Narrating European Society Toward A Sociology Of European Integration:

Narrating European Society Hans-Jörg Trenz, 2016-03-21 Trenz introduces a sociological perspective on European integration by looking at different accounts of Europeanization as society building. He observes how Europeanization unfolds in ongoing practices and discourses through which social relations among the Europeans are redefined and re-embedded. The chapters describe how the project of European integration has been powerfully launched in postwar Europe as a normative venture that comprises polity and society building, how this project became ingrained in every day life histories and experiences of the Europeans, how this project became contested and confronted resistances, and ultimately how it went through its most severe crisis. A sociology of European integration is thus outlined along four main themes or narratives: first, the elite processes of identity construction and the framework of norms and ideas that carries such a construction together with notions of European identity, EU citizenship, etc.; second, the socialization of European citizens, processes of banal Europeanism and social transnationalism through everyday cross border exchanges; third, the mobilization of resistance and Euroskepticism as a fundamental and collectively mobilized opposition to processes of Europeanization; and fourth, the political sociology of crisis linked not only to financial turmoil but also more fundamentally to a legitimation crisis that affects Europe and the democratic nation state.

Trade Unions in the Course of European Integration Martin Seeliger, 2019-01-17 From the perspective of trade unions, European integration makes it more necessary than ever before to establish common political positions. At the same time, increasing heterogeneity between the member states makes the crafting of such positions more and more difficult. Can, under these circumstances, a joint political line among European trade unions emerge? To answer this question, the book sheds light on transnational trade union cooperation in the three most important policy fields the debate around the Freedom of services the discussion over a European minimum wage and the efforts of international wage coordination Drawing on the results of extensive field research based on a qualitative study among trade unions from Hungary Poland Sweden and Germany as well as representatives from the European level this book points to a significant gap in European trade union politics between pretensions and reality The findings provide a solid theoretical framework suitable not only to explain current dynamics in the field of European trade unionism but also promising for further research on the topic With its focus on a contested political field Trade Unions in the Course of European Integration contributes to practical and theoretical debates within European trade unionism As an adequate understanding of European trade unionism in general and collective bargaining requires a twofold perspective on European integration and the role of trade unions in European labor relations two fields of scholarly interest are being addressed Moreover with its focus on European trade unionism as an internationalist project of labor politics the book will also appeal to those interested in the field of Global Labor Studies

The European Union in Search of Narratives François Foret, 2024-12-31 This book examines the legitimization of the European Union through the development and rapid rotation of narratives aiming to convey its identity and purpose Utilizing literature and data across a wide range of interdisciplinary areas rarely studied together the book argues that three narratives have been dominant over the last 20 years Europe of rights Europe of values and a European way of life It presents both theoretical and empirical research on the transformation of political domination collective identities and EU legitimization and analyses various crises linked to socio economic security identity and normative issues such as terrorism and radicalization pandemics and morality politics It finds that European narratives express lower ambitions on charismatic community building are constantly expanding to new domains and are increasingly framed as being in a situation of existential threat which may increase democratic tensions and give rise to a populist backlash This book will be of interest to students and scholars of European integration European Parliament legitimization studies political communication and to comparative politics and political sociology

Sociology of Europeanization Sebastian M. Büttner, Monika Eigmüller, Susann Worschech, 2022-02-02 The numerous and far reaching socio political transformations that have taken place on the European continent since the mid 20th century have stipulated the emergence of new approaches and research fields in the social sciences One of these is the development of a Sociology of Europeanization This textbook provides an overview of its major topics concepts and research approaches Each of the 14 chapters of this textbook introduces one particular topic of the Sociology of Europeanization ranging from major conceptual considerations to an exploration of the numerous spatial cultural economic political judicial and socio structural implications of Europeanization Hence this book is very suitable as a fundamental introductory reading and for teaching in European studies and related study programs It is also recommended to everyone who is interested in more recent European history and current sociological studies of transnationalization Events around the book Link to a De

Gruyter Online Event in which renowned scholars and experts discuss what is necessary for the teaching of European Studies today and what future directions European Studies should take in light of current challenges and crises The event was moderated by Sebastian B ttner and Susann Worschech two co editors of this textbook <https://youtu.be/Deh13FJ1ctE> During the annual colloquium of the European General Studies Programme of the College of Europe Bruges Sebastian B ttner discussed and presented his co edited book <https://youtu.be/GLheIHQOEv4> Towards a Segmented European Political Order Jozef Bátora, John Erik Fossum, 2019-11-08 This book makes a distinctive contribution to the crucial debate on the European Union EU s present and future development It systematically examines how the range of crises and challenges over the last decade have transformed the EU and relates those findings to the discussion of an increasingly differentiated EU It argues that the post crises EU shows clear signs of becoming a segmented political order with in built biases and constraints The book spells out the key features of such an order in ideational and structural terms and shows how it more concretely manifests itself in the EU s institutional and constitutional make up and in how member states constrain and condition EU action Different states impose different types of constraints as is underlined through paying explicit attention to the Visegrád countries This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU politics studies European integration and politics East European politics and foreign policy The Political Attitudes of Divided European Citizens Christian Lahusen, 2020-11-02 The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781003046653> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license This book unveils the significant impact of the European integration process on the political thinking of European citizens With close attention to the interrelation between social and political divisions it shows that an integrated Europe promotes consensus but also propagates growing dissent among its citizens with both objective inequalities and the subjective perception of these inequalities fuelling political dissent Based on original data sets developed from two EU funded projects across eight and nine European countries the volume demonstrates the important role played by the social structure of European social space in conditioning political attitudes and preferences It shows in particular that Europeans are highly sensitive to unequal living conditions between European countries thus affecting their political support of national politics and the European Union As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology and politics with interests in Europe and the European Union European integration and political sociology Framing TTIP in the European Public Spheres Alvaro Oleart, 2020-11-24 This book explores the debate and politicisation of the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership TTIP negotiations in the Spanish French and British public spheres It addresses the questions of how and to what extent the national media discourses about TTIP were Europeanised and how this type of Europeanisation contributes to the democratic legitimacy of the EU The author argues that the politicisation of TTIP should be seen as a symptom of the normal politics of a democratic polity as it enlarges the political arena by embedding European issues into national political debates Demands for Another Europe is Possible

empower rather than hinder the legitimacy of the EU

The SAGE Handbook of Political Sociology, 2v William Outhwaite, Stephen Turner, 2017-10-30 The SAGE Handbook of Political Sociology offers a comprehensive and contemporary look at this evolving field of study The focus is on political life itself and the chapters written by a highly respected and international team of authors cover the core themes which need to be understood in order to study political life from a sociological perspective or simply to understand the political world The two volumes are structured around five key areas PART 1 TRADITIONS AND PERSPECTIVES PART 2 CORE CONCEPTS PART 03 POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES AND MOVEMENTS PART 04 TOPICS PART 05 WORLD REGIONS This future oriented and cross disciplinary handbook is a landmark text for students and scholars interested in the social investigation of politics

Refugees' Europe Cristina Astier, Ander Errasti, 2021-05-20 Refugees Europe Towards an Inclusive Democracy addresses through the normative practical and political views of well known international experts the challenges that the so called refugee crisis has generated for democracy in Europe The management of the refugees crisis reflects the crisis of democracy in Europe The refugees phenomenon has had a huge impact on European integration from the local to the supranational scale making it a pressing matter for the future of democracy in Europe This book provides a myriad of critical evidence based expertise combining philosophical legal economic and political reflections on how to better understand and deal with the refugees case

Solidarity in the Media and Public Contention over Refugees in Europe Manlio Cinalli, Hans-Jörg Trenz, Verena Brändle, Olga Eisele, Christian Lahusen, 2021-04-13 This book examines the European refugee crisis offering an in depth comparative analysis of how public attitudes towards refugees and humanitarian dispositions are shaped by political news coverage An international team of authors address the role of the media in contesting solidarity towards refugees from a variety of disciplinary perspectives Focusing on the public sphere the book follows the assumption that solidarity is a social value political concept and legal principle that is discursively constructed in public contentions The analysis refers systematically and comparatively to eight European countries namely Denmark France Germany Greece Italy Poland Switzerland and the United Kingdom Treatment of data is also original in the way it deals with variations of public spheres by combining a news media claims making analysis with a social media reception analysis In particular the book highlights the prominent role of the mass media in shaping national and transnational solidarity while exploring the readiness of the mass media to extend thick conceptions of solidarity to non members It proposes a research design for the comparative analysis of online news reception and considers the innovative potential of this method in relation to established public opinion research The book is of particular interest for scholars who are interested in the fields of European solidarity migration and refugees contentious politics while providing an approach that talks to scholars of journalism and political communication studies as well as digital journalism and online news reception

Labour Euroscepticism: Italian and Irish Unions' Changing Preferences Towards the EU Darragh Golden, 2025-02-06 This book addresses the re emergence of labour Euroscepticism Comparing fifty years of Italian and Irish unions changing preferences towards the EU from 1950 to 2015 Labour Euroscepticism sheds light on why unions stances towards European integration changed over time Of critical contemporary importance is unions capacity to locally police increasingly transnational labour markets Hence the book points to labour politics in general and different industrial relations systems in particular as being critical to better understanding the growing Euroscepticism of unions and workers Darragh Golden posits that the likelihood of unions continuing support for European integration is contingent on their coping mechanisms in a transnational labour market This book shows that labour Euroscepticism has sociological rather than ethno culturalist roots By drawing on in depth empirical research the book thus goes beyond methodological nationalism and culturalist explanations both prevalent in current scholarship on European integration

The European Union and the Paradox of Enlargement Tatjana Sekulić, 2020-05-26 This book sheds light on the contradictions underlying the European Union enlargement process specifically to the Western Balkans challenging the common assumption that the integration of an extended European space might be possible without mutual transformation of the institutions and agencies involved Sekuli maps the institutional dimension of the accession process and analyses how the conditionality principle shapes and constrains the space for negotiation within the EU Combining ethnographic research with the discourse analysis of the European Commission s reports and documents from 2008 to 2019 concerning the Western Balkan countries the book also explores the perceptions and agency of the individuals involved in this process The European Union and the Paradox of Enlargement will be of interest to students and scholars of European integration the sociology of Europe and the EU and Eastern European and Western Balkan studies

Horizontal Europeanisation Martin Heidenreich, 2019-04-05 European integration has transformed the social life of European citizens Daily life and work no longer take place primarily in a local and national context but increasingly in a European and transnational frame a process of horizontal Europeanisation which while increasing the life chances of European citizens also brings about conflicts among them This book focuses on processes of Europeanisation in the academic bureaucratic professional and associational field as well as on the Europeanisation of solidarity networks and social inequalities Drawing on detailed empirical studies and attending to the reinforcement of centre periphery structures in Europe it analyses the dynamics of horizontal Europeanisation processes highlighting the crucial role of national practices and perceptions in a transnational context as well as the related conflicts between the winners and losers in this process As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology and political science with interests in European integration social change and social stratification Chapter 8 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Territorial and Social Inequalities in Europe Martin Heidenreich, 2022-10-28 This book examines social inequalities in Europe especially those caused by economic factors It starts with the paradox of European inequality where on the one hand even total income inequality in Europe is significantly lower than in most parts of the world but on the other Europe is also characterised by profound and durable inequalities within the continent It discusses inequalities caused by the exclusion of marginalised groups from the labour market with considerable and sometimes increasing differences between central and peripheral regions pronounced wealth and labour market inequalities and significant rates of persistent poverty deprivation educational poverty low wages and unemployment The book also discusses broader territorial inequalities which are the basis for divisions between Northern and Southern Europe East and West between qualified and unqualified employees younger and older people men and women and migrants and non migrants The book raises questions about the winners and losers of the social transformations linked to the introduction of the Euro the Eastern enlargement of the EU and the financial and Eurozone crises It is based on a comprehensive analysis of a European wide microdata set on income and living conditions EU SILC The empirical research material which is the first to deploy this data in a comprehensive manner consists of detailed empirical analyses of social divisions and Europeanisation processes in 30 European countries It analyses and explains the transformation of the previously dominant national spaces into a European social space This topical book is of interest to academics and students in the fields of sociology and comparative social sciences along with those studying European regional geography anthropology international relations and international politics

Euroscepticism, Democracy and the Media Manuela Caiani, Simona Guerra, 2017-02-22 This volume focuses on the relationship between the media and European democracy as important factors of EU legitimacy The contributors show how the media play a crucial role in making European governance accountable and how it can act as an intermediate link between citizens and their elected and unelected representatives The book focuses on widespread levels of Euroscepticism and the contemporary European crisis The authors present empirical studies which problematize the role of traditional media coverage on EU attitudes Comparisons are also drawn between traditional and new media in their influence on Euroscepticism Furthermore the authors analyse the impact of the internet and social media as new arenas in which Eurosceptic claims and positions can be made visible as well as being a medium used by political parties and populist movements which contest Europe and its politics and policies Euroscepticism Democracy and the Media will be of interest to students and scholars with an interest in European politics political parties interest groups social movements and political sociology

Expertisation and Democracy in Europe Magdalena Góra, Cathrine Holst, Marta Warat, 2017-11-27 Expertisation and Democracy in Europe provides a much needed account of the role and re organisation of expertise and expert knowledge in Europe and the European Union in a broad range of policy spheres contributing to the debate triggered by the recent crises It brings novel perspectives to debates on technocracy and our understanding of the relations between knowledge experts and democracy The book explores and assesses new and old linkages between knowledge expertise and democracy and expands and deepens the current debates by addressing questions such as What is the role of expertise in Europe How is knowledge of different kinds embedded in and decisive for democratic practice in contemporary democracies How are we to assess recent transformations of the expert citizens and government civil society relationships from the perspective of democracy and which paths are viable in the years to come Finally the book engages with and gives flesh to the notion of expertisation not only as a broad political and societal diagnosis but also as a multidimensional and deeply contested process that unfolds in concrete practices and institutional settings This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of European studies European and European Union politics democracy public policy international relations sociology gender studies and media studies

Citizens' Solidarity in Europe Christian Lahusen, 2020-03-28 Citizens Solidarity in Europe systematically dissects the manifestations of solidarity buried beneath the official policies and measures of public authority in Europe In this exciting and innovative book contributors offer comprehensive and original data and highlight the detrimental factors that tend to inhibit or annihilate solidarity and those that are beneficial for the nurturing of solidarity
