Plan S for Shock Robert-Jan Smits, Rachael Pells, 2022-01-27 Plan S for shock the open access initiative that changed the face of global research This is the story of open access publishing why it matters now and for the future In a world where information has never been so accessible and answers are available at the touch of a fingertip we are hungrier for the facts than ever before something the Covid 19 crisis has brought to light And yet paywalls put in place by multi billion dollar publishing houses are still preventing millions from accessing quality scientific knowledge and public trust in science is under threat On 4 September 2018 a bold new initiative known as Plan S was unveiled kickstarting a world wide shift in attitudes towards open access research For the first time funding agencies across continents joined forces to impose new rules on the publication of research with the aim of one day making all research free and available to all What followed was a debate of global proportions as stakeholders asked Who has the right to access publicly funded research Will it ever be possible to enforce change on a multi billion dollar market dominated by five major players Here the scheme s founder Robert Jan Smits makes a compelling case for Open Access and reveals for the first time how he set about turning his controversial plan into reality as well as some of the challenges faced along the way In telling his story Smits argues that the Covid 19 crisis has exposed the traditional academic publishing system as unsustainable
