

Character Traits

can be inferred by analyzing...

Feelings

When Seth saw the pile of junk, a feeling of excitement bubbled up inside him. He couldn't wait to begin building the object he was imagining.

We can infer that Seth is creative.

Actions

Brandon glanced at his math assignment and sighed. It would take too long to do these five story problems. He quickly scribbled some random numbers on the lines and slammed his book shut. Done.

We can infer that Brandon is lazy.

Dialogue

"This is how we're going to split the work," Daniela said sternly. "I'll work on the poster while you two work on what we're going to say for the presentation."

We can infer that Daniela is bossy.

Thoughts

Kelly wondered what would happen if she told her dad that her mom said the sleepover was okay, and if she told her dad that her mom had already approved the sleepover. Kelly grinned. I think it will work!

We can infer that Kelly is devious.

practices this book will help teachers improve the academic writing of English learners. It provides specific teaching strategies, activities, and extended lessons to develop EL students' narrative, informational, and argumentative writing emphasized in the Common Core State Standards. It also explores the challenges each of these genres pose for ELs and suggests ways to scaffold instruction to help students become confident and competent academic writers. Showcasing the work of exemplary school teachers who have devoted time and expertise to creating rich learning environments for the secondary classroom, Helping English Learners to Write includes artifacts and written work produced by students with varying levels of language proficiency as models of what students can accomplish. Each chapter begins with a brief overview and ends with a short summary of the key points. These authors are at the very forefront of scientifically testing and validating instructional practices for improving the writing and reading of adolescents who are English learners. Why is their research so good? It is informed by years of experience in the classroom and working with hundreds of teachers across California. What a powerful combination! My advice: ingest, consider, and employ the strategies described here. Your students will become better writers if you do. From the Foreword by Steve Graham, Warner Professor of Educational Leadership, Innovation, Arizona State University. This book is a tour de force. It's up to the minute in offering what teachers and administrators need and what parents want. With examples of classrooms in action, it incorporates what research tells us about effective teaching and learning and what the Common Core Standards and related policy are demanding into successful and engaging activities that the authors' extensive research shows works. Helping English Learners to Write is a must-read. You will dog-ear many pages for future use. Judith A. Langer, Vincent O. Leary, Distinguished Research Professor, Director, Center on English Learning Achievement, University at Albany.
