Minding the Achievement Gap One Classroom at a Time Jane E. Pollock, Sharon M. Ford, Margaret M. Black, 2012-05-11 The achievement gap is a persistent and perplexing challenge for educators While school and system level reforms continue to be discussed in statehouses and district offices individual teachers are challenged to do something now to help students who are falling short of standards including students who are English language learners and receiving special education services A companion to the ASCD best seller Improving Student Learning One Teacher at a Time this book identifies small specific adjustments to planning teaching and assessment practices that will support more effective learning in every student every day and help close the achievement gap on a classroom by classroom basis Here you ll learn how to Use readily available tools curriculum documents a plan book and a grade book to improve all students access to interaction with and mastery of lesson content Design daily lessons that clarify learning goals and require students to use high yield learning strategies seek feedback and reflect on their progress Promote the progress of English language learners through coordinated pursuit of content and language goals and synchronize instruction to improve the performance of special education students in both co teaching and resource environments This book also features the voices of working educators who share how minding the gap has helped them engage academically at risk students ELLs and special education students improve students test scores and sustain these gains over time If you are a classroom teacher or specialist committed to helping all your students become more successful learners and unwilling to wait for high level solutions or even the results of another data retreat then this is just the resource you need

Improving Student Learning One Teacher at a Time Jane E. Pollock, Laura J. Tolone, 2020-12-16 In this second edition of Improving Student Learning One Teacher at a Time Jane E Pollock and Laura J Tolone combine updated research and real world stories to demonstrate how it takes only one teacher to make a difference in student performance Their approach expands the classic three part curriculum instruction assessment framework by adding one key ingredient feedback This Big Four approach offers an easy to follow process that helps teachers build better curriculum documents with Curriculum standards that are clear and well paced and describe what students will learn Instruction based in research from daily lessons to whole units of study Assessment that maximizes feedback and requires critical and creative thinking Feedback that tracks and reports individual student progress by standards Pollock and Tolone demonstrate how consistent timely feedback from multiple sources can help students monitor their own understanding and help teachers align assignments quizzes and tests more explicitly to the standards The Big Four shifts the focus away from the basics of what makes a good teacher toward what makes good learning happen for every student every day Learning in the Fast Lane: 8 Ways to Put ALL Students on the Road to Academic Success Suzy Pepper Rollins, 2014-04-10 A seasoned educator presents eight high impact instructional practices to close achievement gaps and get all students whether struggling or excelling in the academic fast lane

Becoming the Educator They Need Robert Jackson, 2019-08-14 Winner of AM P EXCEL Gold Award They don't care about their education They are not capable of learning I can't work with them I can't get through to them Just as you may have thought these things about your students they too may have similar thoughts about you She doesn't care about my education He is not capable of understanding me I can't work with her I can't get through to him While all students in your class building or school district need your support the Black and Latino male students the most underserved suspended and expelled students in education need you to understand them as you support them so that they can thrive academically In Becoming the Educator They Need former professional athlete turned educator Robert Jackson reminds teachers and administrators that although a great majority of all the stories in the news about Black and Latino males are negative these young men the most likely to be incarcerated drop out of school and become victims of homicide need you to work through any biases you may have and internalize and employ the five core beliefs and mindsets necessary to best serve your Black and Latino male students the six core values for teaching Black and Latino males and the 11 characteristics of strong healthy relationships and become the educator that these students need The i5 Approach Jane E. The Globalisation of School Choice? Martin

Forsey, Scott Davies, Geoffrey Walford, 2008-05-12 Which school should I choose for my child For many parents this question is one of the most important of their lives School choice is a slogan being voiced around the globe conjuring images of a marketplace with an abundance of educational options Those promoting educational choice also promise equality social advantage autonomy and self expression to families But what does this globalisation of school choice actually look like on the ground This collection brings together educationalists anthropologists and sociologists who use a rich array of empirical data to understand the complex realities of school choice across a range of political and social settings in Argentina Australia Canada China England India Israel Japan Singapore Tanzania and the United States Together they show that while the language of school choice has spread globally it has done so unevenly across and within nations and is always interpreted through local social and historical contexts Neo liberal policy initiatives are re shaping education systems in many nations but in complex and varied ways This collection shows that rather than eliminating equity concerns they re embed them within new frameworks of choice and accountability This is an important book for those interested in comparative education as well as the sociology and politics of schooling three issue subscription covering the current year or as an annual cumulation covering the past year Developing Transformative Spaces in Higher Education Sue Jackson, 2018-03-19 Higher education has been presented as a solution to a host of local and global problems despite the fact that learning and assessment can also be used as mechanisms for exclusion and social control Developing Transformative Spaces in Higher Education Learning to Transgress demonstrates that even when knowledge may appear to be the solution it can be partial and disempowering to all but the dominant groups The book shows the need to contest such knowledge claims and to learn to transgress rather than to conform It argues that transformative spaces need to be found and that these should be about the creation of new opportunities ways of knowing and ways of being Working in and through spaces of transgression the contributors to this volume develop frameworks for the possibilities of transformative spaces in learning and teaching in higher education The book critiques the ways in which Western higher education culture determines the academic agenda in relation to dialogue on social differences minority groups and hierarchical structures including issues of representation among different groups in the population It also explores the personal and political costs of transgression and outlines ways in which transitions can be transformative The book should be of interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students engaged in the study of higher education education studies teacher training social justice and transformation It should also be essential reading for practitioners working in post compulsory education American Masculinities in Contemporary Documentary Film Sara Mart n, 2023-05-24 Most documentaries deal with men but what do they actually say about masculinity In this groundbreaking volume Sara Mart n analyses more than forty 21st century documentaries to explore how they represent American men and masculinity From Jennifer Siebel Newsom s The Mask You Live In to Raoul Peck s I Am Not Your Negro this volume explores sixteen different faces of American masculinity the good man the activist the politician the whistleblower the criminal the sexual abuser the wrongly accused the dependent man the soldier the capitalist the adventurer the sportsman the architect the photographer the musician and the writer The collective portrait drawn by the documentaries discloses a firm critical stance against the contradictions inherent in patriarchy which makes American men promises of empowerment it cannot fulfill The filmmakers view of American masculinity emphasizes the vulnerability of disempowered men before the abuses of the patriarchal system run by hegemonic men and a loss of bearings about how to be a man after the impact of feminism accompanied nonetheless by a celebration of resilient masculinity and of the good American man Firmly positioning documentaries as an immensely flexible relevant tool to understand 21st century American men and masculinity their past present and future this book will interest students and scholars of film studies documentary film American cultural studies gender and masculinity Everyday Ethics and Social Change Anna Lisa Peterson, 2009 Americans increasingly cite moral values as a factor in how they vote but when we define morality simply in terms of a voter s position on gay marriage and abortion we lose sight of the ethical decisions that guide our everyday lives In our encounters with friends family members nature and nonhuman creatures we practice a nonutilitarian morality that makes sacrifice a rational and reasonable choice Recognizing these everyday ethics Anna L Peterson argues helps us move past the seemingly irreconcilable conflicts of culture and refocus on issues that affect real social change Peterson begins by divining a second language for personal and political values a vocabulary derived from the loving and mutually beneficial relationships of daily life Even if our interactions with others are fleeting and fragmentary they provide a viable alternative to the contractual and atomistic attitudes of mainstream culture Everyday ethics point toward a more just humane and sustainable society and to acknowledge moments of grace in our daily encounters is to realize a different way of relating to people and nonhuman nature an alternative ethic to cynicism and rank consumerism In redefining the parameters of morality Peterson enables us to make fundamental problems such as the distribution of wealth the use of public land and natural resources labor and employment policy and the character of political institutions the preferred focus of debate and action
