the dauntingly complicated problems revealed Striking in these stories is the deft economy and perhaps what is not said At times I was reminded of Mikhail Lermontov I was often struck by quotable arrestingly memorable lines religion really has an awesome power to make a stranger a relative and a relative a stranger he smiled like a robot It was nothing like a smile Everyone was bought with money everyone gave in to money and wealth Woman's love makes us happy but family s love gives us satisfaction I was sweating like a cold water bottle the smile was dominated by the helpless tone of his face In a kind of epiphany Bangladeshi migrant workers arriving in Singapore recognise how Bangladeshi brides must feel homesick wives feel insecure Through these stories we in Singapore might begin to constructively appreciate not only the sacrifices of the men who come to work here but also their wives and family left without husbands and fathers for long periods at home So there is a message in these stories but also an evocative beauty in which we encounter a world of Jacobin cuckoos beparis adams betel nuts whether Bengali or Burmese and traditional leaf cigarettes Here are also bittersweet poignant moments of migrant life such as hearing the first cry of your first born son back in a Bangladesh hospital over a handphone 45 or the joy at finding at last a rare Bangladeshi provision shop only to find shortly after the kind owner is ill has passed away Is it wise to be pennywise for years in Singapore as one story suggests or send all your money home for family We expatriates are like cows with milk as one worker reflects but what happens when the milk runs out Workers are often pressured into coming by family community even back home are those sacrifices properly appreciated remembered The book s moral seems to be for us to show empathise demonstrate sympathy for all in this world in a world of pain Figures of ridicule turn out to be objects of sympathy It seems almost everyone is nursing a to be told sad story Every man has a river inside Migrant workers it seems are surviving on happy memories of home and family in Sabri a dead young Singaporean co worker lives through the fond memories and prayers of his co workers from many parts of the world In Room Leader dormitory life is evoked a key telling part of migrant experience This story is also a call to perhaps to listen to the wisdom of the young me in this rapidly evolving world Workers cry over a discarded cigarette a ruined fish dish but really they are crying over something else Only good humour understanding and empathy bring some consolation for real Again and again narrators co workers fail to fathom the depth of others trials But maybe we could all try a little better By reading these stories you enter tragic comic lives you perhaps never realised before and yet perhaps uncannily similar in some ways to your own His Story of His Father's Son Robert Curtis,2023-01-10 My book is a narrative about me my struggles and how I ultimately was able to deal with them by the grace of God Sometime I won some of the times it seems that the devil won and some of the time I was left holding the bag But I now give God the glory for all those time regardless Some people take their life story with them to the cemetery Thank God for giving me the faith to share mine The Bridegroom's Secret Melissa James, 2008-09-01 With a glittering wedding to plan Julie Montgomery is the happiest girl in town Their engagement party is the talk of Boston but then Julie discovers everyone seems to know more about her groom to be than she does Matt McLachlan wants to protect his beautiful fianc e from the complications in his life he only wants good things for her But Matt has to learn that marriage is about sharing everything for better and for worse Before he says I do he has to tell Julie a secret Sweetheart Lost and Found Shirley Jump, 2008-04-01 As the Wedding Belles florist Callie is surrounded by blushing brides If only she still believed in love Callie made a mistake many years ago She let a good man go and now keeps her heart safe But what s she going to do now that the good man is back Jared Townsend knows he should have fought harder for Callie in the past Now he s determined to bring her out of her shell and find the beautiful vivacious woman he once knew Can he show her how to laugh again feel again even love again Winning the Single Mom's Heart Linda Goodnight, 2008-07-01 Single mom Natalie juggles creating fantastic cakes for the Wedding Belles with raising her troublesome twins But her hard won independence means she won t be decorating her own cake anytime soon Cooper Sullivan is a winner He s competitive and at the top of his career A new job leads him back to Natalie s door Seeing her again after so many years makes Cooper realize that the only thing he never won and the only thing that really matters is Natalie's heart The Last American Painter Steven Johnson Leyba, 2009
