Miners In The Clouds A Hundred Years Of Scheelite Mining At Glenorchy:

Miners in the Clouds Julia Bradshaw, Lakes District Museum (Arrowtown, N.Z.), 1997-01 New Zealand's First World War Heritage Imelda Bargas, Tim Shoebridge, 2015-04-01 Rediscover New Zealand's hidden First World War history through the places where it happened No battles were fought here yet the First World War intruded into the daily life of every New Zealander who remained at home This ground breaking book provides vivid new insights into their experiences through exploring the places where they lived worked coped and mourned army camps fortifications soldier settler farms town halls wharves convalescent homes and hospitals cemeteries and war memorials dairy factories and woollen mills From Northland to Stewart Island our landscape is signposted with thousands of poignant memorials and behind the facades of old buildings beneath scrub and behind farm fences lies a less visible landscape of war and hundreds of hidden stories waiting to be told a soldier's name carved on a remote railway station a once bustling uniform factory in the heart of a city a long abandoned gun battery This unique book will be a revelation to all New Zealanders Extensively illustrated with new and period photographs and fascinating maps it contains original research and information that will open the eyes of every reader to places and stories in their community hidden in plain sight The impact of the First World War on New Zealanders was immense its legacy can be seen all around us today

The Lark Trilogy Neville Peat, 2014-10-03 Three terrific books in one from one of New Zealand's leading natural history and adventure writers A quirky character called The Lark is threaded through three of Neville Peat's most highly acclaimed books The Falcon and the Lark Coasting The Sea Lion and the Lark and High Country Lark Whether they are set in Strath Taieri in Otago along the Otago coastline or in the high country around the head of Lake Wakatipu these three books demonstrate Peat's wry humour keen observational skills and knowledge of and love for our wilder places and the creatures and people who inhabit them They are at once affecting ruminations and deft natural history writing With Peat the reader is in masterful hands

High Country Woman Iris Scott, 2012-04-13 A special book about a unique high country farmer and her historic sheep station New Zealand's high country farmers are a special breed They farm in tough terrain at high altitudes in areas where extreme climate puts both man and animal to the test When she was widowed with three children in 1992 Iris Scott had to call on all her farming skill and inner strength to carry on as the runholder of the 150 year old 18 000 hectare Rees Valley Station at the head of Lake Wakatipu near Glenorchy Not only that she had to run the station on her own and keep up her veterinary practice High Country Woman is the engaging story of Iris Scott's love of our high country and her determination to farm it successfully while upholding high conservation and land guardianship values The book also covers the fascinating history of the area long known to locals as The Head of the Lake the focus of William Rees' great sheep run established not long after he and Nicolas von Tunzelman became two of the earliest Europeans to travel into the area in an epic exploration feat in 1860

High Country Lark Neville Peat, 2013-12-16 An award winning writer travels through the New Zealand high country An unusual summons from an old itinerant acquaintance known as the Lark piques author Neville Peat's curiosity The invitation to meet in the mountains around Glenorchy is timely he's keen to head into the high country to investigate recent reports of sightings of the near extinct kokako The South Island high country has an allure all its own New Zealand's equivalent of the Wild West it's a rustic spectacularly beautiful frontier combining wild alpine beauty beech forest and mirror still lakes The Head of Lake Wakatipu has attracted Maori for the dazzling local pounamu its sublime beauty has seduced European tourists artists writers and farm holders since the nineteenth century Author Neville Peat sets off on a fascinating trail that takes him deep into the hills to explore local history legend and land politics He skilfully blends the characters and stories of the past those of Arawata Bill and Joseph Fenn among them with a powerful sense of place and concerns for the future In prose as fine as snow caps reflected in lake water Peat brings us an extraordinary region from the laconic humour of the locals to the last chance we might have to halt the demise of several threatened native species High Country Lark is the third in Peat's acclaimed Lark series Arawata Bill (4th edition) Ian Dougherty, 2019-09-12 This is the story of a pioneering folk hero It is a colourful tale of adventure discovery and survival in the remotest areas of New Zealand's Southern Alps William James O Leary was a man of humble origins His lifetime 1865-1947 spanned a period of New Zealand history when the country was searching for homegrown heroes in whose lives the young nation could discover clues to the question of its identity The decades O Leary spent in the unforgiving mountain country of North West Otago and South Westland prospecting for gold and other minerals and making new tracks in unexplored areas was bound to be regarded with envy and admiration by townsfolk The myth making process was assisted when the nickname Arawata Bill stuck but it is the man's astonishing feats of endurance tenacity and charming eccentricity which capture the imagination Add in the mystery of a lost ruby mine a seaboot full of gold sovereigns and the aura of secrecy surrounding the quest for precious metal and you have the stuff of which legends are made Generations of New Zealand schoolchildren are familiar with Denis Glover's poem Arawata Bill yet the subject of that work was only loosely based on William O Leary The man himself in his solitary and self effacing way was both smaller and greater than the legend He emerged as one of those archetypal New Zealanders who helped to define a distinctive nationality In this fully revised and updated biography Ian Dougherty has separated the man from the myth with a warmly human portrait of an ordinary man who lived an extraordinary life Arawata Bill Ian Dougherty, 2000 Arawata Bill 1865-1947 was a pioneering folk hero He spent decades in the unforgiving mountain country of New Zealand's South Island prospecting for gold and other minerals and making new tracks in unexplored areas His astonishing feats of endurance and tenacity coupled with his charming eccentricity have captured the imagination of generations and Denis Glover immortalised him in his famous poem Arawata Bill Recently a Californian Country Rock act have added his story to their ballads This new edition of Ian Dougherty's landmark biography includes information about O Leary's life that has only recently come to light New Zealand Books in Print 2004 Thorpe-Bowker Staff, 2004-06 Directory containing updated bibliographic information on all in print New Zealand
