Online Kill And Tell:

Online Othering Karen Lumsden, Emily Harmer, 2019-04-23 This book explores the discrimination encountered and propagated by individuals in online environments. The editors develop the concept of online othering as a tool through which to analyse and make sense of the myriad toxic and harmful behaviours which are being created through or perpetuated via the use of communication technologies such as the internet, social media and the internet of things. The book problematises the dichotomy assumed between real and virtual spaces by exploring the construction of online abuse victims' experiences, resistance to online othering and the policing of interpersonal cyber crime. The relationship between various socio-political institutions and experiences of online hate speech are also explored. Online Othering explores the extent to which forms of information technologies facilitate, exacerbate and/or promote the enactment of traditional offline offences such as domestic abuse and stalking. It focuses on the construction and perpetration of online abuse through examples such as the far right, the alt right and Men's Rights Activists. It also explores experiences of and resistance to online abuse via examples such as victims' experiences of revenge porn, online abuse and misogyny, transphobia, disability hate crime and the ways in which online othering is intersectional. Finally, the collection addresses the role of the police and other agencies in terms of their interventions and the regulation and governance of virtual spaces. Contributions to the volume come from fields including sociology, communication and media studies, psychology, criminology, political studies, information science and gender studies. Online Othering is one of the very first collections to explore a multitude of abuses and their relationship to information and communication technology.

Internet Dating Chris Beasley, Mary Holmes, 2021-05-16 Internet Dating deals primarily with the experiences of UK and Australian daters examining their online accounts to see what kinds of narratives, norms, emotions and chemistry shape their dating. Has the emergence and growth of internet dating changed the dating landscape for the better? Most commentators, popular and academic, ask whether online dating is more efficient for individuals than offline dating. We prefer a socio-political perspective. In particular, the book illustrates the extent to which internet dating can advance gender and sexual equality. Drawing on the voices of internet daters themselves, we show that internet dating reveals how social change often arises in the unassuming, everyday and familiar. We also pay attention to often ignored older daters and include consideration of daters in Africa, Scandinavia, South America, Asia and the Middle East. Throughout, we explore the pitfalls and pleasures of men and women daters navigating unconventional directions towards more equitable social relations.

Tell Everyone Alfred Hermida, 2014-10-14 Social media is fuelling our human urge to share, affecting the information we depend on to make smart decisions, from choosing politicians to doing business to raising money for charity. Tell Everyone delves into contemporary culture to reveal how social media has become the planet's nervous system, amplifying the power of individuals informing our choices and shaping how we learn about our world. Writing with journalistic flair but with academic rigour, online news pioneer and social media maven Alfred Hermida lays bare why we feel compelled to share news, gossip, and information and always have Every day more than 500 million messages are sent on Twitter 800 million people share four billion stories links photographs and videos on Facebook Every minute 100 hours of video is uploaded to YouTube And the flow is ever increasing In this new era of media saturation what do we mean by the news Is the most trusted name in news today a veteran anchor on television or an undergraduate tweeting from Tahrir Square in Cairo Tell Everyone spells out how our ability to create and share news is shaping the information we receive and depend on to make informed decisions from choosing politicians to doing business Drawing on historical examples real world experiences and leading research Tell Everyone explains how the power of sharing is transforming how we understand and give meaning to world events
