In the same way that infrastructures such as transportation electricity sewage and water supply are widely assumed to be integrators of urban spaces information infrastructures are assumed to be integrators of information spaces With the advent of Web 2.0 and new types of information infrastructures such as online social networks and smart mobile platforms a more in depth understanding of the various rights to access use develop and modify information infrastructure resources is necessary Perspectives and Implications for the Development of Information Infrastructures aims at addressing this need by offering a fresh new perspective on information infrastructure development It achieves this by drawing on and adapting theory that was initially developed to study natural resource commons arrangements such as inshore fisheries forests irrigation systems and pastures while placing great emphasis on the complex problems and social dilemmas that often arise in the negotiations

The National Programme for IT in the NHS Great Britain: National Audit Office,2006-06-16 The National Programme for Information Technology in the NHS the Programme is a ten year programme to use information technology IT to reform the way the NHS in England uses information and hence to improve services and the quality of patient care The core of the Programme will be the NHS Care Records Service but other elements include x rays accessible by computer electronic transmission of prescriptions and booking of first outpatient appointments The Programme was launched in 2002 and is now run by an agency NHS Connecting for Health This report examines the progress made in delivering the systems against the original plans and costs part 1 steps taken by the Department of Health the agency and the NHS to deliver the Programme part 2 how the IT systems have been procured part 3 how the NHS is preparing to use the systems part 4 The NAO estimates the gross cost of the Programme will be 12.4 billion to 2013/14 Although the pilot NHS Care Records Service will not be in place until late 2006 almost two years late and other milestones have been deferred the NAO reports substantial progress with the Programme Management systems are in place contracts were placed quickly and achieved large reductions in prices from bidders and contract terms include important safeguards to secure value for money Deployments of operational systems have begun and several additional tasks have been delivered that were outside the original brief Three key areas are identified which present significant challenges to the successful implementation of the Programme ensuring IT suppliers continue to deliver systems that meet the needs of the NHS to agreed timescales without further slippage ensuring NHS organizations play a full part in implementing the systems winning the support of NHS staff and the public in making the best use of the systems to improve services The NAO report makes a number of recommendations for future management of the Programme
