Antifeminism and Family Terrorism Rhonda Hammer, 2002 Rhonda Hammer's Antifeminism and Family Terrorism presents original and provocative critical feminist perspectives on violence against women and children Hammer provides a clear and insightful analysis of the current rhetoric produced by antifeminists who would deny the seriousness of the problem and thus undercut important feminist concerns Dr Hammer documents the tragic dimensions of the brutalization of women and children in the family and the larger problem of the increasing poverty and oppression of women and children in the global economy Hatreds Zillah Eisenstein, 2014-04-23 Eisenstein tracks developments such as racialized ethnic and gender conflict the new male democracies of eastern Europe the new Democrats of the Clinton era exploring the politics of hate In HATREDS Zillah Eisenstein charts the plural politics of the twenty first century which she defines as having begun with the fall of communism and the gulf war Exploring the politics of hate on both global and local levels Eisenstein tracks developments such as racialized ethnic and gender conflict the new male democracies of eastern Europe and the new Democrats of the Clinton era the sexual exploitation of the west and the sexual violence of nationalisms and the importance of western feminisms promissory standpoint of freedom to women in the third world Speaking of Sex Deborah L. Rhode, 1999 Speaking of Sex explores a topic that frequently is absent from our discussions about sex the persistence of sex based inequality and the cultural forces that sustain it On critical issues affecting women most Americans deny either that gender inequality is a serious problem or that it is one which they have a personal or political responsibility to address In tracing this no problem problem Speaking of Sex examines the most fundamental causes of women's disadvantages and the inadequacy of current public policy to combat them Sisterhood, Interrupted D. Siegel, 2007-08-24 Contrary to clichés about the end of feminism Deborah Siegel argues that younger women are not abandoning the movement but reinventing it After forty years is feminism today a culture or a cause A movement for personal empowerment or broad scale social change Have women achieved equality or do we still have a long way to go Inventing Herself Elaine Showalter, 2001-03-20 Sure to take its place alongside the literary landmarks of modern feminism Elaine Showalter's brilliant provocative work chronicles the roles of feminist intellectuals from the eighteenth century to the present With sources as diverse as A Vindication of the Rights of Woman and Scream 2 Inventing Herself is an expansive and timely exploration of women who possess a boundless determination to alter the world by boldly experiencing love achievement and fame on a grand scale

These women tried to work travel think love and even die in ways that were ahead of their time In doing so they forged an epic history that each generation of adventurous women has rediscovered Focusing on paradigmatic figures ranging from Mary Wollstonecraft and Margaret Fuller to Germaine Greer and Susan Sontag preeminent scholar Elaine Showalter uncovers common themes and patterns of these women s lives across the centuries and discovers the feminist intellectual tradition they embodied The author brilliantly illuminates the contributions of Eleanor Marx Zora Neale Hurston Simone de Beauvoir Margaret Mead and many more Showalter a highly regarded critic known for her provocative and strongly held opinions has here established a compelling new Who s Who of women s thought Certain to spark controversy the omission of such feminist perennials as Susan B Anthony Eleanor Roosevelt and Virginia Woolf will surprise and shock the conventional wisdom This is not a history of perfect women but rather of real women whose mistakes and even tragedies are instructive and inspiring for women today who are still trying to invent themselves

Feminist Views on the English Stage Elaine Aston, 2003-11-24 Feminist Views on the English Stage first published in 2003 is an exciting and insightful study on drama from a feminist perspective one that challenges an idea of the 1990s as a post feminist decade and pays attention to women s playwriting marginalized by a renaissance of angry young men Working through a generational mix of writers from Sarah Kane the iconoclastic bad girl of the stage to the canonical Caryl Churchill Elaine Aston charts the significant political and aesthetic changes in women s playwriting at the century s end Aston also explores writing for the 1990s in theatre by Sarah Daniels Bryony Lavery Phyllis Nagy Winsome Pinnock Rebecca Prichard Judy Upton and Timberlake Wertenbaker

Vigilant Memory R. Clifton Spargo, 2006-09-01 Vigilant Memory focuses on the particular role of Emmanuel Levinas s thought in reasserting the ethical parameters for poststructuralist criticism in the aftermath of the Holocaust More than simply situating Levinas s ethics within the larger context of his philosophy R Clifton Spargo offers a new explanation of its significance in relation to history In critical readings of the limits and also the heretofore untapped possibilities of Levinasian ethics Spargo explores the impact of the Holocaust on Levinas s various figures of injustice while examining the place of mourning the bad conscience the victim and the stranger neighbor as they appear in Levinas s work Ultimately Spargo ranges beyond Levinas s explicit philosophical or implicit political positions to calculate the necessary function of the memory of injustice in our cultural and political discourses on the characteristics of a just society In this original and magisterial study Spargo uses Levinas s work to approach our understanding of the suffering and death of others and in doing so reintroduces an essential ethical element to the reading of literature culture and everyday life

Women and Pride Luping Huang, 2018-09-30 Reinhold Niebuhr is largely regarded as the leading twentieth century theologian of sin However many feminist theologians criticize Niebuhr s view of pride as the primary sin arguing that it fits only with men s experience In this detailed study Dr Luping Huang engages with Niebuhr and his feminist critics to provide a response to the feminist critique of Niebuhr s theology of sin Dr Huang provides a thorough analysis and examination of both the Niebuhrian and feminist understandings of sin highlighting the strengths and limitations of both arguments While some aspects of the feminists opposition to Niebuhr s doctrine of sin are valid there are weaknesses and limitations within its own framework Through her research and interaction with women s testimonies Huang s argument bridges these two competing views of women and sin resulting in a more accurate understanding and application of the theology of sin particularly in reference to women

The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther,2024-11-26 How the classic mirror test served as a portal for scientists to explore questions of self awareness Since the late eighteenth century scientists have placed subjects humans infants animals and robots in front of mirrors in order to look for signs of self recognition Mirrors served as the possible means for answering the question What makes us human In The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther traces the history of the mirror self recognition test exploring how researchers from a range of disciplines psychoanalysis psychiatry developmental and animal psychology cybernetics anthropology and neuroscience came to read the peculiar behaviors elicited by mirrors Investigating the ways mirrors could lead to both identification and misidentification Guenther looks at how such experiments ultimately failed to determine human specificity The mirror test was thrust into the limelight when Charles Darwin challenged the idea that language sets humans apart Thereafter the mirror previously a recurrent if marginal scientific tool became dominant in attempts to demarcate humans from other animals But because researchers could not rely on language to determine what their nonspeaking subjects were experiencing they had to come up with significant innovations including notation strategies testing protocols and the linking of scientific theories across disciplines From the robotic tortoises of Grey Walter and the mark test of Beulah Amsterdam and Gordon Gallup to anorexia research and mirror neurons the mirror test offers a window into the emergence of such fields as biology psychology psychiatry animal studies cognitive science and neuroscience The Mirror and the Mind offers an intriguing history of experiments in self awareness and the advancements of the human sciences across more than a century

Not My Mother's Sister Astrid Henry,2004-09-07 No matter how wise a mother s advice is we listen to our peers At least that s writer Naomi Wolf s take on the differences between her generation of feminists the third wave and the feminists who came before her and developed in the late 60s and 70s the second wave In Not My Mother s Sister Astrid Henry agrees with Wolf that this has been the case with American feminism but says there are problems inherent in drawing generational lines Henry begins by examining texts written by women in the second wave and illustrates how that generation identified with yet also disassociated itself from its feminist foremothers Younger feminists now claim the movement as their own by distancing themselves from the past By focusing on feminism s debates about sexuality they are able to reject the so called victim feminism of Catherine MacKinnon and Andrea Dworkin Rejecting the orthodoxies of the second wave younger feminists celebrate a woman s right to pleasure Henry asserts however that by ignoring diverse older voices the new generation has oversimplified generational conflict and has underestimated the contributions of earlier feminists to women s rights They have focused on issues relating to personal identity at the expense of collective political action Just as writers like Wolf Katie Roiphe and Rene Denfeld celebrate a new feminist hetero sexuality posited in generational terms queer and lesbian feminists of the third wave similarly distance themselves from those who came before Henry shows how 1970s lesbian feminism is represented in ways that are remarkably similar to the puritanical portrait of feminism offered by straight third wavers She concludes by examining the central role played by feminists of color in the development of third wave feminism Indeed the term third wave itself was coined by Rebecca Walker daughter of Alice

Walker Not My Mother's Sister is an important contribution to the exchange of ideas among feminists of all ages and persuasions

Pursuing Johns Thomas C. Mackey, 2005 In Pursuing Johns Thomas C Mackey studies the New York Committee of Fourteen and its members attempts to influence vagrancy laws in early 20th century New York City as a way to criminalize men's patronizing of female prostitutes It sought out and prosecuted the city's immoral hotels unlicensed bars opium dens disorderly houses and prostitutes It did so because of the threats to individual character such places presented In the early 1920s led by Frederick Whitin the Committee thought that the time had arrived to prosecute the men who patronized prostitutes through what modern parlance calls a john's law After a notorious test case failed to convict a philandering millionaire for vagrancy the only statutory crime available to punish men who patronized prostitutes the Committee lobbied for a change in the state's criminal law In the process this representative of traditional 19th century purity reform allied with the National Women's Party the advanced feminists of the 1920s Their proposed Customer Amendment united the moral Right and the feminist Left in an effort to alter and use the state's criminal law to make men moral defend their character and improve New York City's overall morality Mackey's contribution to the literature is unique Instead of looking at how vice commissions targeted female prostitutes or the commerce supporting and surrounding them Mackey concentrates on how men were scrutinized Book jacket

Northern / Irish Feminist Judgments Máiréad Enright, Julie McCandless, Aoife

O'Donoghue, 2017-02-09 The Northern Irish Feminist Judgments Project inaugurates a fresh dialogue on gender legal judgment, judicial power and national identity in Ireland and Northern Ireland. Through a process of judicial re-imagining, the project takes account of the peculiarly Northern Irish concerns in shaping gender through judicial practice. This collection, following on from feminist judgments projects in Canada, England and Australia, takes the feminist judging methodology in challenging new directions. This book collects 26 rewritten judgments covering a range of substantive areas. As well as opinions from appellate courts, the book includes first instance decisions and a fictional review of a Tribunal of Inquiry. Each feminist judgment is accompanied by a commentary putting the case in its social context and explaining the original decision. The book also includes introductory chapters examining the project methodology, constructions of national identity, theoretical and conceptual issues pertaining to feminist judging and the legal context of both jurisdictions. The book shines a light on past and future possibilities and limitations for judgment on the island of Ireland. This book provides a rich and expansive addition to the feminist judgments catalogue. The judgments demonstrate powerfully how Northern Irish judges have contributed to the gendered politics of national identity and how the narrow subject positions they have created for women and others could have been so much wider and more open. Professor Rosemary Hunter, School of Law, Queen Mary University, London. The Northern Irish Feminist Judgments Project is inspirational reading for anyone interested in feminism or Irish studies. It is a model of how to conduct feminist enquiry. Its most innovative contribution to scholarship and politics is how the rewriting of landmark legal judgments from a feminist perspective allows us to imagine and therefore begin to construct a more egalitarian, a more just future. Associate Professor Katherine O'Donnell, School of Philosophy, University College Dublin. If you let it, this book will make you think. It made me think, it reminded me. I suppose that legal writing can be wonderful, rigorous, creative, deeply observant, provocative. Read it and see what it makes you think. Professor Thérèse Murphy, School of Law, Queen's University Belfast.
