Experiencing Fictional Worlds Benedict Neurohr, Lizzie Stewart-Shaw, 2019-02-15 Experiencing Fictional Worlds is not only the title of this book but a challenge to reveal exactly what makes the experience of literature. This volume presents contributions drawing upon a range of theories and frameworks based on the text as world metaphor. This text world approach is fruitfully applied to a wide variety of text types from poetry to genre specific prose to children's story books. This book investigates how fictional worlds are built and updated how context affects the conceptualisation of text worlds and how emotions are elicited in these processes. The diverse analyses of this volume apply and develop approaches such as Text World Theory, reader response studies and pedagogical stylistics among other broader cognitive and linguistic frameworks. Experiencing Fictional Worlds aligns with other cutting edge research on language conceptualisation in fields including cognitive linguistics, stylistics, narratology and literary criticism. This volume will be relevant to anyone with interests in language and literature.

Variation and Change in Postcolonial Contexts Rita Calabrese, J. K. Chambers, Gerhard Leitner, 2015-10-13 This volume addresses recent issues concerning language change and standardization in postcolonial settings. The book brings together experts from North America, Africa, Asia and the insular areas of Australia and Trinidad and Tobago and discusses aspects of language variation in the emergence of new varieties. The approaches range from linguistic diagnostics and related methodologies to the most accredited interpretative theories on the evolution of New Englishes. The book includes a section on emerging varieties of English in new media and special focus has been given to those new varieties of Philippine and Nigerian English spoken in a non-canonical post-colonial context represented by the city of Turin, Italy. The result is a collection of studies that illuminate issues of language variability from different perspectives in order to contribute to the lengthy debate on language contact, diversification, speciation and standardization.
