Narratology Genevieve Liveley, 2019-03-28 This volume explores the extraordinary contribution that classical poetics has made to twentieth and twenty first century theories of narrative aiming not to argue that modern narratologies simply present old wine in new wineskins but rather to identify the diachronic affinities shared between ancient and modern stories about storytelling By recognizing that modern narratologists bring a particular expertise to bear upon ancient literary theory and by interrogating ancient and modern narratologies through the mutually imbricating dynamics of their reception it seeks to arrive at a better understanding of both Each chapter selects a key moment in the history of narratology on which to focus providing an overview of significant phases before offering detailed analyses of core theories and texts from the Russian formalists and Chicago school neo Aristotelians through the prestructuralists structuralists and poststructuralists up to the latest unnatural and antimimetic narratologists The reception history that thus unfolds offers some remarkable plot twists and yields valuable insights into the interpretation of some notoriously difficult ancient works Plato in the Republic is unmasked as an unreliable narrator and theorist while Aristotle s On Poets reveals a rare glimpse of the philosopher putting narrative theory into practice in the role of storyteller Horace s Ars Poetica and the works of ancient scholia by critics and commentators evince a rhetorically conceived poetics and sophisticated reader response based narratology which indicate a keen interest in audience affect and cognition anticipating the cognitive turn in narratology's most recent postclassical phase

Narratology in the Age of Cross-Disciplinary Narrative Research Sandra Heinen, Roy Sommer, 2009-09-04 Narrative Research once the domain of structuralist literary theory has over the last 15 years developed into an international and interdisciplinary field. It is now commonly agreed that storytelling functions as a fundamental cognitive tool for sense making and meaning production and that human beings structure and communicate lived experience through oral, written and visual stories. Entitled Narratology in the Age of Cross-Disciplinary Narrative Research, this volume collects fifteen essays which look at narrative and narrativity from various perspectives including literary studies and hermeneutics, cognitive theory and creativity research, metaphor studies, film theory and intermediality as well as memory studies, musicology, theology and psychology. The topics touch on a wide range of issues such as the current state of narratology and its potential for development, narrativity in visual and auditive art forms, the cultural functions of narrative and the role of narrative concepts across the disciplines. The volume introduces interested newcomers to the ongoing debate, reflecting the diversity of research questions and methodological approaches involved. It takes a critical yet cautiously optimistic stance with regard to the potential for interdisciplinary collaboration between narrative researchers and invites experienced readers from any discipline interested in narrative to join this important debate which promotes the exchange of ideas, concepts and methods between the humanities and the social sciences.

What is Narratology? Tom Kindt, Hans-Harald Müller, 2003 Review text
The series is a significant contribution to the flourishing scholarship in the area of narrative studies. As one would expect with de Gruyter, the volumes are handsome, the paper quality, typeface and layout pleasant and reader friendly. Even though with the first volume the editorial and production process seems to have included minor snags, the volume provides a noteworthy cross section of current work in narratology as well as a selection of questions worth pursuing. Sabine Gross in Monatshefte 1 2008

Narratology and Interpretation Jonas Grethlein, Antonios Rengakos, 2009-08-17 The categories of classical narratology have been successfully applied to ancient texts in the last two decades but in the meantime narratological theory has moved on. In accordance with these developments Narratology and Interpretation draws out the subtler possibilities of narratological analysis for the interpretation of ancient texts. The contributions explore the heuristic fruitfulness of various narratological categories and show that in combination with other approaches such as studies in deixis, performance studies and reader response theory, narratology can help to elucidate the content of narrative form. Besides exploring new theoretical avenues and offering exemplary readings of ancient epic, lyric, tragedy and historiography, the volume also investigates ancient predecessors of narratology.

Transmedial Narratology and Contemporary Media Culture Jan-Noël Thon, 2016-08 Narratives are everywhere and since a significant part of contemporary media culture is defined by narrative forms, media studies need a genuinely transmedial narratology. Against this background Transmedial Narratology and Contemporary

Media Culture focuses on the intersubjective construction of storyworlds as well as on prototypical forms of narratorial and subjective representation This book provides not only a method for the analysis of salient transmedial strategies of narrative representation in contemporary films comics and video games but also a theoretical frame within which medium specific approaches from literary and film narratology from comics studies and game studies and from various other strands of media and cultural studies may be applied to further our understanding of narratives across media Narratology Susana

Onega, Jose Angel Garcia Landa, 2014-09-19 This text provides an excellent introduction and overview of Narratology a rapidly growing field in the humanities Literary narratologists have provided many key concepts and analytical tools which are widely used in the interdisciplinary analysis of such narrative features as plot point of view speech presentation ideological perspective and interpretation The introduction explains the central concepts of narratology their historical development and draws together contemporary trends from many different disciplines into common focus It offers a compendium of the development of narratology from classical poetics to the present The essays are all prefaced by individual forewords helping the reader to place each individual selection in context Recent developments are assessed across disciplines highlighting the mutual influences of narratology and deconstruction psychoanalysis feminism film and media studies

Narratology beyond Literary Criticism Jan Christoph Meister, 2008-08-22 This anthology presents the results of the Second International Colloquium of the Narratology Research Group Hamburg University It engages in the exploration of approaches that broaden Narratology's realm The contributions illustrate the transcendence of traditional models common to Narratology They also reflect on the relevance of such a going beyond as seen in more general terms What interrelation can be observed between re definition of object domain and re definition of method What potential interfaces with other methods and disciplines does the proposed innovation offer Finally what are the repercussions of the proposed innovation in terms of Narratology's self definition The innovative volume facilitates the inter methodological debate between Narratology and other disciplines enabling the conceptualization of a Narratology beyond traditional Literary Criticism Narratology

Gerald Prince, 2012-02-13 No detailed description available for Narratology Towards a 'Natural' Narratology Monika Fludernik, 2002-11-01 In this ground breaking work of synthesis Monika Fludernik combines insights from literary theory and linguistics to provide a challenging new theory of narrative This book is both an historical survey and theoretical study with the author drawing on an enormous range of examples from the earliest oral study to contemporary experimental fiction She uses these examples to prove that recent literature far from heralding the final collapse of narrative represents the epitome of a centuries long developmental process Handbook of Narrative Analysis Luc Herman, Bart Vervaeck, 2019-12

Stories are everywhere from fiction across media to politics and personal identity Handbook of Narrative Analysis sorts out both traditional and recent narrative theories providing the necessary skills to interpret any story In addition to discussing classical theorists such as Gerard Genette Mieke Bal and Seymour Chatman Handbook of Narrative Analysis presents precursors such as E M Forster related theorists Franz Stanzel Dorrit Cohn and a large variety of postclassical critics Among the latter particular attention is paid to rhetorical cognitive and cultural approaches intermediality storyworlds gender theory and natural and unnatural narratology Not content to consider theory as an end in itself Luc Herman and Bart Vervaeck use two short stories and a graphic narrative by contemporary authors as touchstones to illustrate each approach to narrative In doing so they illuminate the practical implications of theoretical preferences and the ideological leanings underlying them Marginal glosses guide the reader through discussions of theoretical issues and an extensive bibliography points readers to the most current publications in the field Written in an accessible style this handbook combines a comprehensive treatment of its subject with a user friendly format appropriate for specialists and nonspecialists alike Handbook of Narrative Analysis is the go to book for understanding and interpreting narrative This new edition revises and extends the first edition to describe and apply the last fifteen years of cutting edge scholarship in the field of narrative theory

Storyworlds Across Media Marie-Laure Ryan, Jan-Noël Thon, 2014-07-01 The proliferation of media and their ever increasing role in our daily life has produced a strong sense that understanding media everything from oral storytelling literary narrative newspapers and comics to radio film TV and video games is key to understanding the dynamics of culture and society Storyworlds across Media explores how media old and new give birth to various types of storyworlds and provide different ways of experiencing them inviting readers to join an ongoing theoretical conversation focused on the question how can narratology achieve media consciousness The first part of the volume critically assesses the cross and transmedial validity of narratological concepts such as storyworld narrator representation of subjectivity and fictionality The second part deals with issues of multimodality and intermediality across media The third part explores the relation between media convergence and transmedial storyworlds examining emergent forms of storytelling based on multiple media platforms Taken together these essays build the foundation for a media conscious narratology that acknowledges both similarities and differences in the ways media narrate
