How to Reach and Teach All Children Through Balanced Literacy Sandra F. Rief, Julie A. Heimborge, 2007-08-17 How to Reach and Teach All Children Through Balanced Literacy offers you a handbook for teaching literacy to diverse students in grades 3-8. The balanced literacy method combines the best practices of phonics and other skill-based language instruction with the holistic literature-based approach in order to help you teach reading, writing, and speaking in a clear and approachable format. This dynamic resource offers an easily accessible research-based approach to balanced literacy that is grounded in the innovative ideas developed by authors Sandra F. Rief and Julie A. Heimborge. The book includes detailed descriptions of what a balanced literacy classroom looks like and shows how to create a program from the ground up or give your existing program a boost. The book can be used across content areas and is filled with reproducible worksheets, activities, and other handy classroom tools. Some topics covered include: Shared book experiences, Reading aloud, Oral language and vocabulary development, Guided reading for comprehension, Modeled writing, Reading and writing conferences, Book clubs, Content area reading and writing, Ongoing assessments, Enhancing literacy through technology. Exploring the Literature of Fact Barbara Moss, 2003-01-01 Filling a crucial need for K-6 teachers, this book provides practical strategies for using nonfiction trade books in language arts and content area instruction. Research-based, classroom-tested ideas are spelled out to help teachers select from among the many wonderful nonfiction trade books available. Incorporate nonfiction into the classroom. Work with students to develop comprehension strategies for informational texts. Elicit responses to nonfiction through drama, writing, and discussion. Use nonfiction to promote content area learning and research skills. Unique features of the book include teacher-created lesson plans, extensive lists of recommended books, including choices for reluctant readers, illustrative examples of student work, and suggestions for linking nonfiction reading to the use of the World Wide Web. Awesome Hands-on Activities for Teaching Literary Elements Susan Van Zile, 2001 Setting Pop-ups, Paper Chain Characters, Plot Mini Books, and more to help students learn by doing. Includes reproducible student direction sheets and rubrics. Teaching the Best Practice Way Harvey Daniels, Marilyn Bizar, 2005 Everyone talks about best practice teaching, but what does it actually look like in the classroom? How do working teachers translate complex curriculum standards into simple, workable classroom structures that embody exemplary instruction and still let kids find joy in learning? In Teaching the Best Practice Way, Harvey Daniels and Marilyn Bizar present seven basic teaching structures that make classrooms more active, experiential, collaborative, democratic, and cognitive while simultaneously meeting best practice standards across subject areas and throughout the grades. Each section begins with an essay outlining one key method, providing its historical background and research results, and then describing the structure's vital features. Next, several teachers representing different grade levels and school communities explain how they adopted the basic model, adapted it to their students' needs, and made it their own. Fully updating and expanding Methods that Matter Stenhouse 1998 Teaching the Best Practice Way adds the stories of twenty more celebrated teachers including James Beane Donna Ogle Franki Sibberson and others from around the country A brand new chapter focuses on reading as thinking detailing the ways teachers can nurture strategic readers readers who not only deeply understand the printed materials they encounter in school but who also bring these cognitive strategies to their reading of film art music and their experience of the world The book also shares new research studies that validate the principles and activities of best practice teaching along with lists of recommended materials that support each of the seven methods Unique in the field Teaching the Best Practice Way speaks to all teachers K 12 with stories examples and practical classroom materials for the teachers of all children This is the book for teachers schools and districts that believe the big ideas about teaching really do cross all grade levels and subject areas Education professors will also find this an ideal resource for use in methods courses Narrative Know-How Trevor A.
